Diplomats See Little Hope For Geneva Success

By A. I. GOLDBERG

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 22 (AP)—Russia's insistence on old positions appeared here today to doom any disarmament agreement at the Geneva Big Four meeting.

Diplomats described the Soviet stand in the Disarmament Commission yesterday as showing clearly the Russians have not moved a step toward agreement with the West on inspection, control and actual disarmament moves after nearly a year of new talks.

One diplomat said the Soviet program set forth in proposals May 10 and repeated at the Big Four summit meeting last July insures a long, indefinite postponement of any step toward disarmament. Under these proposals, the powers would have to agree on a complete program, including atomic weapon prohibition, before even a first step could be accomplished.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and President Eisenhower's disarmament envoy, Harold E. Stassen, might be able to get the Russians to give at Geneva a more definite answer than they have given here so far on the Eisenhower "open sky" proposals. These would set the disarmament ball rolling by an exchange between Russia and the United States of aerial inspection of defense plants in each other's countries.

The United States has said the first effect would be to avert curprise attack by either of the two atomic giants. It sees the second effect as instilling confidence so that other countries could join in, then move on to agree what kind of controls everybody would accept for the final disarmament plan.

The Russian answers to these proposals have never been clear. Geneva may bring the answer to Eisenhower's latest suggestion that the Soviet plan for ground inspection teams could be included as a starter, although the West considers this feature inadequate by itself.

Jennings Paper 'Heartily' Backs Mayor Morrison

JENNINGS, La., Oct. 22 —(Special)—The Jennings (La.) Daily News "without a bit of hesitation" has "heartily" endorsed Mayor deLesseps Morrison of New Orleans for governor, according to an editorial appearing in the publication.

Morrison was labeled "the most outstanding man in the coming race", and the editor went on to say that in his belief "he will make perhaps the most constructive chief executive in our long history."

"What he has done for New Orleans, we are confident he will do for the whole state, and anyone who has seen the city, before he took office, and now, must agree a master hand was at the helm of the municipal administration," the editorial said.

The editorial stressed that "above all, graft and corruption in high places there have become things of the past under Morrison. . . ."

The paper accented the mayor's success in bringing "countless industries" to New Orleans, and also pointed out his close contact with South and Central America where he has made numerous goodwill trips.

"In other words," the editorial continued, "we believe as governor he will be able to enlarge the arena of his great administrative ability from one small segment of this state to the whole of it and we believe, just as firmly, that when his term as governor ends, we will see a greater, more prosperous Louisiana with industry teeming from one end of the state to the other, just as we have seen the fruit of his work in rebuilding New Orleans. . . ."

Praising his military career (Morrison is now a brigadier general in the Army reserves) the paper called him" a battle-tested soldier.

"We too, like his career," the editorial said, "he was not adverse to waiting on tables and doing odd jobs to get his education at LSU. He was bold enough to enter his legal career at New Orleans

West Monroyan Named President Of Pulp Unions

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 22 (AP) — Walter Brittingham of Savannah, Ga., resigned today as president-secretary of the Southern Assn. of Pulp and Paper Industry unions.

The executive committee elected executive vice president R. H. Chatham, West Monroe, La., to serve the remainder of Brittingham's term.

Brittingham said he resigned because of the press of other business. He is a fulltime representative of the AFL International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers.

Chatham said association offices will be moved from Savannah to West Monroe.

The association is composed of about 45,000 members of the International Brotherhood of Papermakers (AFL), International Brotherhood of Electric Workers (AFL), and the Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers in 11 southern states.

States represented in the organization include Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas.

Dulles Confers With President, Others In Italy

To Have Audience With Pope Pius XII At Residence Today

ROME, Oct. 22 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles, on a circuitous route to the Geneva Big Four parley, confered for an hour tonight with Italy's President Giovanni Gronchi and Foreign Minister Gaetano Martino.

Dulles told newsmen afterward he thought the meeting was "a very useful and important prelude to the further talks which I will be having in Paris."

The secretary will be received in private audience at noon tomorrow by Pope Pius XII at the pontiff's summer residence at Castel Gandolfo.

Accompanying him will be Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce, and probably members of the party who flew with him from Washington.

In tonight's conference with Gronchi, a leftwing Christian Democrat whose election was said to make some U.S. observers fear an Italian move to the left, Dulles broached the topic of Gronchi visiting America.

An aide to the Italian leader said Dulles "brought the President regards of President Eisenhower, who also expressed through Dulles his desire to meet President Gronchi in the United States."

"But because of President Eisenhower's illness it is impossible to determine the time or circumstances of any meeting now," the informant said.

The secretary is spending 19 hours in Italy. He will fly to Paris tomorrow for final pre-Geneva strategy sessions with NATO and British and French leaders.

Martino said Dulles had invited him to fly along to Paris.

The secretary of state packed a lot of talks into his first few hours in Italy. Martino was at the airport to greet him. So was Ambassador Luce, who bestowed a kiss on Mrs. Dulles as she walked down the ramp from the special U.S. Air Force plane.

Dulles will go from Rome to Paris to confer with Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan of Britain and Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay of France before proceeding to Geneva.

Immediate Boost In Aged Pensions Promised By Long

Earl Long, in a campaign speech yesterday in West Monroe, promised old age pensioners that if he is elected governor "the day I go in office I'll increase the old age pension at $65 a month if I have to sell the state capitol to pay it."

The pension pledge was one of four campaign commitments Long presented to the West Monroe audience.

The other three were:

Free hot lunches to all school children whose parents cannot afford to buy their own; no increased taxes, and promised to avoid additional bonded indebtedness if possible and if it becomes necessary to issue bonds pledged to first submit the issue for public approval.

Long attacked the present hot lunch program in schools of the state. "Today there's no such thing as a free hot lunch in our schools," the veteran campaigner said. "I intend to see that all of our needy school children get a free hot lunch and it won't cost 'em a nickel," he said.

On the tax issue, Long declared that "if we get half as much money out of the tidelands as the present administration got I'll reduce taxes."

On a whirlwind tour through north Louisiana, Long spoke at Bernice, Farmerville, Rayville, Epps and Lake Providence, in addition to West Monroe. He was accompanyed by his running mate, Lethar Frazar, candidate for Lieutenant governor and Ernest Clements, candidate for commissioner of wildlife and fisheries.

Next week the Long campaign will move into south Louisiana.

President Plans To Leave Hospital In About 2 Weeks

DENVER, Oct. 22 (AP)—Dr. Paul Dudley White said today that President Eisenhower is "convalescing well," the healing of his heart has speeded up, and he should be able to leave the hospital on schedule in the week of Nov. 5-12.

The Boston heart specialist, the top consultant on Eisenhower's case, told a news conference that he had "only good news" today.

He pronounced the President "on the road back to good health," but said, "We shall have to wait another two or three months to make sure of the completeness of his recovery."

Asked whether he could envision being able to tell the chief executive at the end of two or three months whether he could run for a second White House term if he wishes, White replied that all the doctors can tell him is "how fit the heart is."

He suggested that the decision would have to be Eisenhower's but that the wishes of his family also might be taken into consideration. It was learned that the doctors are figuring tentatively on letting Eisenhower check out of the hospital about midway of the week of Nov. 5-12, although a definite date has not been set.

White and a team of doctors gave the chief executive a complete medical checkup this morning at Fitzsimons Army Hospital. White presided at a news conference afterward at the Denver White House.

As the doctors see it, it still

Air Force Admits Mistake On Planes

Pentagon Release On Costly Missions Officially 'Clarified'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—UP—The Air Force admitted Saturday that a SNAFU on arrangements was the real reason it had to order two 66-passenger planes to Europe on a special $20,000 flight to pick up three U. S. senators.

It declared in a special "clarifying" statement that it knew all along that the lawmakers had to leave for the United States on certain dates and that arrangements for their transportation had to be made.

MADRID, Spain, Oct. 22 (AP)—Two U. S. senators tonight spurned a special four-engine DC6 plane sent to bring them home from Europe and announced they will travel by regular Air Force services.

The senators, John Stennis D—Miss. and John L. McClellan D—Ark., are leaving tomorrow with their wives on scheduled Air Force planes for Paris.

There, they said, they intend to catch a regular Military Air Transport Service transportation flying from Germany to the United States.

The Air Force issued the statement after the three Democratic senators—John L. McClellan (Ark.) John Stennis (Miss.) and Dennis Chavez (N. M.)—vigorously denied requesting the special flight of air transports.

The expensive flight stirred up a storm of controversy and the Air Force said it was all the result of a "misunderstanding." It obvious-

Preaus Demands Equality In State Law Enforcement

LAFAYETTE, La., Oct. 22 (AP)—Fred Preaus, taking his campaign for governor on what he termed a "shakedown cruise," said today he didn't think the governor should decide which laws should be enforced.

Preaus, a Farmerville automobile dealer, said if there are "bad laws" they should be repealed by the Legislature.

But when a governor starts deciding which should or should not be enforced he becomes a dictator, Preaus said.

"I think the governor should enforce all the laws," he said.

He didn't say which laws he considered bad or good.

Preaus, former chairman of the state highway board, said he thinks there is a "growing need for additional four-lane highways."

He said he also favored expanding programs for fresh water conservation, welfare for "forgotten widows," mental and penal insti-

State's Fund For Segregation Fight Facing Court Test

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 22 (AP)—The NAACP goes to state district court Monday, attacking Louisiana's segregation laws and a $100,000 state fund to help local school districts fight integration.

It will be the first hearing on an attempt to knock out the 1954 segregation laws. Louisiana adopted them soon after the historic Supreme Court ruling banning public school segregation.

The legislation was drawn up by a Joint Legislative Committee on Segregation, hastily named after the high court ruling and still functioning. They seek to bypass the Supreme Court decision.

Another suit, hacking away at school segregation in Orleans Parish (county) and the same segregation laws, is set for hearing Nov. 14 in federal district court at New Orleans.

The Supreme Court placed enforcement of its segregation decree in the hands of federal district courts.

The suit set for hearing Monday resulted from a $100,000 grant by the Board of Liquidation of State Debt. The money went to Attorney General Fred S. LeBlanc to hire top attorneys to help local school districts defend against suits seeking desegregation, similar to the New Orleans court action.

Eight Negroes, from four major Louisiana cities, challenged the grant.

The laws in question include a constitutional amendment approved last fall by a five to one margin at the polls. The amendment places maintenance of school segregation under the sovereign police powers of the state and "not because of race."

Mendes-France Raps Faure For Calling Election

PARIS, Oct. 22 —UP— Former Premier Pierre Mendes-France Saturday attacked Premier Edgar Faure's call for early new general elections in France as a "sleight-of-hand trick."

The attack brought into the open an eight-month behind the scenes feud between the two men that started when Faure succeeded Mendes-France as premier last February.

Mendes-France scoffed at Faure from his column in the new daily newspaper, "L'Express," only a day after the premier asked the national assembly to approve holding new elections in December, instead of next June.

"No tricks" was the headline on Mendes-France's column in the newspaper which was launched a week ago to beat the political drums for the dynamic former premier.

Although both Faure and Mendes-France belong to the Radical Socialist party, there was general belief here the premier wants a winter election to spike Mendes' developing campaign for a return to power.

Faure pleaded Friday that the present assembly should vote itself out of office so a new lower chamber can take "serious decisions" on the critical problems facing France.

The premier conferred with his cabinet ministers Saturday to prepare for a national assembly session Tuesday at which he will submit the early election plan to the deputies.

Family Of Four Critically Burned In Kenner Blast

KENNER, La., Oct. 22 —UP—A family of four were critically injured here Saturday when a tremendous gas explosion ripped their home apart.

The blast knocked down one wall of the home of Arthur J. LeBlanc and tossed him, his wife, Jenny, 22, and two children Joseph 2, and Bernice, 3 months, from their beds.

Jefferson parish authorities said all four had been taken to New Orleans Charity hospital with critical burns.

The family had moved into the house only yesterday. Deputy sheriff George Picone said the previous occupants had left no heaters and the LeBlancs had left the kitchen stove lighted to provide heat for their daughter.

"The kitchen stove must have ignited the escaping gas," Picone said. "It was terrible."

Geneva Delegates Backing Different Demands; Little Real Gain Expected

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

GENEVA, Oct. 22 (AP)—Russia and the Western powers will be negotiating at cross purposes when they meet in the Big Four foreign ministers conference here next week. The prospects are for a battle of wits and little real gain for peace.

Secretary of State Dulles, Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan of Britain and Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay of France are approaching the conference in a mood of public caution and private pessimism.

Russia's record during the past year, though glittering with promises of peace, suggests that Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov most wants is actually a truce in the cold war. He would thus ease internal and foreign pressures on the government of Premier Nikolai Bulganin while preserving an opportunity for Russia later on to try to take over all Germany and dominate Europe.

Dulles, Macmillan and Pinay are seeking a permanent peace, but only a peace which would secure all of Germany for the West and roll back Soviet power to the borders of Russia. They would like to use Russia's apparent need for a truce to kill off finally the momentum of Communist expansion.

The conflict between the two contradictory purposes will begin developing anew at a conference table in Geneva's Palace of Nations Thursday.

It is, in fact, the same conflict that controlled the course of the Big Four summit talks last July. At that time it was largely obscured by a gushing display of East-West good will, but the foreign ministers' negotiations will deal much more with harsh realities.

Dulles left Washington yesterday on a flight to Geneva by way of Rome and Paris. His Rome visit was undertaken to strengthen Paris he will confer with Macmillan and Pinay on development of common Western policies for the talks with Molotov.

A solid front of the United States, Britain and France is vital if their purpose of rolling back Soviet power is to have any chance of success. Molotov's greatest potential gain at this time would be to divide the Western allies on some major issue such as German unification or disarmament. He could then exploit the division to promote Russian aims in Germany.

From the Western side the prospect of ending Communist rule in East Germany is at the moment very dim. It may be brightened if the Western powers can discover enough pressures to force the Russians to consider letting the area go.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany, with this in mind, has urged President Eisenhower and other Western leaders not to let Russia have the benefits of a cold war truce without extracting the price of German unification.

President Plans To Leave Hospital In About 2 Weeks

DENVER, Oct. 22 (AP)—Dr. Paul Dudley White said today that President Eisenhower is "convalescing well," the healing of his heart has speeded up, and he should be able to leave the hospital on schedule in the week of Nov. 5-12.

The Boston heart specialist, the top consultant on Eisenhower's case, told a news conference that he had "only good news" today.

He pronounced the President "on the road back to good health," but said, "We shall have to wait another two or three months to make sure of the completeness of his recovery."

Asked whether he could envision being able to tell the chief executive at the end of two or three months whether he could run for a second White House term if he wishes, White replied that all the doctors can tell him is "how fit the heart is."

He suggested that the decision would have to be Eisenhower's but that the wishes of his family also might be taken into consideration. It was learned that the doctors are figuring tentatively on letting Eisenhower check out of the hospital about midway of the week of Nov. 5-12, although a definite date has not been set.

White and a team of doctors gave the chief executive a complete medical checkup this morning at Fitzsimons Army Hospital. White presided at a news conference afterward at the Denver White House.

As the doctors see it, it still

Confirm Solons Never Ordered Private Flights

Pentagon Release On Costly Missions Officially 'Clarified'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—UP—The Air Force admitted Saturday that a SNAFU on arrangements was the real reason it had to order two 66-passenger planes to Europe on a special $20,000 flight to pick up three U. S. senators.

It declared in a special "clarifying" statement that it knew all along that the lawmakers had to leave for the United States on certain dates and that arrangements for their transportation had to be made.

MADRID, Spain, Oct. 22 (AP)—Two U. S. senators tonight spurned a special four-engine DC6 plane sent to bring them home from Europe and announced they will travel by regular Air Force services.

The senators, John Stennis D—Miss. and John L. McClellan D—Ark., are leaving tomorrow with their wives on scheduled Air Force planes for Paris.

There, they said, they intend to catch a regular Military Air Transport Service transportation flying from Germany to the United States.

The Air Force issued the statement after the three Democratic senators—John L. McClellan (Ark.) John Stennis (Miss.) and Dennis Chavez (N. M.)—vigorously denied requesting the special flight of air transports.

The expensive flight stirred up a storm of controversy and the Air Force said it was all the result of a "misunderstanding." It obvious-

Preaus Demands Equality In State Law Enforcement

LAFAYETTE, La., Oct. 22 (AP)—Fred Preaus, taking his campaign for governor on what he termed a "shakedown cruise," said today he didn't think the governor should decide which laws should be enforced.

Preaus, a Farmerville automobile dealer, said if there are "bad laws" they should be repealed by the Legislature.

But when a governor starts deciding which should or should not be enforced he becomes a dictator, Preaus said.

"I think the governor should enforce all the laws," he said.

He didn't say which laws he considered bad or good.

Preaus, former chairman of the state highway board, said he thinks there is a "growing need for additional four-lane highways."

He said he also favored expanding programs for fresh water conservation, welfare for "forgotten widows," mental and penal insti-

State's Fund For Segregation Fight Facing Court Test

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 22(AP)—The NAACP goes to state district court Monday, attacking Louisiana's segregation laws and a $100,000 state fund to help local school districts fight integration.

It will be the first hearing on an attempt to knock out the 1954 segregation laws. Louisiana adopted them soon after the historic Supreme Court ruling banning public school segregation.

The legislation was drawn up by a Joint Legislative Committee on Segregation, hastily named after the high court ruling and still functioning. They seek to bypass the Supreme Court decision.

Another suit, hacking away at school segregation in Orleans Parish (county) and the same segregation laws, is set for hearing Nov. 14 in federal district court at New Orleans.

The Supreme Court placed enforcement of its segregation decree in the hands of federal district courts.

The suit set for hearing Monday resulted from a $100,000 grant by the Board of Liquidation of State Debt. The money went to Attorney General Fred S. LeBlanc to hire top attorneys to help local school districts defend against suits seeking desegregation, similar to the New Orleans court action.

Eight Negroes, from four major Louisiana cities, challenged the grant.

The laws in question include a constitutional amendment approved last fall by a five to one margin at the polls. The amendment places maintenance of school segregation under the sovereign police powers of the state and "not because of race."

Mendes-France Raps Faure For Calling Election

PARIS, Oct. 22 —UP— Former Premier Pierre Mendes-France Saturday attacked Premier Edgar Faure's call for early new general elections in France as a "sleight-of-hand trick."

The attack brought into the open an eight-month behind the scenes feud between the two men that started when Faure succeeded Mendes-France as premier last February.

Mendes-France scoffed at Faure from his column in the new daily newspaper, "L'Express," only a day after the premier asked the national assembly to approve holding new elections in December, instead of next June.

"No tricks" was the headline on Mendes-France's column in the newspaper which was launched a week ago to beat the political drums for the dynamic former premier.

Although both Faure and Mendes-France belong to the Radical Socialist party, there was general belief here the premier wants a winter election to spike Mendes' developing campaign for a return to power.

Faure pleaded Friday that the present assembly should vote itself out of office so a new lower chamber can take "serious decisions" on the critical problems facing France.

The premier conferred with his cabinet ministers Saturday to prepare for a national assembly session Tuesday at which he will submit the early election plan to the deputies.

Family Of Four Critically Burned In Kenner Blast

KENNER, La., Oct. 22 —UP—A family of four were critically injured here Saturday when a tremendous gas explosion ripped their home apart.

The blast knocked down one wall of the home of Arthur J. LeBlanc and tossed him, his wife, Jenny, 22, and two children Joseph 2, and Bernice, 3 months, from their beds.

Jefferson parish authorities said all four had been taken to New Orleans Charity hospital with critical burns.

The family had moved into the house only yesterday. Deputy sheriff George Picone said the previous occupants had left no heaters and the LeBlancs had left the kitchen stove lighted to provide heat for their daughter.

"The kitchen stove must have ignited the escaping gas," Picone said. "It was terrible."

Geneva Delegates Backing Different Demands; Little Real Gain Expected

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

GENEVA, Oct. 22 (AP)—Russia and the Western powers will be negotiating at cross purposes when they meet in the Big Four foreign ministers conference here next week. The prospects are for a battle of wits and little real gain for peace.

Secretary of State Dulles, Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan of Britain and Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay of France are approaching the conference in a mood of public caution and private pessimism.

Russia's record during the past year, though glittering with promises of peace, suggests that Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov most wants is actually a truce in the cold war. He would thus ease internal and foreign pressures on the government of Premier Nikolai Bulganin while preserving an opportunity for Russia later on to try to take over all Germany and dominate Europe.

Dulles, Macmillan and Pinay are seeking a permanent peace, but only a peace which would secure all of Germany for the West and roll back Soviet power to the borders of Russia. They would like to use Russia's apparent need for a truce to kill off finally the momentum of Communist expansion.

The conflict between the two contradictory purposes will begin developing anew at a conference table in Geneva's Palace of Nations Thursday.

It is, in fact, the same conflict that controlled the course of the Big Four summit talks last July. At that time it was largely obscured by a gushing display of East-West good will, but the foreign ministers' negotiations will deal much more with harsh realities.

Dulles left Washington yesterday on a flight to Geneva by way of Rome and Paris. His Rome visit was undertaken to strengthen Paris he will confer with Macmillan and Pinay on development of common Western policies for the talks with Molotov.

A solid front of the United States, Britain and France is vital if their purpose of rolling back Soviet power is to have any chance of success. Molotov's greatest potential gain at this time would be to divide the Western allies on some major issue such as German unification or disarmament. He could then exploit the division to promote Russian aims in Germany.

From the Western side the prospect of ending Communist rule in East Germany is at the moment very dim. It may be brightened if the Western powers can discover enough pressures to force the Russians to consider letting the area go.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany, with this in mind, has urged President Eisenhower and other Western leaders not to let Russia have the benefits of a cold war truce without extracting the price of German unification.

Share Halloween Treats With Ill, Hungry, Plan Set

Children and young people of the Twin Cities and all the area surrounding are completing plans to go out on their "Trick or Treat" rounds the evening of October 31 as their first step in sharing Halloween with ill and hungry children of the world.

The public-spirited citizens of this area will give their treats of coins and the money will go to UNICEF, the Children's Fund of the United Nations. This is the largest intergovernment organization concerned wholly with children. UNICEF will then be "ready to go" far and wide helping to bring health, food and happiness to all the world's children.

Each country receiving UNICEF aid matches it more than dollar for dollar and this includes more than 90 underdeveloped countries being protected against TB, diptheria, malaria and being cured of dread and deforming diseases of the tropics.

Last year 4000 communities in the United States participated in these "Trick or Treat" Halloween parties for UNICEF, collecting $273,335 and thereby aiding 20 million children and mothers.

One UNICEF dollar provides enough powdered milk to give 9 children a glass of milk every day for a week or protects 24 children against TB; Five dollars provides enough DDT to safeguard 530 persons against Typhus fever for a season. Ten dollars buys enough antibiotic treatment to cure 30 children of Trachoma; Twenty-five dollars secures enough BCG vaccine to protect 600 children against TB.

Through its medical and nutrition program, UNICEF gives substance to the universal hope for a better world. Its work is supported solely through voluntary contributions from governments and individuals. This is your opportunity to participate in and express support of this constructive program.

In this area collections will be made between the hours of 6 and 8 p.m. to be followed by parties in the churches or homes sponsoring this new kind of Halloween celebration. United Church Women, Methodist Christian Social Relations Departments, Youth of the Sub-District, P-T.A.'s and individuals are sponsors locally.

Prosperity Due To Republicans, Memo Proclaims

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 —UP— A semi-official Republican memorandum said Saturday that current prosperity "did not happen by chance" but is a dividend of trust in the Eisenhower administration.

"The prosperous state of affairs ....has a direct relation to the principles and policies set in motion by the 'republican administration," the memorandum said.

The claims were made in the weekly Senate Republican memo published by the staff of the Senate Republican Policy committee.

The memo carries a note that no senators are responsible for statements contained "except such as they are willing to endorse and make their own."

In the past its statements have been widely endorsed. Material from the memo has been widely used by GOP senators in the preparation of speeches, news letters and other public utterances.

The publication's new economic survey is headed "Republican policies principles and programs make prosperity." The article summarized four recent economic reports:

1. From the Federal Reserve Board on record industrial production; 2. From the Commerce Department on record national income; 3. From the Securities and Exchange Commission on record corporate investments in plants and equipment, and 4. From the Council of Economic Advisers on record production of all goods and services.

The memo also reports a recent prediction of Small Business Administrator Wendell B. Barnes that the nation's production of all goods and services may jump 40 per cent in the 1955-1965 period.

As to the nation's farm economy, the memo says that "notwithstanding some price-cost squeeze due to farm adjustments to peace, Don Paarlberg, assistant secretary of agriculture, in a recent speech shows that 'farmers compare favorably with non-farmers so far as net assets are concerned'.".

"Per capita incomes of farmers have increased, real estate values rose two per cent for the past year, farm debts are only 11 per cent of total assets, compared to 19 per cent in 1940, and the tragic depressions which have followed every major war in the past have been avoided."

L. U. FOURMY

Record Is Cited By L. U. Fourmy, Juror Candidate

L. U. Fourmy, candidate for re-election to the Ouachita parish Police Jury from Ward 10, issued his campaign statement yesterday in which he submitted his past record of performance, based primarily on road improvement in his ward.

When he was elected to the police jury in 1944, Fourmy said, the Ouachita parish road system had no blacktop roads maintained by the parish. Now, Fourmy's statement said, more than 20 streets or segments in ward 10 along have been hardsurfaced by the police jury.

Fourmy also pointed to the development of the Young's bayou canal as an accomplishment of the police jury during his tenure. The canal drains a major portion of Monroe's newly developed residential area.

The ward 10 police juror also came out against any increase in taxation.

Fourmy is an active member of the Grace Episcopal Church, Kiwanis Club, Chamber of Commerce, active in scout work, Crippled Children's Society, and for the past four years has served as chairman of the police jury's finance committee.

If re-elected, Fourmy pledged to work in "complete harmony" and to cooperate with other members of the police jury to promote parish progress.

Princess Spends Weekend With Queen At Windsor

LONDON, Oct. 22—UP—Princess Margaret joined the queen at Windsor Castle Saturday for a week end visit that may decide the outcome of her romance with Group Capt. Peter Townsend.

The visit gave Margaret her first opportunity to discuss the handsome airman privately with her sister since the romance blossomed anew 10 days ago. Since returning from vacation in Scotland last Tuesday the queen has kept her distance from the whole affair.

Townsend paid a hurried last call on the princess at Clarence House before she departed for Windsor.

Court observers believed that the big moment had come when Margaret must decide between love and duty.

Margaret's decision to meet privately with Queen Elizabeth came amid mounting pressure to force an early announcement, possibly on Tuesday, on the status of her romance with the divorced commoner.

A veteran Conservative member of Parliament, Martin Lindsay, may have blown the lid off the simmering controversy Friday night with a speech openly hostile to the Church of England's "inhuman" inflexibility on divorce.

The London Evening News warned that the lack of official news on the romance was damaging the prestige of the royal family, the state and the church.

Tuesday was selected as the likeliest date for an official announcement because parliament reconvenes at that time.

Margaret returned to Clarence House late Saturday from an official engagement at London's East India docks.

Townsend went to see her, arriving 10 minutes after she did. He strode in by the back entrance he first used when he came home from Belgium.

Until his call at Clarence House, the 41-year-old airman had spent the gray day in his Lowndes Square quarters after going for a brisk horseback ride at dawn.

At Windsor with the sisters was the queen's husband, the Duke of Edinburgh.

Leaking Valves Closed

Rheumatic Heart Patients Aided By New Technique

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 22 (AP)—Promising results with a new "purse string" technique for repairing leakage of one of the key valves of the heart were reported today by a Philadelphia surgeon.

Dr. Robert Glover, chief of heart and chest surgery at Presbyterian Hospital, Philadelphia, said the technique had possibilities for benefiting at least half of all patients whose "mitral valve has been left leaking" by bouts with rheumatic fever.

The mitral valve, so called because it is shaped like a bishop's mitre, or hat, is located between the left auricle, which receives oxygenated blood from the lungs, and the left ventricle, whence blood is pumped throughout the body.

Sometimes, as a result of rheumatic fever, the valve is left loose and flabby so that blood "backs up," causing overstrain on both chambers of the left side of the heart—occasionally resulting in hearts "big as soccer balls," Dr. Glover said.

Glover told the 28th annual scientific meeting of the American Heart Assn. that previous attempts to repair such a "leaking valve" have involved attaching extra tissue to the "lips" of the valve, or placing plastic materials in the blood stream in an attempt to reduce the valvular opening.

But, he said, none of these has proved satisfactory.

In the new technique, he related, sutures are threaded, like a purse string, around the middle of the entire left side of the heart, causing a constriction which, in turn, forces the lips of the mitral valve together inside the heart chambers.

He said the surgeon makes a cut in the wall of the heart, inserts his fingers and guides the placement of the thread from inside, although the actual threading is done from the outside of the heart.

Dr. Glover, making a joint report with three colleagues, said first application of the technique to humans was preceded by three years of experimental work on 25 cadavers and 150 dogs in an attempt to prove the theoretical feasibility of the technique.

It was then tried on 12 human cases "who did not have more than a couple to six months to live" because their hearts, lungs and liver already had been heavily overtaxed by their "leaking valve."

In one-half of the patients, "improvement was quite considerable," Glover told a reporter, adding that one patient has now gone nine months since the operation, and that the rest look as though they will survive longer than might ordinarily have been expected.

In the remaining half, he said, adverse heart and lung conditions were already too far advanced for help.

"But we have demonstrated the efficacy of the procedure," he told a reporter, "and we are now ready to apply it in patients whose general condition is such that benefits from the operation might be expected.

"I would say that the outlook would suggest that at least one-half, or possibly more, of all patients with so-called 'mitral valve insufficiency' might expect to be benefitted."

Margaret's decision to meet privately with Queen Elizabeth came amid mounting pressure to force an early announcement, possibly on Tuesday, on the status of her romance with the divorced commoner.

A veteran Conservative member of Parliament, Martin Lindsay, may have blown the lid off the simmering controversy Friday night with a speech openly hostile to the Church of England's "inhuman" inflexibility on divorce.

The London Evening News warned that the lack of official news on the romance was damaging the prestige of the royal family, the state and the church.

Tuesday was selected as the likeliest date for an official announcement because parliament reconvenes at that time.

Margaret returned to Clarence House late Saturday from an official engagement at London's East India docks.

Townsend went to see her, arriving 10 minutes after she did. He strode in by the back entrance he first used when he came home from Belgium.

Until his call at Clarence House, the 41-year-old airman had spent the gray day in his Lowndes Square quarters after going for a brisk horseback ride at dawn.

At Windsor with the sisters was the queen's husband, the Duke of Edinburgh.

Rheumatic Heart Patients Aided By New Technique

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 22 (AP)—Promising results with a new "purse string" technique for repairing leakage of one of the key valves of the heart were reported today by a Philadelphia surgeon.

Dr. Robert Glover, chief of heart and chest surgery at Presbyterian Hospital, Philadelphia, said the technique had possibilities for benefiting at least half of all patients whose "mitral valve has been left leaking" by bouts with rheumatic fever.

The mitral valve, so called because it is shaped like a bishop's mitre, or hat, is located between the left auricle, which receives oxygenated blood from the lungs, and the left ventricle, whence blood is pumped throughout the body.

Sometimes, as a result of rheumatic fever, the valve is left loose and flabby so that blood "backs up," causing overstrain on both chambers of the left side of the heart—occasionally resulting in hearts "big as soccer balls," Dr. Glover said.

Glover told the 28th annual scientific meeting of the American Heart Assn. that previous attempts to repair such a "leaking valve" have involved attaching extra tissue to the "lips" of the valve, or placing plastic materials in the blood stream in an attempt to reduce the valvular opening.

But, he said, none of these has proved satisfactory.

In the new technique, he related, sutures are threaded, like a purse string, around the middle of the entire left side of the heart, causing a constriction which, in turn, forces the lips of the mitral valve together inside the heart chambers.

He said the surgeon makes a cut in the wall of the heart, inserts his fingers and guides the placement of the thread from inside, although the actual threading is done from the outside of the heart.

Dr. Glover, making a joint report with three colleagues, said first application of the technique to humans was preceded by three years of experimental work on 25 cadavers and 150 dogs in an attempt to prove the theoretical feasibility of the technique.

It was then tried on 12 human cases "who did not have more than a couple to six months to live" because their hearts, lungs and liver already had been heavily overtaxed by their "leaking valve."

In one-half of the patients, "improvement was quite considerable," Glover told a reporter, adding that one patient has now gone nine months since the operation, and that the rest look as though they will survive longer than might ordinarily have been expected.

In the remaining half, he said, adverse heart and lung conditions were already too far advanced for help.

"But we have demonstrated the efficacy of the procedure," he told a reporter, "and we are now ready to apply it in patients whose general condition is such that benefits from the operation might be expected.

"I would say that the outlook would suggest that at least one-half, or possibly more, of all patients with so-called 'mitral valve insufficiency' might expect to be benefitted."

Heavy Winter Fuel Oil Gets Industry Emphasis

HOUSTON, Oct. 22 (AP) —Oil refiners are preparing for the winter with heavier emphasis on heating fuel.

Light fuel oil being held in storage exceeds year earlier figures by about 15 million barrels.

Storage of gasoline and kerosene is about the same as a year ago but light fuel oil already has exceeded 1954's pre-season peak.

Light fuel stocks did not reach their peak last year until early November. Even then they were 13 million barrels lower than the current level.

Texas and Oklahoma regulatory authorities boosted November allowables this week by about 100,000 barrels a day. Purchasers of crude oil had nominated or requested an increase of 142,027 for the two states.

The increase restores part of the sharp cutback that resulted from a fire which closed the Whiting, Ind., refinery of Standard Oil Co. (Indiana).

The Texas Railroad Commission also ordered the November hike only after emphasizing that national crude stocks are lower than oilmen have estimated as desirable.

Ernest Thompson, senior member of the commission, said crude stocks Oct. 8 were about 255 million barrels. This, he noted, is from 5 to 15 million barrels below industry estimates of practical working levels.

Messena Murray, Oklahoma Conservation director, recommended a 10 per cent November increase that would mean a daily output of 575,000 barrels. Oklahoma's October allowable is 550,000 barrels daily.

Light fuel oil stocks for the week ending Oct. 14 totaled 148,849,000 barrels, compared to a week earlier 145,598,000 and a year earlier 133,253,000.

Oct. 15 heating fuel storage in 1953 was 130,902,000 barrels, compared to 120,937,000 in 1952.

Refiners in the week ending Oct. 14 turned out 734,000 barrels more of light oil than in the same week a year earlier. Crude oil processed by refineries exceeded the same 1954 week by 592,000 barrels daily.

Light fuel oil stocks reached a low point of 61,850,000 barrels in April after the winter season. This was 4,078,000 barrels below the low of april, 1954.

Domestic crude production the week ending Oct. 14 averaged 6,713,700 barrels a day, compared to 6,862,600 late last March. A year ago production averaged 6,195,950.

Independent Oil Producers Hear Of Industry Woes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—The oil industry can expect a number of problems of "far-reaching" importance in the coming year, independent producers heard this week.

Russell Brown, general counsel of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America (IPAA), sent a letter to members listing these as among problems he said must be met "squarely and with resolution":

Increasing "excessive" imports.

Federal regulation of natural gas producer prices.

"Repeated attacks on depletion." The present law permits oil and gas operators at 27½ per cent depletion allowance for income tax purposes.

"These," Brown said, "are matters which require a solution during the immediate months ahead."

He said action mapped at the IPAA meeting in St. Louis, Oct. 31 to Nov. 1, "will determine the success we may expect in seeking satisfactory solutions.

"The oil import problem continues with no signs of solution short of government action under existing law."

Total imports of crude oil and refined products in 1955, Brown said, would exceed levels recommended by the cabinet committee on energy supplies and resources policy by 112,000 barrels daily.

Referring to a pending law to exempt natural gas producers from federal regulation, Brown said the issue is:

"Are we to have federal regulation of production and gathering of natural gas or is this local activity to be left to competitive freedom?"

The bill, by Rep. Harris (D—Ark), passed the house this year 209 to 203. A similar bill has been approved by the Senate Commerce Committee but has not been acted upon by the senate.

Polio Campaigners To Meet In Orleans

Volunteer leaders in the fight against polio from three Gulf Coast states will meet this week in New Orleans to draft plans for the coming year's program, it was announced today.

Attending from Monroe will be Sam Rubin, Jr., Ouachita parish chapter chairman for the Naitonal Foundation of Infantile Paralysis and John Luffey, campaign chairman for the 1956 March of Dimes.

Basil O'Connor, New York attorney and president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, will be keynote speaker for the meeting Monday and Tuesday at the Roosevelt Hotel.

Key workers in the National Foundation's county & Parish Chapters of Louisiana, Mississippi and Florida will discuss plans to care for the estimated 68,000 polio patients that will still require care and financial aid at the close of the year, in addition to those who will be stricken next summer.

Campaign leaders for next January's March of Dimes (Jan. 3-31) in the three states will launch organizational work for the annual appeal for funds to support the polio program.

Volunteer state chairmen for the coming March of Dimes attending will be Clinton W. Bond, Louisiana; Dr. Felix Underwood, Mississippi, and Wendel C. Heston, Florida.

Accompanying Mr. O'Connor will be George Voss, National field director for the Foundation, and Joseph Nee, National fund raising director.

Husband Shot By Irate Wife During Cemetery Tryst

ARAB, Ala., Oct. 22—UP—When her estranged husband boasted he was meeting his new love in the cemetery, Mrs. Dovie Lee Green said Saturday, she followed him and shot him down among the tombstones as he sprung from the other woman's arms.

The other woman in the north Alabama triangle, identified as Mrs. Gladys McClung, escaped in a taxi which arrived at just that moment by prior appointment to pick up the graveyard lovers, police said.

The outraged wife, Mrs. Green, surrendered to Sheriff L. P. Dickson at nearby Guntersville Friday night after two of the five shots she said she fired from her little .32 at her 48-year-old husband, Hoyt, took effect.

Green was in fair condition at a hospital with slugs still lodged in his hip and chest. He was expected to recover but Mrs. Green was held on an open charge pending determination of his fate.

The 45-year-old Mrs. Green said she originally trailed her husband and Mrs. McClung to their eerie cemetery trysting place with the intention of "shooting that woman."

Mrs. Green said that when she flashed the automobile headlights on the two, they "were in an embrace" and that when she produced the pistol, Green jumped in front of Mrs. McClung to protect her.

Violent words followed, the sheriff said, and Mrs. Green was quoted as saying her husband then approached her with a drawn knife. Dickson said Mrs. Green told him, "I started shooting at his feet in order to stop him but he kept coming toward me so finally I just came on up and shot him."

The Need For Discipline In Our Lives

Juvenile delinquency in the United States is increasing rapidly and assuming more frightful and dangerous forms; and adult delinquency is on the increase; while mental disorders flourish to the point where mental patients now occupy half the hospital beds in the land.

These are deep-seated evidences of social maladjustment, extending through all age-brackets of life. They are unmistakeable signs of confused thinking and emotional upset among the populace.

The trend within the post-war decade has refuted old theories that juvenile delinquency and crime and mental disorders of a violent anti-social tinge are related in a close specific way to slums and poverty and squalor.

A significantly large number and proportion of modern juvenile crimes are being committed by young persons of good family background, raising and education. Many adult criminals are being recruited from the ranks of the respectable and the well-to-do. The proportion of mental disorders is as large among the well-educated as among the illiterate.

We cannot disregard the evil influence of slums and filth and poverty, particularly among the very young; but we no longer can say with any assurance or chance of proof that by eliminating this influence we can eliminate anti-social behavior.

A sharp distinction must be made between crime and mental illness, yet the distinction often fades in actual practice. A mentally sound person, whether in his teens or of the age of manhood or womanhood, is undisposed toward crime, and shrinks from it under all except the most unusual and provoking circumstances. A mentally ill person may have no criminal urges whatever, but on the other hand his lack of emotional balance may be a prime factor in a criminal career.

What family group, to use the family as the smallest and most important unit of society, is likely to turn out delinquents and criminals?

Perhaps it will be shown in time, through proper scientific studies, that it is the undisciplined family group.

Lack of discipline is not confined to one side of the railroad tracks. Some of the most disordered households in the land occupy mansions.

Discipline does not imply repression of the individual, but it does imply and demand the willingness of each member of a group to sacrifice and subordinate selfish desires for the greater good of the group.

It implies a well-ordered establishment, a home where serenity prevails—not lifeless calm but an ordered working atmosphere.

Discipline is equally important in the schoolroom, the Sunday School class, and on the playgrounds.

Children like and respect discipline, if it is properly maintained and administered. It becomes, unconsciously, an ideal in their minds—like the ideal of an ordered universe which many of them learn about later, as they pursue higher education.

And among our adult population, there is a great need for discipline in our daily living—to avoid extremes of thought and opinion, and of action, even in such everyday matters as driving an automobile.

The person subject to discipline is less likely to become emotionally upset or deranged, and far less prone to engage in any form of lawbreaking.

Eden Defies 'Two Hoodoos'

Prime Minister Anthony Eden, who succeeded Sir Winston Churchill as parliamentary and executive head of the British government in a general election held last summer made a speech a few days ago at a mass meeting in Bournemouth which contained some pithy statements.

He revealed that the Conservative Party decision to risk its future on a general Parliamentary election, soon after he had succeeded to power, "Was not an easy one", and added: "Apart from weighty national arguments I was conscious of at least two hoodoos; no Government in the history of this country, since universal franchise was in operation, had ever increased its majority; and that our Party--so I was told.... did not like holding elections in the summer.

"As against this, I felt, and still feel, that we had a message to give to country, to which the electors would respond. And that was not a brave new elixir, but a message of service to our countrymen..."

After describing the risks and the clearcut victory of this historic campaign, Sir Anthony Eden added:

"People speak of what you have done as creating some slick, twentieth century Party organization. I hope you will forgive me if I say that that also is not the full explanation. It is the man much more than the method which has wrought these wonders. . ."

The new British chieftain also stated, "I think I ought to recall this: A decisive element in our victory was unity. Never forget that."

The situation of the Republican Party in America today is similar in some respects to that of the Conservative Party in England prior to the time recently when Sir Anthony Eden as the newly named successor to Sir Winston Churchill took a great calculated political risk and demanded new elections and a mandate from the people—and carried his party to a decisive triump.

In England, the Conservatives and the independant voters were asking, can Sir Anthony Eden carry forward the brilliant policies of that mighty statesman and legendary world figure, Winston Churchill?

In America the Republicans and the independent voters are asking, who, if President Eisenhower retires for reasons of health, shall succeed him as a leader?

The Republicans and the independent voters would do well to treasure Sir Anthony Eden's words, candid, retrospective, full of good advice; and particularly his statement that "A decisive element in our victory was unity. Never forget that."

Starved Children

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I have been shocked along with the hundred and even thousands of others of the news of the two boys in New Orleans starving to death. And to me, as a Salvation Army officer, handling such cases, it seems almost impossible that one in todays' world could possibly starve to death, unless the parents are delinquent and unfit for caring for God's gift to them, children.

In your editorial, it mentioned that character building agencies are good, but shouldn't we have an agency doing welfare alone. It seems difficult to draw a line between character building and welfare, in many cases.

The Salvation Army of Monroe has been operating, on a limited budget, meeting every demand placed upon us for food, clothing, medicine, rent, etc. While many cases, or applicants are among those we might feel are not worthy because of the father and even the mother are addicts, to either dope, or liquor, still with children, we still feel it is our duty as Christians to meet the needs of the little children.

I believe that if the citizens of Monroe would support its present agencies, both character building and welfare, we of Monroe and West Monroe and surrounding areas, need not worry about children starving to death.

The Salvation Army has been a participating agency in the Twin City Community Chest for as many years as it had been organized. Our advisory board, comprised of leading citizens of Monroe and West Monroe, have worked diligently with the Chest officials in making its financial appeal a success. Up until the Chest went out of operation, this past June, Salvation Army advisory board members worked hard, trying to make the chest a success.

Now, the chest has failed. Now each agency, of which the Salvation Army along with the Colored Welfare Agency are the only agencies handling emergency relief in the Twin Cities. Men who gave $100.00 to the chest, and that is few and far between, now give five dollars to each agency, and still expect the only relief agency in the chest before it disbanded, to meet every need, clothing the naked, feeding the hungry, giving medicine to the sick and handling the unmarried mothers coming, or being referred to our office, seeing that during their time of disgrace, they are given a refuge from the staring public and she is taught child care and home care.

If the cities of Monroe and West Monroe, and surrounding areas, do not want the New Orleans incident to happen here, then don't fret when a worker of the Salvation Army financial appeal comes to you for your donation.

Remember, the Salvation Army can do only what the public so desires them through their contributions. If you want the Salvation Army to see that the incident in New Orleans does not happen here, then give liberally.

Captain and Mrs. Mockabee, and Lieutenant Hollingsworth comprise our staff. Work doesn't frighten either of the three of us, but work without money to secure food with cannot prevent a child from starving to death in our community.

The Salvation Army advisory board, and its officers are deeply grateful to every citizen who has assisted us in our wide and varied program in the past. If questions arise within your thinking about a case not being handled or supposedly hearsay has it that we have failed, then pick up your telephone and dial 3-3707 or go to the Salvation Army office located at the corner of Harrison and Hart streets and you can get, first-hand, the right information concerning any case you are interested in.

Human Interest Story During The Last Flood

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

In reading your editorial in the Saturday Morning World heading "Two Children Starve in New Orleans", I wish to add a little to what has already been said about welfare and character - building organizations.

During the last flood in the Twin Cities, there was a human interest story that few people knew about, that existed in West Monroe. A mother with two small children, was walking down the street on a cold day, the children were barefooted and without wraps to keep them warm. I drew up to the sidewalk and stopped to ask the mother if the children had any shoes and she advised me that they did not and she was on her way then to an organization that was set up in West Monroe to help the flood victims.

I asked them to get in the car and I would take them to the office and explain to them that they needed help now but I was advised by the officials that I would have to go to the Monroe office as they in the West Monroe office were not authorized to give out any supplies. I then took them to the Monroe office and was advised by them that they would have to investigate the people before they could help them. You would probably be surprised at what I told the officials of this organization that gives help to the needy, but I did take this family to the stores myself and bought for them out of my own pocket and from that date I promised the organization that they had already received my last "dime" as I had always given to their drives before thinking it was going to help people less fortunate then myself.

You ask how many children in our own back yard are suffering from hunger and want: well, it does exist for I have witnessed it right under our noses and I have turned very bitter against an organization that will accept my dollars to help unfortunate people, which I thought was being done until I found out differently.

We do need a private organization with a mission; one to help needy people in our midst at the time they need it, not put them off until they take a week to investigate them and let them freeze or starve while they are waiting for them to act. Understand I am not against some organizations that actually help unfortunates by giving them a warm meal, clothes and a place to sleep, but a big national organization that has to have "millions" to operate their offices, and buy automobiles and pay high salaries to big wigs and take their time to act on needy cases are not on my list anymore.

I believe that somewhere in the Twin Cities there could be organized a group of people who would be willing to serve, free of charge, to accept donations by public subscription to be used direct to help people in need. There is always a way to find out if people need help without making them suffer longer than necessary.

Accept my commendation for your editorial about the Salk polio vaccine. Editorials such as this one are bound to promote public health.

It is hard to reconcile this editorial with the stand you have taken on fluoridation. The Salk vaccine was studied for two or three years while fluoridation was for more than 15 years. The same ethical groups endorsing the vaccine also endorse fluoridation. Results have proven the merits of the one, just as the other, only in the case of fluoridation, over a much longer period of time — with no ill effects what so ever, even though millions have drunk fluoridated water for many, many years. If the research workers are right in the one instance, what reason is there to believe they are wrong in the other?

You may be sure that many more people have been crippled from bad teeth than from polio, and it would seem, since all experts who took part in the research agree as to its desirability, there could also appear editorials, carefully written as to facts, urging fluoridation as a badly needed public health measure.

23rd Amendment

New Orleans, La.

Editor, Morning World:

(Note — This letter was mailed to each governor of every state in the union.)

Dear Governor:

You are urged to turn this letter over to the members of the legislative committee of your state legislature or a comparative group of your state legislators so that they may present a resolution to adopt the proposed 23rd Amendment to the Constitution of the United States to regulate the Supreme Court at the next meeting of your legislature. It has been needed for many years.

It is evident that the members of the highest tribunal in our land, having no judicial experience, do not enjoy the confidence of our people.

An amendment to the Constitution of the United States to regulate the Supreme Court now seems to be in order.

Communistic influence has evidently infiltrated the Supreme Court. The segregation decision of the Supreme Court of the United States of America is a farce! The men who founded this nation established the precedent that ours is a government of laws and not of men. The constitutional provision of "equal protection of the laws" has been accepted as the basis for supplying equal facilities for the citizens of many states in the Union. Former Supreme Court Justices have ruled that the word equal meant what it stood for over the years. The present Justices of the Supreme Court have rendered a decision based on communistic writings by Dr. Gunnard Myrdal, a Socialist from Stockholm, Sweden collaborated with him in the composition of a book entitled An American Dilemma. There are no less than 28 citations in the files of the Committee on Un-American Activities of the United States House of Representatives against 16 of these so-called scholars. Regardless of how one may feel about segregation in the public schools, the decision nullified the constitution of the respective states. The rights of citizens of individual states have been abridged! Therefore, we submit for your consideration the 23rd amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America:

No person shall be appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate to the office of a Justice or a Chief Justice of the Supreme Court until after having served at least four years as a Judge of a lower Federal Court.

Furthermore, not more than five persons adhering to the same political party shall ever serve as members of the Supreme Court at any one time.

This amendment will remove from the field of plunder the passing out of political plums to pay off party debts and secure for the people experienced Judges to serve as Justices of the Supreme Court that should be looked up to as the interpreters of the Constitution.

Help, Publicity Needed

Rayville, La.

Editor, Morning World

I am a World War II veteran and was wounded, stayed in hospitals for over two years and I have been getting your daily papers every day now for the past four months.

Several things I can't understand and one is, why is it that the American Red Cross gets all the publicity in the United States and you never read anything in any of the papers about the Salvation Army? I can truthfully say that while I was in the army and in the hospitals, I always received something nice from the Salvation Army, even on the front lines they were nice to me, in the hospitals they gave me fruit, cigarettes, candy and many other things, and they would always do favors for us.

The Salvation Army deserves a lot of credit, which they have never gotten, especially from the TV shows, radio and newspapers, I know also that durings the floods in the U. S. and in Mexico recently the Salvation Army were the first to give food and help to all concerned.

I am sending you $1.00 for the Salvation Army drive which I understand through some friends in Monroe, if anybody needs money its the Salvation Army.

'To Make The Best Better'

West Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

It was with a great deal of interest that I read your editorial on 4-H Club work in your paper Tuesday, October 18th. It is indeed a challenge to us as extension workers to attempt to do a better job with the lives of boys and girls that we work with in the 4-H clubs. As you stated in your editorial, we are attempting to teach these boys and girls to get along as a group to give and to take — to be able to take defeat as well as be a winner.

I appreciate the excellent remarks about our work and I hope that I can, in a small way, help our boys and girls in Ouachita parish to live up to their National motto, "To Make the Best Better."

Georgia To Outlaw NAACP

Ruston, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Georgia's Attorney General Eugene Cook enlightens us to the fact that he now has the evidence to prove the NAACP is subversive and that he will call for legislation to outlaw this troublesome organization in the State of Georgia. If so, then this may set off a chain reaction all over the south which may be the answer to this Communist - inspired "Desegregation Ruling."

Senator Eastland has provided us with the facts that the idea of mingling of the races for revolutionary purposes was spawned in the Kremlin. It took the Soviets about ten years to set their trap but they eventually took those nine improvident old men in Washington a snipe hunting.

It is now beginning to dawn upon those old men that education was not the foremost aim in this desegregation ruling. Education was used as a bait to put the ruling through. What the Communists really want is mongrelization, degradation of the white race, race riots, revolution and trouble in general. Russia's bylaws and plans still are, "Divide and conquer," and "Sow hatred among the races that disagree with us."

Attorney General Cook claims that the NAACP is infiltrated and dominated by white people who are connected with Communist fronts. Evidently many of the leaders are political sharks — out for himself. The Communist plans, which the Supreme Court made law, states there shall be no "Equal Facilities," and that the races must mix. Please note the NAACP continues to repeat these words. The Bible teaches us that "By thy deeds ye shall know them."

Communists may ultimately cost Negroes all they have ever gained.

Politicians With A Weak Heart

Natchitoches, La.

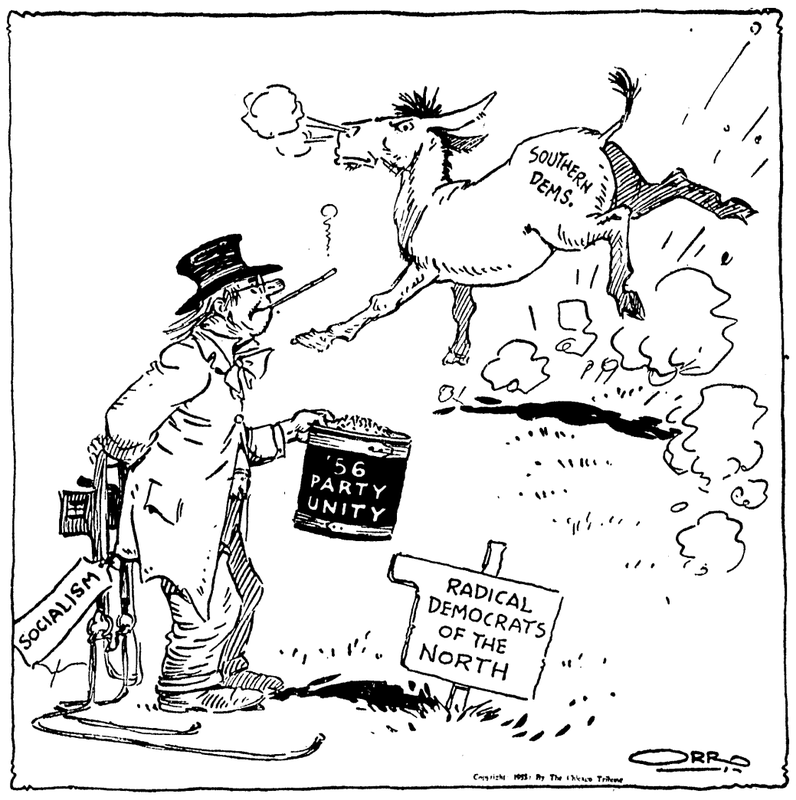

Editor, Morning World:

Soon there will probably be much discussion on whether a man with a serious heart condition should run for high office. I have the opinion that he should not for several reasons. The office does not belong to the candidate nor to any particular group. It belongs to all the people it may serve. They would not hire a man who has a heart likely to cause his death at almost any moment to manage any large and important business. In fact, it is hard for the laboring man with a bad heart or any serious physical disability to secure a job at hard work, because the employer does not want to run the risk of his dying on the job.

If a man who is elected to high office dies before his term is out, usually the man to succeed him is not qualified to fill the position. I think it shows a selfishness on the part of a candidate with a serious diseased condition to run for high office. It also shows he has not the proper regard for the people he seeks to serve. It is possible some men with such a diseased condition think that, if they are elected and die in office, it will make a martyr out of them. Such has been the case. It is not fair to the people.

Who's Afraid Of Dick Nixon?

Five days after President Eisenhower was stricken a complete set of instructions was passed through red channels in our 48 states detailing how Communists might best take advantage of the new situation.

The disciplined 25,000 and the quarter - million party - liners in the United States were urged to:

Slur, criticize and condemn Dick Nixon. Oppose any increase in his authority.

There were also some recommendations on how to apply pressure toward the removal of anti-Communist programs from TV. It was noted that, toward this end, the Communist school in California is now conducting a course in, "How To Write Letters To The Editor."

But their first concern seemed to be Mr. Nixon. They did not want any additional authority delegated to him.

Subsequently, on Oct. 16, Joseph L. Rau of the ADA spoke out against Nixon. The ADA (Americans for Democratic Action) is the political action organization which disavows all Communists and yet is so often found in bed with them.

The ADA is not likely to back the Republican candidate, whomever he is. But Mr. Rau, nonetheless, "advises" the Republicans to "drop Vice President Nixon as a 1956 presidential possibility."

He says the "independent voter will never swallow him."

Mr. Rau lists the "three leading candidates" among Democrats as Harriman, Kefauver and Stevenson. He voices no objection to any of these.

But he wants to make sure the Republicans "drop Nixon."

It is an ugly truth that domestic power politics often rely heavily on intimidation.

All of Mr. Nixon's critics are not Communists. But I know there is a concerted Communist campaign to "get" him and I think we should all understand why.

They have nothing "on" him.

There is a pitiful handful of once-influential men around Washington who have been silenced for good by the skeletons in their own closets. Agents of the cold - war conspiracy, with a file of such coercive facts, threaten to destroy whom they cannot otherwise silence.

Mr. Nixon has never belonged to any questionable organization. He has, indeed, been a vigorous and effective foe of the Soviet conspiracy in the United States.

Neither he nor his relatives have ever had any affinity or affiliation which could possibly soften his opposition to that conspiracy.

Again, I am not saying that everybody who is not for Dick Nixon is a Communist. That is not true.

I have an in-law who would not vote for him because he's too "pretty." Another acquaintance says, "Too young."

Most have recognized his rather spectacular success in handshaking diplomacy, but few know what a quietly capable administrator the man is. I do. President Eisenhower does, too.

I am not saying that Mr. Nixon is the best possible choice for a successor. Before the big show is over I may be all - out "against" him, in favor of another.

But the only ones who need "fear" him are those who have something to hide and know he hasn't.

State Incomes Lose Ground To Soaring Expenditures

WASHINGTON — Where does Louisiana stand in the 48-state race to match rising expenditures with increased revenue?

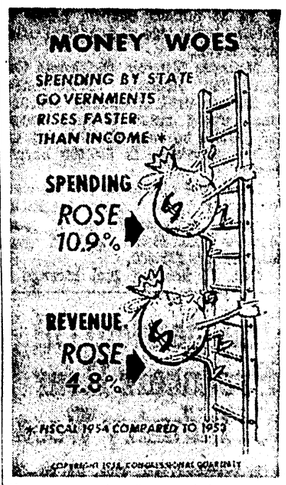

Latest census data, as tabulated by Congressional Quarterly, points up the pinch many states are feeling. Both income and outgo increased in fiscal 1954, but expenses climbed much more sharply than revenue.

At the same time, outstanding state debt climbed to an all-time high of $9.6 billion at the end of the year. School, highway, and other needs forced the states to borrow $2.2 billion during the year.

Louisiana's financial activities are compared with the national trend in the table below. Amounts are in millions of dollars.

	Louisiana 1954	'53 to '54	All States 1954	'53 to '54
Total revenue	$482,662	3.6%	18,834	4.8%
Total expenditure	$449,213	6.3%	18,686	10.9
Debt outstanding	$216,617	1.9%	9,600	22.7

These figures do not include amounts spent and received by cities, counties, and other local governments — large sums in the aggregate. Some state governments handle the bulk of intrastate finances; others leave a larger share of the job to localities.

In New Jersey, for example, state taxes amount to 26 per cent of all nonfederal taxes. In other words, local governments collect and spend, from tax revenue, three times as much as the state government. At the other extreme is New Mexico, where state taxes constitute 79 per cent of all nonfederal taxes. In Louisiana, state taxes amount to 75.9 per cent of all intrastate taxes.

The Need For Discipline In Our Lives

Juvenile delinquency in the United States is increasing rapidly and assuming more frightful and dangerous forms; and adult delinquency is on the increase; while mental disorders flourish to the point where mental patients now occupy half the hospital beds in the land.

These are deep-seated evidences of social maladjustment, extending through all age-brackets of life. They are unmistakeable signs of confused thinking and emotional upset among the populace.

The trend within the post-war decade has refuted old theories that juvenile delinquency and crime and mental disorders of a violent anti-social tinge are related in a close specific way to slums and poverty and squalor.

A significantly large number and proportion of modern juvenile crimes are being committed by young persons of good family background, raising and education. Many adult criminals are being recruited from the ranks of the respectable and the well-to-do. The proportion of mental disorders is as large among the well-educated as among the illiterate.

We cannot disregard the evil influence of slums and filth and poverty, particularly among the very young; but we no longer can say with any assurance or chance of proof that by eliminating this influence we can eliminate anti-social behavior.

A sharp distinction must be made between crime and mental illness, yet the distinction often fades in actual practice. A mentally sound person, whether in his teens or of the age of manhood or womanhood, is undisposed toward crime, and shrinks from it under all except the most unusual and provoking circumstances. A mentally ill person may have no criminal urges whatever, but on the other hand his lack of emotional balance may be a prime factor in a criminal career.

What family group, to use the family as the smallest and most important unit of society, is likely to turn out delinquents and criminals?

Perhaps it will be shown in time, through proper scientific studies, that it is the undisciplined family group.

Lack of discipline is not confined to one side of the railroad tracks. Some of the most disordered households in the land occupy mansions.

Discipline does not imply repression of the individual, but it does imply and demand the willingness of each member of a group to sacrifice and subordinate selfish desires for the greater good of the group.

It implies a well-ordered establishment, a home where serenity prevails—not lifeless calm but an ordered working atmosphere.

Discipline is equally important in the schoolroom, the Sunday School class, and on the playgrounds.

Children like and respect discipline, if it is properly maintained and administered. It becomes, unconsciously, an ideal in their minds—like the ideal of an ordered universe which many of them learn about later, as they pursue higher education.

And among our adult population, there is a great need for discipline in our daily living—to avoid extremes of thought and opinion, and of action, even in such everyday matters as driving an automobile.

The person subject to discipline is less likely to become emotionally upset or deranged, and far less prone to engage in any form of lawbreaking.

I then took them to the Monroe office and was advised by them that they would have to investigate the people before they could help them. You would probably be surprised at what I told the officials of this organization that gives help to the needy, but I did take this family to the stores myself and bought for them out of my own pocket and from that date I promised the organization that they had already received my last "dime" as I had always given to their drives before thinking it was going to help people less fortunate then myself.

You ask how many children in our own back yard are suffering from hunger and want: well, it does exist for I have witnessed it right under our noses and I have turned very bitter against an organization that will accept my dollars to help unfortunate people, which I thought was being done until I found out differently.

We do need a private organization with a mission; one to help needy people in our midst at the time they need it, not put them off until they take a week to investigate them and let them freeze or starve while they are waiting for them to act. Understand I am not against some organizations that actually help unfortunates by giving them a warm meal, clothes and a place to sleep, but a big national organization that has to have "millions" to operate their offices, and buy automobiles and pay high salaries to big wigs and take their time to act on needy cases are not on my list anymore.

I believe that somewhere in the Twin Cities there could be organized a group of people who would be willing to serve, free of charge, to accept donations by public subscription to be used direct to help people in need. There is always a way to find out if people need help without making them suffer longer than necessary.

Editorials Inconsistent

Accept my commendation for your editorial about the Salk polio vaccine. Editorials such as this one are bound to promote public health.

It is hard to reconcile this editorial with the stand you have taken on fluoridation. The Salk vaccine was studied for two or three years while fluoridation was for more than 15 years. The same ethical groups endorsing the vaccine also endorse fluoridation. Results have proven the merits of the one, just as the other, only in the case of fluoridation, over a much longer period of time — with no ill effects what so ever, even though millions have drunk fluoridated water for many, many years. If the research workers are right in the one instance, what reason is there to believe they are wrong in the other?

You may be sure that many more people have been crippled from bad teeth than from polio, and it would seem, since all experts who took part in the research agree as to its desirability, there could also appear editorials, carefully written as to facts, urging fluoridation as a badly needed public health measure.

23rd Amendment

New Orleans, La.

Editor, Morning World:

(Note — This letter was mailed to each governor of every state in the union.)

Dear Governor:

You are urged to turn this letter over to the members of the legislative committee of your state legislature or a comparative group of your state legislators so that they may present a resolution to adopt the proposed 23rd Amendment to the Constitution of the United States to regulate the Supreme Court at the next meeting of your legislature. It has been needed for many years.

It is evident that the members of the highest tribunal in our land, having no judicial experience, do not enjoy the confidence of our people.

An amendment to the Constitution of the United States to regulate the Supreme Court now seems to be in order.

Communistic influence has evidently infiltrated the Supreme Court. The segregation decision of the Supreme Court of the United States of America is a farce! The men who founded this nation established the precedent that ours is a government of laws and not of men. The constitutional provision of "equal protection of the laws" has been accepted as the basis for supplying equal facilities for the citizens of many states in the Union. Former Supreme Court Justices have ruled that the word equal meant what it stood for over the years. The present Justices of the Supreme Court have rendered a decision based on communistic writings by Dr. Gunnard Myrdal, a Socialist from Stockholm, Sweden collaborated with him in the composition of a book entitled An American Dilemma. There are no less than 28 citations in the files of the Committee on Un-American Activities of the United States House of Representatives against 16 of these so-called scholars. Regardless of how one may feel about segregation in the public schools, the decision nullified the constitution of the respective states. The rights of citizens of individual states have been abridged! Therefore, we submit for your consideration the 23rd amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America:

No person shall be appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate to the office of a Justice or a Chief Justice of the Supreme Court until after having served at least four years as a Judge of a lower Federal Court.

Furthermore, not more than five persons adhering to the same political party shall ever serve as members of the Supreme Court at any one time.

This amendment will remove from the field of plunder the passing out of political plums to pay off party debts and secure for the people experienced Judges to serve as Justices of the Supreme Court that should be looked up to as the interpreters of the Constitution.

Help, Publicity Needed

Rayville, La.

Editor, Morning World

I am a World War II veteran and was wounded, stayed in hospitals for over two years and I have been getting your daily papers every day now for the past four months.

Several things I can't understand and one is, why is it that the American Red Cross gets all the publicity in the United States and you never read anything in any of the papers about the Salvation Army? I can truthfully say that while I was in the army and in the hospitals, I always received something nice from the Salvation Army, even on the front lines they were nice to me, in the hospitals they gave me fruit, cigarettes, candy and many other things, and they would always do favors for us.

The Salvation Army deserves a lot of credit, which they have never gotten, especially from the TV shows, radio and newspapers, I know also that durings the floods in the U. S. and in Mexico recently the Salvation Army were the first to give food and help to all concerned.

I am sending you $1.00 for the Salvation Army drive which I understand through some friends in Monroe, if anybody needs money its the Salvation Army.

JOHN WILLIAMS.

'To Make The Best Better'

West Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

It was with a great deal of interest that I read your editorial on 4-H Club work in your paper Tuesday, October 18th. It is indeed a challenge to us as extension workers to attempt to do a better job with the lives of boys and girls that we work with in the 4-H clubs. As you stated in your editorial, we are attempting to teach these boys and girls to get along as a group to give and to take — to be able to take defeat as well as be a winner.

I appreciate the excellent remarks about our work and I hope that I can, in a small way, help our boys and girls in Ouachita parish to live up to their National motto, "To Make the Best Better."

Georgia To Outlaw NAACP

Ruston, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Georgia's Attorney General Eugene Cook enlightens us to the fact that he now has the evidence to prove the NAACP is subversive and that he will call for legislation to outlaw this troublesome organization in the State of Georgia. If so, then this may set off a chain reaction all over the south which may be the answer to this Communist - inspired "Desegregation Ruling."

Senator Eastland has provided us with the facts that the idea of mingling of the races for revolutionary purposes was spawned in the Kremlin. It took the Soviets about ten years to set their trap but they eventually took those nine improvident old men in Washington a snipe hunting.

It is now beginning to dawn upon those old men that education was not the foremost aim in this desegregation ruling. Education was used as a bait to put the ruling through. What the Communists really want is mongrelization, degradation of the white race, race riots, revolution and trouble in general. Russia's bylaws and plans still are, "Divide and conquer," and "Sow hatred among the races that disagree with us."

Attorney General Cook claims that the NAACP is infiltrated and dominated by white people who are connected with Communist fronts. Evidently many of the leaders are political sharks — out for himself. The Communist plans, which the Supreme Court made law, states there shall be no "Equal Facilities," and that the races must mix. Please note the NAACP continues to repeat these words. The Bible teaches us that "By thy deeds ye shall know them."

Communists may ultimately cost Negroes all they have ever gained.

Politicians With A Weak Heart

Natchitoches, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Soon there will probably be much discussion on whether a man with a serious heart condition should run for high office. I have the opinion that he should not for several reasons. The office does not belong to the candidate nor to any particular group. It belongs to all the people it may serve. They would not hire a man who has a heart likely to cause his death at almost any moment to manage any large and important business. In fact, it is hard for the laboring man with a bad heart or any serious physical disability to secure a job at hard work, because the employer does not want to run the risk of his dying on the job.

If a man who is elected to high office dies before his term is out, usually the man to succeed him is not qualified to fill the position. I think it shows a selfishness on the part of a candidate with a serious diseased condition to run for high office. It also shows he has not the proper regard for the people he seeks to serve. It is possible some men with such a diseased condition think that, if they are elected and die in office, it will make a martyr out of them. Such has been the case. It is not fair to the people.

Paul Harvey—News

Who's Afraid Of Dick Nixon?

Five days after President Eisenhower was stricken a complete set of instructions was passed through red channels in our 48 states detailing how Communists might best take advantage of the new situation.

The disciplined 25,000 and the quarter - million party - liners in the United States were urged to:

Slur, criticize and condemn Dick Nixon. Oppose any increase in his authority.

There were also some recommendations on how to apply pressure toward the removal of anti-Communist programs from TV. It was noted that, toward this end, the Communist school in California is now conducting a course in, "How To Write Letters To The Editor."

But their first concern seemed to be Mr. Nixon. They did not want any additional authority delegated to him.

Subsequently, on Oct. 16, Joseph L. Rau of the ADA spoke out against Nixon. The ADA (Americans for Democratic Action) is the political action organization which disavows all Communists and yet is so often found in bed with them.

The ADA is not likely to back the Republican candidate, whomever he is. But Mr. Rau, nonetheless, "advises" the Republicans to "drop Vice President Nixon as a 1956 presidential possibility."

He says the "independent voter will never swallow him."

Mr. Rau lists the "three leading candidates" among Democrats as Harriman, Kefauver and Stevenson. He voices no objection to any of these.

But he wants to make sure the Republicans "drop Nixon."

It is an ugly truth that domestic power politics often rely heavily on intimidation.

All of Mr. Nixon's critics are not Communists. But I know there is a concerted Communist campaign to "get" him and I think we should all understand why.

They have nothing "on" him.

There is a pitiful handful of once-influential men around Washington who have been silenced for good by the skeletons in their own closets. Agents of the cold - war conspiracy, with a file of such coercive facts, threaten to destroy whom they cannot otherwise silence.

Mr. Nixon has never belonged to any questionable organization. He has, indeed, been a vigorous and effective foe of the Soviet conspiracy in the United States.

Neither he nor his relatives have ever had any affinity or affiliation which could possibly soften his opposition to that conspiracy.

Again, I am not saying that everybody who is not for Dick Nixon is a Communist. That is not true.

I have an in-law who would not vote for him because he's too "pretty." Another acquaintance says, "Too young."

Most have recognized his rather spectacular success in handshaking diplomacy, but few know what a quietly capable administrator the man is. I do. President Eisenhower does, too.

I am not saying that Mr. Nixon is the best possible choice for a successor. Before the big shows over I may be all - out "against" him, in favor of another.

But the only ones who need "fear" him are those who have something to hide and know he hasn't.

Congressional Quarterly

State Incomes Lose Ground To Soaring Expenditures

WASHINGTON — Where does Louisiana stand in the 48-state race to match rising expenditures with increased revenue?

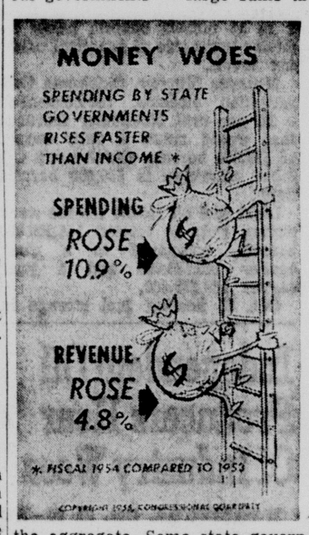

Latest census data, as tabulated by Congressional Quarterly, points up the pinch many states are feeling. Both income and outgo increased in fiscal 1954, but expenses climbed much more sharply than revenue.

At the same time, outstanding state debt climbed to an all-time high of $9.6 billion at the end of the year. School, highway, and other needs forced the states to borrow $2.2 billion during the year.

Louisiana's financial activities are compared with the national trend in the table below. Amounts are in millions of dollars.

	Louisiana 1954	'53 to '54	All States 1954	'53 to '54
Total revenue	$482,662	3.6%	18,834	4.8%
Total expenditure	$449,213	6.3%	18,686	10.9
Debt outstanding	$216,617	1.9%	9,600	22.7

These figures do not include amounts spent and received by cities, counties, and other local governments — large sums in the aggregate. Some state governments handle the bulk of intrastate finances; others leave a larger share of the job to localities.

In New Jersey, for example, state taxes amount to 26 per cent of all nonfederal taxes. In other words, local governments collect and spend, from tax revenue, three times as much as the state government. At the other extreme is New Mexico, where state taxes constitute 79 per cent of all nonfederal taxes. In Louisiana, state taxes amount to 75.9 per cent of all intrastate taxes.

New Shipments Of Soviet Arms Landed In Egypt

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Oct. 22—UP—Four Russian ships loaded with Communist arms for Egypt have arrived here in the past three days, informed maritime sources said Saturday.

A fifth shipload of arms, brought by the Egyptian freighter Khedive Ismail from Red China, was unloaded at Suez Thursday.

The latest Russian ship to arrive was the Stalingrad, which reached Alexandria Friday with a load of arms from Communist Czechoslovakia. The names of the other Soviet ships could not be determined immediately.

They are being unloaded in a heavily-guarded "prohibited military zone" in the outlying Agami area of Alexandria's port. Highway traffic passing the military zone has been diverted, apparently to prevent anyone's getting a close look at the Red shipments.

There was no information as to the type or amount of the arms received.

An estimated 10 to 16 per cent of the crop land harvested annually in the United States since the end of World War II has been used for producing export commodities.

public has admired and whose judgment for years guided his congregation.

When he suggested that the church obtain a site far out on the north side of town in what was only a few years before a cotton field, many believed that he had made a mistake. But on this site was erected Monroe's most beautiful English cathedral type sanctuary which is admired by all today. And that cotton field area is now well built up with fine homes of a high grade citizenship.

Rev. E. F. Hayward has proved a man of foresight as well as a devout Christian leader. His friends hope that his life span may be extended for many years.

Methodist youth plan something of an improvement in the old "trick or treat" manner that has become a custom on Halloween night. Twelve Methodist churches in the Monroe sub-district of young people met last Sunday and decided to help the United Nation's Children's fund. Instead of candy and treats at each home visited, they voted to ask for cash donations all to go to the help of these needy youngsters. In this way there will be performed an object lesson in the extension of giving something substantial.

After the homes have been visited and money received, all the youthful collectors will proceed to the First Methodist church where they will be participants in a real Halloween party.

A. B. Clarkson, the biggest asset that any church here possesses when it comes to the collection of money for church budgets, is again to direct this source of income for his church, the First Baptist church of Monroe.

He has done it for many years and this time it is to be repeated. Under his direction, a large budget has been set each year and never have Mr. Clarkson's followers fallen down on their efforts. It is too bad that many other churches here lack a Clarkson in their midst.

The West Monroe high school Future Homemakers of America club plans a big carnival for next Friday night in their gymnasium. There will be a sale of food at 6 p.m. and the carnival starts at 7 p.m. Of course there will be a grand march and a Halloween queen will be crowned. Her selection will be in a democratic manner, all groups participating.

In the grand march there will be a prize for the best costume. Altogether it will be an evening of fun for all attending.

President Plans

probably will be Jan. 1 before the chief executive could return to his duties in the White House. When he leaves Denver he probably will fly to Washington, spend a day or two in the White House and then go on to his farm at Gettysburg, Pa.

During the convalescense period there the President should be able to step up conferences with Cabinet members and other administration officials, or even hold a meeting of the full Cabinet.

And possibly he might turn the procedure around and go from Gettysburg to Washington for occasional meetings.

Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, the chief executive's personal physician, speaking of the President's eventual return trip to the East, told reporters:

"I think in all probability we will break it in Washington."

In response to a question, White said that Eisenhower's recovery has gone along "almost exactly" according to the schedule he outlined on his last previous trip to Denver two weeks ago.

He quoted a letter from Dr. Eugene Lepeschkin, a cardiogram expert at the University of Vermont Medical School, as saying that while electrocardiograms during the first 10 days after the President's Sept. 24 heart seizure indicated that "the healing process appeared delayed, it has now caught up with the time schedule." White said that confirms what he and the other doctors attending the President believe.

Starting tomorrow, White said, Eisenhower will begin taking a few steps. He said the physicians hoped to put him on the scales in a day or two to check on his weight.

Starting the week after next, White said, the chief executive is expected to be walking about much more on one level, and strolling on the hospital sundeck.

"In all probablity, at the end of two weeks from now," he said, "he will be quite mobile and able to dispense with his wheelchair most of the time."

The President's own desires, White said, will govern the amount of walking he does. There may be times, he said, when the President will prefer to sit or to rest in bed.

Then, in the third week from now, he said, it is hoped that, "We may be able to try him out on a few stairs."

The doctor emphasized that it is desirable for the chief executive to exercise his chest and leg and arm muscles even when he isn't walking because it improves the muscle tone and helps the circulatory system.

Speaking of that third week ahead, the seventh since the heart attack, White said that, "It well may be that toward the middle or end of the seventh week that the President may decide he would like to return to Gettysburg."

White said that there was a possibility Eisenhower might stay for a while at Gettysburg and then go somewhere else but no decision has been made on that. He said that, "We have talked of other places."

Bishop Cites 'Need' Of Rewriting Bible

BRISTOL, England, Oct. 22 (AP)—The Anglican bishop of Bristol suggested today the Bible be rewritten in space fiction style to get children interested.

"If we were to rewrite the Testaments in terms of space fiction," he said, "the church might achieve much."

Monroyan's Leg Is Broken When Pinned By Autos

W. R. Jackson, 50, 3811 Lee Avenue, suffered a broken leg about 8 p.m. Saturday when he was pinned between bumpers of a car and a cookie delivery truck in the 4200 block of Pippin Street.

According to police, Jackson had just delivered cookies to a small store and was attempting to close the rear door of his truck when he was struck by a car.

A police investigator said the car, with automatic drive transmission, was driven by Sherman Douglas, Sr., Negro, who had parked behind Jackson's truck. As Douglas leaned over to open the right door to let someone out, his foot slipped from the brake to the gas accelerator and the car lurched forward, pinning Jackson between the bumpers.

Jackson's leg received a simple fracture and there were lacerations on other parts of his body, police said.

Dulles told Martino he "was glad to renew the personal contact which I have regularly enjoyed with the leaders of your nation."

Dulles said Italy is "one of the great powers," and one with which the United States desires to maintain the closets relations.

"Because of your deep concern with European, and indeed, world affairs, I consider it important to consult with your government prior to the forthcoming meeting in Geneva," Dulles told Martino.

He added that the United States "attaches high importance to relations with Italy which will permit our people always to continue in friendship."

In response, Martino said "I am truly very happy to offer greetings to the secretary of state of a great friendly nation. I want to take this occasion, certain that I am speaking for the entire Italian people, to give my best wishes to President Eisenhower."

ly was very anxious to get off the hook with the angry senators. The views of all three were summed by Chavez in Madrid.

"I didn't ask for any plane," he said crisply. "I didn't ask the air corps for a doggone thing. If the air corps is sending some planes to Europe, it is going to do so on its own and not on my request."

In its statement, the Air Force admitted it knew the senators had to leave for the United States on Oct. 23 and Nov. 3 and that it failed to arrange to have planes in the area on time.

When the senators couldn't change their departure dates, the Air Force said, it was then forced to hurry special equipment over to Europe from this country. It indicated the senators had nothing to do with the decision.

"These particular senators had informed the Air Force in advance that they would have to be back by certain dates," the department said. "They outlined their transportation requirements and expected to be taken care of as is customary when such trips have been authorized by the chairman of the standing committees."

One four-engined transport, which flew across the Atlantic empty, is now in Madrid and scheduled to return Sunday with Stennis, McClellan, and their wives. Another four-engine transport is scheduled to fly across the Atlantic to pick up Chavez and his wife in Paris on Nov. 3.

The Air Force chronology showed that the Defense Department escort officer accompanying the senators had been advised before the senators left this country on Sept. 20 that Stennis and McClellan desired to leave from Madrid on Oct. 23 and Chavez from Paris on Nov. 3. Originally, McClellan and Stennis had said they wished to depart from Madrid on Oct. 25.

posing to "Europeanize" the territory have been counted, all incoming traffic from West Germany, France and Luxembourg will be stopped, with certain exceptions, to insure that 664,000 Saarlanders can vote freely.

The voters, steamed up by three months of hot campaigning, will simply mark an X beside yes or no. If the majority vote yes, the Saar will become a supranational state, smaller than Rhode Island and with a population of between 900,000 and a million, in the industrial heart of Europe.

The coal-rich steel-producing valley would continue its close economic ties, including a customs union, with France; and control its own internal government. Foreign relations and defense would pass from France to a neutral high commissioner appointed by the seven-nation Western European Union.

If the voters say no, the status quo will continue. That means political autonomy, but still a close economic tieup with France. It also would mean a customs and currency barrier between the German-speaking Saarlanders and other Germans living just across the eastern frontier.

On the eve of the crucial vote that may give a new boost to European unity—or perhaps bury it—pro-Europeanization and pro-German forces fired off final charges and countercharges. Each side called the other "traitors."

New Shipments Of Soviet Arms Landed In Egypt

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Oct. 22—UP—Four Russian ships loaded with Communist arms for Egypt have arrived here in the past three days, informed maritime sources said Saturday.

A fifth shipload of arms, brought by the Egyptian freighter Khedive Ismail from Red China, was unloaded at Suez Thursday.

The latest Russian ship to arrive was the Stalingrad, which reached Alexandria Friday with a load of arms from Communist Czechoslovakia. The names of the other Soviet ships could not be determined immediately.

They are being unloaded in a heavily-guarded "prohibited military zone" in the outlying Agami area of Alexandria's port. Highway traffic passing the military zone has been diverted, apparently to prevent anyone's getting a close look at the Red shipments.

There was no information as to the type or amount of the arms received.

An estimated 10 to 16 per cent of the crop land harvested annually in the United States since the end of World War II has been used for producing export commodities.

bout 70 per cent of every tree harvested by the American lumber industry now is salvaged for use.

public has admired and whose judgment for years guided his congregation.

When he suggested that the church obtain a site far out on the north side of town in what was only a few years before a cotton field, many believed that he had made a mistake. But on this site was erected Monroe's most beautiful English cathedral type sanctuary which is admired by all today. And that cotton field area is now well built up with fine homes of a high grade citizenship.

Rev. E. F. Hayward has proved a man of foresight as well as a devout Christian leader. His friends hope that his life span may be extended for many years.

Methodist youth plan something of an improvement in the old "trick or treat" manner that has become a custom on Halloween night. Twelve Methodist churches in the Monroe sub-district of young people met last Sunday and decided to help the United Nation's Children's fund. Instead of candy and treats at each home visited, they voted to ask for cash donations all to go to the help of these needy youngsters. In this way there will be performed an object lesson in the extension of giving something substantial.

After the homes have been visited and money received, all the youthful collectors will proceed to the First Methodist church where they will be participants in a real Halloween party.

A. B. Clarkson, the biggest asset that any church here possesses when it comes to the collection of money for church budgets, is again to direct this source of income for his church, the First Baptist church of Monroe.

He has done it for many years and this time it is to be repeated. Under his direction, a large budget has been set each year and never have Mr. Clarkson's followers fallen down on their efforts. It is too bad that many other churches here lack a Clarkson in their midst.

The West Monroe high school Future Homemakers of America club plans a big carnival for next Friday night in their gymnasium. There will be a sale of food at 6 p.m. and the carnival starts at 7 p.m. Of course there will be a grand march and a Halloween queen will be crowned. Her selection will be in a democratic manner, all groups participating.

In the grand march there will be a prize for the best costume. Altogether it will be an evening of fun for all attending.

probably will be Jan. 1 before the chief executive could return to his duties in the White House. When he leaves Denver he probably will fly to Washington, spend a day or two in the White House and then go on to his farm at Gettysburg, Pa.

During the convalescense period there the President should be able to step up conferences with Cabinet members and other administration officials, or even hold a meeting of the full Cabinet.

And possibly he might turn the procedure around and go from Gettysburg to Washington for occasional meetings.

Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, the chief executive's personal physician, speaking of the President's eventual return trip to the East, told reporters:

"I think in all probability we will break it in Washington."

In response to a question, White said that Eisenhower's recovery has gone along "almost exactly" according to the schedule he outlined on his last previous trip to Denver two weeks ago.

He quoted a letter from Dr. Eugene Lepeschkin, a cardiogram expert at the University of Vermont Medical School, as saying that while electrocardiograms during the first 10 days after the President's Sept. 24 heart seizure indicated that "the healing process appeared delayed, it has now caught up with the time schedule." White said that confirms what he and the other doctors attending the President believe.

Starting tomorrow, White said, Eisenhower will begin taking a few steps. He said the physicians hoped to put him on the scales in a day or two to check on his weight.

Starting the week after next, White said, the chief executive is expected to be walking about much more on one level, and strolling on the hospital sundeck.

"In all probablity, at the end of two weeks from now," he said, "he will be quite mobile and able to dispense with his wheelchair most of the time."

The President's own desires, White said, will govern the amount of walking he does. There may be times, he said, when the President will prefer to sit or to rest in bed.

Then, in the third week from now, he said, it is hoped that, "We may be able to try him out on a few stairs."

The doctor emphasized that it is desirable for the chief executive to exercise his chest and leg and arm muscles even when he isn't walking because it improves the muscle tone and helps the circulatory system.

Speaking of that third week ahead, the seventh since the heart attack, White said that, "It well may be that toward the middle or end of the seventh week that the President may decide he would like to return to Gettysburg."

White said that there was a possibility Eisenhower might stay for a while at Gettysburg and then go somewhere else but no decision has been made on that. He said that, "We have talked of other places."

Bishop Cites 'Need' Of Rewriting Bible

BRISTOL, England, Oct. 22 (AP)—The Anglican bishop of Bristol suggested today the Bible be rewritten in space fiction style to get children interested.

The bishop, Dr. F. A. Cockin, told a Sunday school teachers conference children "are no longer interested in old things like the Bible."

"If we were to rewrite the Testaments in terms of space fiction," he said, "the church might achieve much."

The Athenians, Spartans and Corinthians played a ball-kicking game 2,500 years ago, probably the forerunner of modern football, and the Greeks had a name for it—"episkuros."

Monroyan's Leg Is Broken When Pinned By Autos

W. R. Jackson, 50, 3811 Lee Avenue, suffered a broken leg about 8 p.m. Saturday when he was pinned between bumpers of a car and a cookie delivery truck in the 4200 block of Pippin Street.

According to police, Jackson had just delivered cookies to a small store and was attempting to close the rear door of his truck when he was struck by a car.

A police investigator said the car, with automatic drive transmission, was driven by Sherman Douglas, Sr., Negro, who had parked behind Jackson's truck. As Douglas leaned over to open the right door to let someone out, his foot slipped from the brake to the gas accelerator and the car lurched forward, pinning Jackson between the bumpers.

Jackson's leg received a simple fracture and there were lacerations on other parts of his body, police said.

"A country boy, he was elected to the Legislature from the City where it was custom that only New Orleanians break into that magic political picture. And, strangely enough, the City elected this outsider as its mayor and the saga of his great success is now national and world lore.

"He is a Catholic — as if that made a difference — but it has up to now, and thus has established a queer notion that a Catholic cannot be elected governor.

"We can't comprehend the bigoted idea that only a Protestant must hold the office of governor of Louisiana.

"I think we have grown too big for this bosh. A man is a man and right is right and wrong is wrong, no matter where a man resides, or what might be his religious belief.

"Claude Kirkpatrick, our representative and a firm Baptist was selected by Morrison as his state campaign manager. Chep sought him out for the job and, after weighing the whole matter, Kirkpatrick accepted this highly important job of electing Chep. It also shows that religions and sects unite when they see the need of picking a strong man to become the state executive, regardless of what church he may belong to.

"Then too, Morrison will conduct a clean campaign. The old time Louisiana mud-slinging style on the hustings will be gone.

"The Jennings News has never before endorsed a gubernatorial candidate. This time we believe it is a crusade, our one great opportunity, to elect one of the most outstanding men ever to rise in this state as our governor."

tino, who met Dulles in Washington last spring, was at the airport to greet him. So was American Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce, who bestowed a kiss on Mrs. Dulles.

Dulles told Martino he "was glad to renew the personal contact which I have regularly enjoyed with the leaders of your nation."

Dulles said Italy is "one of the great powers," and one with which the United States desires to maintain the closets relations.

"Because of your deep concern with European, and indeed, world affairs, I consider it important to consult with your government prior to the forthcoming meeting in Geneva," Dulles told Martino.

He added that the United States "attaches high importance to relations with Italy which will permit our people always to continue in friendship."

In response, Martino said "I am truly very happy to offer greetings to the secretary of state of a great friendly nation. I want to take this occasion, certain that I am speaking for the entire Italian people, to give my best wishes to President Eisenhower."

ly was very anxious to get off the hook with the angry senators. The views of all three were summed by Chavez in Madrid.

"I didn't ask for any plane," he said crisply. "I didn't ask the air corps for a doggone thing. If the air corps is sending some planes to Europe, it is going to do so on its own and not on my request."

In its statement, the Air Force admitted it knew the senators had to leave for the United States on Oct. 23 and Nov. 3 and that it failed to arrange to have planes in the area on time.

When the senators couldn't change their departure dates, the Air Force said, it was then forced to hurry special equipment over to Europe from this country. It indicated the senators had nothing to do with the decision.

"These particular senators had informed the Air Force in advance that they would have to be back by certain dates," the department said. "They outlined their transportation requirements and expected to be taken care of as is customary when such trips have been authorized by the chairman of the standing committees."

One four-engined transport, which flew across the Atlantic empty, is now in Madrid and scheduled to return Sunday with Stennis, McClellan, and their wives. Another four-engine transport is scheduled to fly across the Atlantic to pick up Chavez and his wife in Paris on Nov. 3.

The Air Force chronology showed that the Defense Department escort officer accompanying the senators had been advised before the senators left this country on Sept. 20 that Stennis and McClellan desired to leave from Madrid on Oct. 23 and Chavez from Paris on Nov. 3. Originally, McClellan and Stennis had said they wished to depart from Madrid on Oct. 25.

Saar Frontier

posing to "Europeanize" the territory have been counted, all incoming traffic from West Germany, France and Luxembourg will be stopped, with certain exceptions, to insure that 664,000 Saarlanders can vote freely.

The voters, steamed up by three months of hot campaigning, will simply mark an X beside yes or no. If the majority vote yes, the Saar will become a supranational state, smaller than Rhode Island and with a population of between 900,000 and a million, in the industrial heart of Europe.

The coal-rich steel-producing valley would continue its close economic ties, including a customs union, with France; and control its own internal government. Foreign relations and defense would pass from France to a neutral high commissioner appointed by the seven-nation Western European Union.

If the voters say no, the status quo will continue. That means political autonomy, but still a close economic tieup with France. It also would mean a customs and currency barrier between the German-speaking Saarlanders and other Germans living just across the eastern frontier.

On the eve of the crucial vote that may give a new boost to European unity—or perhaps bury it—pro-Europeanization and pro-German forces fired off final charges and countercharges. Each side called the other "traitors."

tutions and youth and recreation activities.

Preaus told the crowd "there is no need for any new taxes."

New Orleans city councilman A. Brown Moore, candidate for lieutenant governor on Preaus' ticket, said he favored strong local government.

Moore said local officials "shouldn't have to go to Baton Rouge with their hats in their hands" for money.

He said law enforcement could best be accomplished on the local level.

"If it's not done, then it's time for Baton Rouge to step in," Moore said.

DENVER, Oct. 22 (AP)—President Eisenhower today chose Frank M. Johnson Jr. of Jasper, Ala., to be U.S. district judge for the Middle District of Alabama. He now is U.S. attorney for that district.

Johnson, a Republican, succeeds Judge Charles B. Kennamer, who died recently.

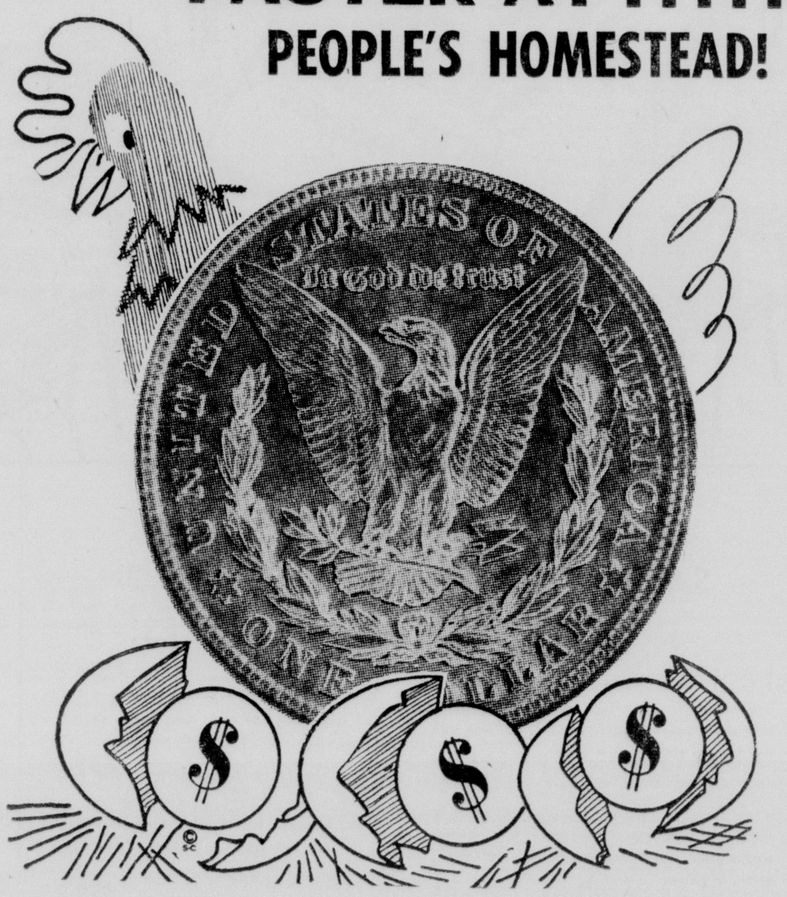

Johnson, who will be 37 Oct. 30, is a native of Winston County, Ala.

Louisiana — Assimilation In Reverse

French Spirit, Charm Of Old Spain, European Charm Preserved In State

BATON ROUGE, Oct. 22 (AP) — French spirit, the charm of Old Spain, Hungarian cooking and music—all the flavor of the old world can be found in Louisiana.

Dr. Alvin L. Bertrand, Louisiana State University rural sociologist, says in some cases the process of assimilation has worked in reverse in Louisiana.

For example, he explains, the French settlers of the southern part of the state not only preserved their language and customs but assimilated people of German, Irish, Spanish, Italian and Anglo-Saxon origins.

Dr. Bertrand has traced and mapped the winding line that divides Louisiana into two major cultural areas—French Catholic south Louisiana and Anglo-Saxon north Louisiana.

And he has defined Louisiana's major "cultural islands," tiny settlements where the ways of the old world still live.

His four years of research have been published in "The Many Louisianas," a bulletin published by the LSU Agricultural Experiment Station.

Dr. Bertrand notes that while French descended south Louisianians grow rice, sugar cane and truck gardens, trap hunt and fish, north Louisiana farmers grow cotton and raise beef cattle.

And although nearly half the state's population is of French descent, many other nationalities are represented in the state.

In Allen Parish, a tribe of Koasati Indians—180 strong—earns part of its living by weaving baskets out of pine needles and raffia, a trade handed down from their ancestors.

The Koasati Indians are the only tribe in Louisiana retaining their own language. Some speak no English.

In Plaquemines Parish, the parish by the Mississippi River mouth, live Slavonian citrus growers and fishermen who still speak the language of their mother country.

Dr. Bertrand says before World War II young Slavonin-Americans often traveled to Yugoslavia for their brides, but since the war they are becoming increasingly Americanized.

Hungarians - Americans settled around Albany, in southeast Louisiana, and many old world customs linger on, the professor says.

On Delacroix Island in St. Bernard Parish, Dr. Betrand adds, Spanish - American fur trappers speak Spanish in a "surprisingly pure form." But there is a tendency to move away from the settlement, and its characteristics "will be lost in another generation," he says.

There are still remnants of the once great Chettimanchi indian tribe living on Louisiana's only Indian reservation in St. Mary Parish.

Dr. Bertrand found a handful of descendants, of the once mighty Choctaw Indians living in St. Tammany and LaSalle parishes.

He predicts the customs of these two Indian tribes, and other "Cultural islands," sooner or later will be engulfed by modern civilization.

Dark Horse?

Will Rogers, Jr., Boosted By Town For Presidency

SAYRE, Okla., Oct. 22—UP — Will Rogers Jr., the "favorite son" presidential candidate of citiens of this western Oklahoma city, will be feted Nov. 10 with a "big celebration" and a special U. S. 66 caravan extending from Amarillo, Tex., to Oklahoma City, it was announced Saturday.

W. J. Bacon, Sayre publisher and spokesman for the Rogers supporters, said the California son of the late Oklahoma humorist will fly to Amarillo and be escorted by caravan to Sayre.

Following festivities at Sayre, the caravan will move along U. S. 66—"the Will Rogers highway" — to Oklahoma City, where Rogers will participate Nov. 11 in the dedication ceremonies of the National Cowboy Hall of Fame site. Bacon said Sayre citiens are not giving up on running Rogers, a former congressman, for President next year.

"I talked to him last night, and he denied wanting to run for President several times," Bacon said. "But each time his denial seemed to be weaker."

Bacon said former Gov. Roy J. Turner, a leader in the hall of fame organization, will come to Sayre to greet Rogers and accompany the caravan to Oklahoma City.

Editors of newspapers along the route will be invited to participate in the event.

Bacon said details of the welcoming celebration at Sayre have not been worked out but "it will be a big celebration."

75 Texas Towns Set Celebrations For UN Tribute

TYLER, Tex., ct. 22—UP—More than 75 Texas communities are planning to participate in observance of United Nations day Monday, Watson W. Wise, Tyler oilman and state chairman for community observances, said Saturday.

One of the first special observances in Texas will be at 5 p. m. Sunday when vesper services closing the annual Texas rose festival are held. They will be directed by women's organizations of Tyler.

Observances marking the 10th anniversary of the world organization for international cooperation will be held throughout the week.

Monday has been proclaimed UN day by President Eisenhower and Gov. Allan Shivers.

Wise, attended the UN Paris conference in 1952, and was associated with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Western Europe.

In such cities as Houston, Dallas, San Antonio and Corpus Christi where permanent UN local committees function, the pace will be set Monday by a review of the 10-year UN factual record through civic club groups, schools and churches.

"A review of the factual date available on what the UN is today and that it has accomplished in 10 years will fulfill President Eisenhower's declaration concerning UN day, 1955," Wise said.

astic introduction to Homecoming Saturday, which opened with a caravan of floats and cars moving through the business sections of the Twin Cities. The Student Council awarded cash prizes to the floats judged first and second best and the car recognized by off-campus judges as the most attractive. Awards went to the geology float, which was given first place, and the Baptist Student Union float which carried second honors. The NL Club car won the Council award.

Alumni met on the lawn of the President's home for a luncheon and business meeting, after which coffee was served in the Home Management House.

Master of ceremonies of pre-game and half-time activities was Floy Fominaya of the college music faculty. Pre-game specialties opened with a parade of winning floats and car. Rev. Earl T. Ogg, pastor of College Place Baptist Church, gave the invocation, and Emmett J. Foster, general chairman of Homecoming, welcomed alumni and friends of the college. Harry Liner, immediate past president of the Northeast Alumni Association responded.

The half-time show proved a galaxy of color and beauty, highlighted by the coronation ceremony. Setting the stage for the crowning of Queen Nelda Smothers, the college band, Gold Jackets and Cadet Corps assembled on the field. As the band played, the ROTC commanded by Cadet Maj. John Taylor, moved into position to face the stadium. Coming forward was the color guard comprising Cadets Robert Ewing III of Monroe, Kenneth Brown, Joseph H. Andrews and James H. Davis, all of Monroe. Against this background, the crowd of spectators sang the national anthem.

Then the cadet battalion moved to provide an aisle formed by the Gold Jackets, who waived maroon and gold streamers as members of the royal court were escorted to the specially designed platform, painted in Northeast colors.

The band, directed by Joe Barry Mullins, played melodic and popular numbers during the majestic procession. Royal maids and their escorts included: Sonya Franks of Fairbanks and Tony Renfro of Monroe; Betty LaBrode of Winnsboro and Mose Loftin of Monroe; Ann McClure of Tallulah and Curtis Nichols of Monroe; Mary Ann Pitarro of Monroe and Jerry Sugar of Monroe. Maid of Honor Barbara Bradley, Monroe, was escorted by Sam Rubin, Jr., Monroe; and Queen Nelda Smothers, Monroe, was accompanied by Dr. W. L. Bendel, president of the Northeast Quarterback Club. All other escorts were organization members.

Completing the majestic event was the crowning of Queen Nelda by H. H. Brinsmade of the Monroe News-Star editorial staff and author of the column, "Jes' Ramblin'." The queen was wearing a turquoise tailleur with white accessories, and she carried mammoth gold chrysanthemums, tied with gold and maroon satin ribbon. Her crown was of gold lace studded with rhinestones.

A fireworks display as a salute to the Northeast alumni concluded the half-time specialties.

Homecoming ended with the semi-formal dance in the college gymnasium.

Contestant Wins $50,000 On Television Quiz; May Run Total Up To $100,000

NEW YORK, Oct. 22—UP—Barney Arluck, a New York police detective, won $50,000 on a television quiz show Saturday night. It was the second largest cash prize in TV history.

Arluck won the $50,000 on the NBC show, "The Big Surprise." He can go on to win $100,000 next week.

The detective, who is also a lawyer, answered a tricky question about the right of lawyers to challenge prospective jurors in murder trials.

In his second try for the $50,000, the 43-year-old Arluck correctly answered the following two-part question, "what three kinds of challenges of prospective jurors are used in New York state? One of these categories has eight specific provisions, what are five of them?"

With no hesitation Arluck said the three kinds of challenges were peremptory, actual and for implied bias.

After a moment of rest to ease the tension, the detective-lawyer then gave these five specific provisions for disqualification of a prospective juror: Where he is a member of the family of the person accusing the defendant; where there is an employer-employee relationship; where the defendant was the adverse party in a civil action; where the prospective juror was on the grand jury which returned the indictment; and where the prospective juror had any prejudice against capital punishment.

Arluck keeps the $50,000 even if he misses in his bid for the $100,000 jackpot next week.

The detective explained after the show that he was able to answer the questions rapidly because he had just taken his test for lieutenant and so he was really boned up for his question. He said that he is going to use his winnings to buy a house in Brooklyn. The government takes about half of the $50,000 in taxes.

Arluck can top the current record holder for winning television jackpots, Marine Capt. Richard McCutchen, who won $64,000 on Sept. 13, if he wins next week.

Louisiana — Assimilation In Reverse

French Spirit, Charm Of Old Spain, European Charm Preserved In State

BATON ROUGE, Oct. 22 (AP) — French spirit, the charm of Old Spain, Hungarian cooking and music—all the flavor of the old world can be found in Louisiana.

Dr. Alvin L. Bertrant, Louisiana State University rural sociologist, says in some cases the process of assimilation has worked in reverse in Louisiana.

For example, he explains, the French settlers of the southern part of the state not only preserved their language and customs but assimilated people of German, Irish, Spanish, Italian and Anglo-Saxon origins.

Dr. Bertrand has traced and mapped the winding line that divides Louisiana into two major cultural areas—French Catholic south Louisiana and Anglo-Saxon north Louisiana.

And he has defined Louisiana's major "cultural islands," tiny settlements where the ways of the old world still live.

His four years of research have been published in "The Many Louisianas," a bulletin published by the LSU Agricultural Experiment Station.

Dr. Bertrand notes that while French descended south Louisianians grow rice, sugar cane and truck gardens, trap, hunt and fish, north Louisiana farmers grow cotton and raise beef cattle.

And although nearly half the state's population is of French descent, many other nationalities are represented in the state.

In Allen Parish, a tribe of Koasati Indians—180 strong—earns part of its living by weaving baskets out of pine needles and raffia, a trade handed down from their ancestors.

The Koasati Indians are the only tribe in Louisiana retaining their own language. Some speak no English.

In Plaquemines Parish, the parish by the Mississippi River mouth, live Slavonian citrus growers and fishermen who still speak the language of their mother country.

Dr. Bertrand says before World War II young Slavonin-Americans often traveled to Yugoslavia for their brides, but since the war they are becoming increasingly Americanized.

Hungarians - Americans settled around Albany, in southeast Louisiana, and many old world customs linger on, the professor says.

On Delacroix Island in St. Bernard Parish, Dr. Betrand adds, Spanish - American fur trappers speak Spanish in a "surprisingly pure form." But there is a tendency to move away from the settlement, and its characteristics "will be lost in another generation," he says.

There are still remnants of the once great Chettimanchi indian tribe living on Louisiana's only Indian reservation in St. Mary Parish.

Dr. Bertrand found a handful of descendants, of the once mighty Choctaw Indians living in St. Tammany and LaSalle parishes.

He predicts the customs of these two Indian tribes, and other "Cultural islands," sooner or later will be engulfed by modern civilization.

75 Texas Towns Set Celebrations For UN Tribute

TYLER, Tex., ct. 22—UP—More than 75 Texas communities are planning to participate in observance of United Nations day Monday, Watson W. Wise, Tyler oilman and state chairman for community observances, said Saturday.

One of the first special observances in Texas will be at 5 p. m. Sunday when vesper services closing the annual Texas rose festival are held. They will be directed by women's organizations of Tyler.

Observances marking the 10th anniversary of the world organization for international cooperation will be held throughout the week.

Monday has been proclaimed UN day by President Eisenhower and Gov. Allan Shivers.

Wise, attended the UN Paris conference in 1952, and was associated with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Western Europe.

In such cities as Houston, Dallas, San Antonio and Corpus Christi where permanent UN local committees function, the pace will be set Monday by a review of the 10-year UN factual record through civic club groups, schools and churches.

"A review of the factual date available on what the UN is today and that it has accomplished in 10 years will fulfill President Eisenhower's declaration concerning UN day, 1955," Wise said.

Will Rogers, Jr., Boosted By Town For Presidency

SAYRE, Okla., Oct. 22—UP — Will Rogers Jr., the "favorite son" presidential candidate of citiens of this western Oklahoma city, will be feted Nov. 10 with a "big celebration" and a special U. S. 66 caravan extending from Amarillo, Tex., to Oklahoma City, it was announced Saturday.

W. J. Bacon, Sayre publisher and spokesman for the Rogers supporters, said the California son of the late Oklahoma humorist will fly to Amarillo and be escorted by caravan to Sayre.

Following festivities at Sayre, the caravan will move along U. S. 66—"the Will Rogers highway" — to Oklahoma City, where Rogers will participate Nov. 11 in the dedication ceremonies of the National Cowboy Hall of Fame site. Bacon said Sayre citiens are not giving up on running Rogers, a former congressman, for President next year.

"I talked to him last night, and he denied wanting to run for President several times," Bacon said. "But each time his denial seemed to be weaker."

Bacon said former Gov. Roy J. Turner, a leader in the hall of fame organization, will come to Sayre to greet Rogers and accompany the caravan to Oklahoma City.

Editors of newspapers along the route will be invited to participate in the event.

Bacon said details of the welcoming celebration at Sayre have not been worked out but "it will be a big celebration."

astic introduction to Homecoming Saturday, which opened with a caravan of floats and cars moving through the business sections of the Twin Cities. The Student Council awarded cash prizes to the floats judged first and second best and the car recognized by off-campus judges as the most attractive. Awards went to the geology float, which was given first place, and the Baptist Student Union float which carried second honors. The NL Club car won the Council award.

Alumni met on the lawn of the President's home for a luncheon and business meeting, after which coffee was served in the Home Management House.

Master of ceremonies of pregame and half-time activities was Eloy Fominaya of the college music faculty. Pre-game specialties opened with a parade of winning floats and car. Rev. Earl T. Ogg, pastor of College Place Baptist Church, gave the invocation, and Emmett J. Foster, general chairman of Homecoming, welcomed alumni and friends of the college. Harry Liner, immediate past president of the Northeast Alumni Association responded.

The half-time show proved a galaxy of color and beauty, highlighted by the coronation ceremony. Setting the stage for the crowning of Queen Nelda Smothers, the college band, Gold Jackets and Cadet Corps assembled on the field. As the band played, the ROTC commanded by Cadet Maj. John Taylor, moved into position to face the stadium. Coming forward was the color guard comprising Cadets Robert Ewing III of Monroe, Kenneth Brown, Joseph H. Andrews and James H. Davis, all of Monroe. Against this background, the crowd of spectators sang the national anthem.

Then the cadet battalion moved to provide an aisle formed by the Gold Jackets, who waived maroon and gold streamers as members of the royal court were escorted to the specially designed platform, painted in Northeast colors.

The band, directed by Joe Barry Mullins, played melodic and popular numbers during the majestic procession. Royal maids and their escorts included: Sonya Franks of Fairbanks and Tony Renfro of Monroe; Betty LaBrode of Winnsboro and Mose Loftin of Monroe; Ann McClure of Tallulah and Curtis Nichols of Monroe, Mary Ann Pitarro of Monroe and Jerry Sugar of Monroe. Maid of Honor Barbara Bradley, Monroe, was escorted by Sam Rubin, Jr., Monroe; and Queen Nelda Smothers, Monroe, was accompanied by Dr. W. L. Bendel, president of the Northeast Quarterback Club. All other escorts were organization members.

Completing the majestic event was the crowning of Queen Nelda by H. H. Brinsmade of the Monroe News-Star editorial staff and author of the column, "Jes' Ramblin'." The queen was wearing a turquoise tailleur with white accessories, and she carried mammoth gold chrysanthemums, tied with gold and maroon satin ribbon. Her crown was of gold lace studded with rhinestones.

A fireworks display as a salute to the Northeast alumni concluded the half-time specialties.

Homecoming ended with the semi-formal dance in the college gymnasium.

He has been named Work Unit Conservationist of the Rayville Work Unit, which serves Richland Parish in soil and water conservation work.

Contestant Wins $50,000 On Television Quiz; May Run Total Up To $100,000

NEW YORK, Oct. 22—UP—Barney Arluck, a New York police detective, won $50,000 on a television quiz show Saturday night. It was the second largest cash prize in TV history.

Arluck won the $50,000 on the NBC show, "The Big Surprise." He can go on to win $100,000 next week.

The detective, who is also a lawyer, answered a tricky question about the right of lawyers to challenge prospective jurors in murder trials.

In his second try for the $50,000, the 43-year-old Arluck correctly answered the following two-part question, "what three kinds of challenges of prospective jurors are used in New York state? One of these categories has eight specific provisions, what are five of them?"

With no hesitation Arluck said the three kinds of challenges were peremptory, actual and for implied bias.

After a moment of rest to ease the tension, the detective-lawyer then gave these five specific provisions for disqualification of a prospective juror: Where he is a member of the family of the person accusing the defendant; where there is an employer-employee relationship; where the defendant was the adverse party in a civil action; where the prospective juror was on the grand jury which returned the indictment; and where the prospective juror had any prejudice against capital punishment.

Arluck keeps the $50,000 even if he misses in his bid for the $100,000 jackpot next week.

The detective explained after the show that he was able to answer the questions rapidly because he had just taken his test for lieutenant and so he was really boned up for his question. He said that he is going to use his winnings to buy a house in Brooklyn. The government takes about half of the $50,000 in taxes.

Arluck can top the current record holder for winning television jackpots, Marine Capt. Richard McCutchen, who won $64,000 on Sept. 13, if he wins next week.

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 22—UP—Visiting newsmen and Gov. Robert F. Kennon pushed through the turnstiles Saturday for the 50th annual Louisiana state fair exposition.

They were sharing the honor spot in the opening day, designated both as governor's day and press day. The fair runs through Oct. 30.

The newsmen were to be guests of the fair at the Louisiana Tech-Northwestern State College football game tonight and at the Royal American Shows on the midway.

Three livestock auctions are scheduled during the fair. Breed swine will go on the block at 7 p.m. Tuesday. The Southwest regional Jersen breeders sale is 1 p. m. Thursday and the junior exhibitors auction of beef cattle, sheep and swine, 1 p.m. Friday.

Division judging dates are:

U. S. May Balk At Renewing Its Wheat Accords

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 —UP — Officials said Saturday the United States may balk at renewing the controversial international wheat agreement if Britain continues to boycott it.

They made the statement as the State Department named a top-flight eight-man delegation to represent this country at next week's Geneva conference on renewal of the 48-nation pact which expires next August.

Britain refused to join in the agreement when it came up for renewal three years ago because of differences over price formula. There have been rumors, however, that it will sign up at the conference opening next week.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson has hinted that if it does not, the United States probably will pull out of the agreement entirely.

He said recently that his personal inclination would be to withdraw if Britain doesn't participate since Britain is the world's largest wheat importer. With Britain out of the pact, only 30 per cent of world wheat trade has been handled under the agreement.

The international wheat agreement was drawn up among the world's major wheat exporters and importers in an effort to maintain a stable world market in the commodity. It provides for an elaborate system of country-by-country quotas and maintains both minimum and maximum prices.

The Geneva meeting will get underway next Wednesday. The U. S. delegation will be headed by Marvin L. McLain of the Agriculture Department's grain division.

Morrison Gives Support To State Attorney General

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 22—UP—Atty. Gen. Fred S. LeBlanc Saturday was endorsed for reelection by New Orleans Mayor deLesseps Morrison and Lt. Gov. C. E. (Cap Barham.

Morrison, candidate for governor in the Jan. 17 Democratic primary, praised LeBlanc's efforts in the state's fight to retain the submerged oil-rich lands off the Louisiana coast.

The New Orleans mayor said "I think that it would be extremely unwise for our people, in effect, to hire another lawyer to represent them in such important law suits."

ATTEND DINNER—Formally gowned and wearing tiaras, Britain's Queen Mother Elizabeth, left, and Princess Margaret enter Lambeth Palace in London, residence of the Archbishop of Canterbury, to attend a dinner party. Reports say Margaret and the Archbishop conversed privately for 15 minutes. The Archbishop is reportedly opposed to possibility of marriage between Margaret and Capt. Peter Townsend, a divorced person.

Researchers Predicting 'Earth-Shaking Discovery' By Massive Heart Studies

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 22 —UP— Hundreds of researchers in heart disease all over the world are together that eventually will result putting little pieces of information in a "world - shaking discovery," according to Dr. Charles P. Marple of New York, medical director of the American Heart Association.

Marple said the heart association and its some 60 affiliates and 300 chapters are spending more than $3 million a year on research into the nature and causes of heart disease.

"We take the brains and the materials and let them go," he said. "There is an aggregation of facts that eventually will come up with a world-shaking discovery."

Marple was among some 2,500 specialists and physicians here to attend the annual scientific and business sessions of the association.

Interest in the conference was heightened by the expected arrival tomorrow of Dr. Paul D. White of Boston, Mass., famed heart specialist who is presently in Denver, Colo., attending President Eisenhower. Dr. White is scheduled to take part in a panel discussion tomorrow afternoon on "rehabilitation and Heart Disease."

The presentation of scientific papers began Saturday and will continue through Monday, followed by closed business sessions through Friday.

Dr. Clarence E. de la Chappelle of New York and Dr. Robert L. King of Seattle, Wash., served as co-chairman today during the presentation of papers on clinical cardiology and cardiovascular surgery.

Dr. George A. Perera of New York delivered the Lewis A. Conner Memorial lecture this afternoon. The lecture was followed by the presentation of the Albert Lasker award to Dr. Carl J. Wiggers of Cleveland, Ohio.

The association's annual dinner is scheduled tomorrow, at which the Howard S. Blakeslee awards will be presented.

Dr. Irvine H. Page of Cleveland will succeed Dr. Cowles Andrus of Baltimore, Md., as president of the association Wednesday.

Drs. Marple and Wiggers, a noted physiologist, agreed that a "life of moderation" is the best method of preventing a heart attack. However, Marple said that "some people mistreat themselves something awful and get by with it. They're just made of sterner stuff."

Marple said the national organization has 51 full-time research investigators and contributes to about 100 other research projects yearly with grants-in-aid. Of the 51 research men supported by the AHA, 48 of them are "established investigators" who are obligated to spend 75 per cent of their time on research projects.

The other three researchers, he said, are "career investigators," supported in full-time jobs for the rest of their lives by the AHA. The association sets aside $25,000 a year for each investigator for salary and laboratory. The three are Dr. Victor Lorber of the University of Minnesota, and Drs. John Pappenheimer and Albert Coons, both of Harvard University.

Marple said that in the last national drive about $14 million was collected of which 75 per cent stayed in the area in which it was collected. Of the 25 per cent received by the national organization, he said, half must be spent on research projects. The money retained by local organizations is spent on research and local expenses.

Coal Purchases By U. S. May Be Campaign Issue

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 —UP— The administration's failure to make good on a promise to buy big quantities of U.S. coal for the foreign aid program loomed Saturday as a hot political issue in a dozen states.

And the resentment of coal area congressmen raised a new threat to the administration's entire foreign aid program.

Democrats charge the administration with a "double cross" on an announced plan to help hard-pressed coal areas by buying coal for the foreign aid program.

Coal area Republicans, on whom the promise has boomeranged, are peppering the administration with vigorous protests.

When Harold E. Stassen was foreign aid chief he said in September, 1954, that his agency would immediately start a $150 million emergency program to buy 10 million tons of coal from distressed areas. He made the promise after a visit with President Eisenhower at Denver, Colo., just a few weeks before the congressional elections in which several coal area seats were in doubt.

But John B. Hollister, head of the International Cooperation Administration which has since replaced Stassen's agency, revealed in a letter to Rep. Robert H. Mollohan (D-W. Va.) last month that the Stassen plan had been abandoned. Mollohan said only 1.13 million tons of coal had been purchased.

A portrait of a president is on bills of most denominations but the $10,000 bill has a portrait of Salon P. Chase, secretary of the treasury under Lincoln.

Southwide Survey Reveals:

Negro Teachers Unconcerned About Loss Of Jobs Under Desegregation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Negro teachers will lose some jobs when public school integration becomes an actuality, and the Negro teacher's prestige and higher social position may suffer somewhat.

But an Associated Press survey in the 12 states where separation of the races has been traditional indicated Saturday that these possibilities have aroused no great fear among the more than 75,000 Negro teachers.

Nor have they sparked among this group any substantial opposition to changing the old pattern of separate classrooms for white and Negro students.

Ordered by the U.S. Supreme Court last May, the movement toward integration is going forward more or less in the anticipated pattern—slowly, but almost certainly, surely. And it was prodded along a bit by two court decisions this week.

They involved admission of Negroes to white colleges in Florida and Tennessee, but they may have set a pattern for public school integration in those states. Both delayed admission of Negroes to the institutions, but both decreed it must be done sooner or later.

Integration probably poses more problems for the Negro teachers as a group than any of the other parties involved in the issue. Some Negroes were reluctant to comment, but many others spoke minds freely, however asking not to be quoted by name. Some spokesmen for organized groups were willing to be quoted.

In all but two of the states, Kentucky and Oklahoma, the number of Negro teachers has been increasing steadily. And the salary schedules in all states, if not equal, are nearly on par with those for white teachers with the same training and experience.

In at least one state, Virginia, the average pay for Negro teachers is higher than that for white teachers because of the long tenure of Negroes and percentagewise, higher qualifications.

Foes of integration have frequently asserted that Negro teachers would suffer through loss of jobs in integrated schools. And that has created some concern among the Negro teachers.

But J.K. Haynes of Baton Rouge, La., generally summed up the thinking when he said Louisiana Negro teachers realize that "In any great social change, someone is likely to lose his job."

And an Arkansas Negro school administrator commented, "The qualified teachers will survive; those who are not qualified should not survive. In my school, we have 24 teachers and 19 of them have master's degrees. There will always be a place in any school system for these people."

The Texas Colored Teachers State Assn. has taken a position in favor of integration, and Secretary Leslie J. White said, "although we may suffer some economic loss in initial phases of the desegregation process, the ultimate gains that will come from elimination of second-class citizenship should be our primary concern."

Also expecting loss "of a few jobs here and there, perhaps wholesale in some places," is William L. Green, secretary of the North Carolina Teachers Assn. But he added, "Most of us know it is a calculated risk that we have to take for the sake of the next generation."

Two other factors figure in the Negroes' thinking along that line. One is the shortage of white teachers and belief that in most of the states for some time any integration will consist only of a few Negroes in a white school or a few white students in a Negro school.

Z. Alexander Looby of Nashville, Tenn., a spokesman for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, cited the teacher shortage in saying there should be plenty of teaching jobs for qualified Negroes.

A spokesman for Georgia's Negro teacher organization cited the state's school building program which is replacing practically all of the one and two-room Negro schools with consolidated schools. He said the Negroes are proud of the new schools and that pressure for integration will be much slower in areas which have good Negro schools.

While he was confident that integration will eventually come to Georgia "when we get over this 'hair pulling' stage," he said even then there will be community segregation and a minimum of mixing.

And he added, "Negroes don't specifically want to go to school with white people, but they want the right to, and once the barriers are down, there will be a minimum of mixing."

In the only two states reporting fewer Negro teachers, Oklahoma and Kentucky, school consolidation was given as the reason. Oklahoma reported some evidence that Negro teachers were not too happy over the situation. But in Kentucky, it was reported the decrease was small and that the problem is being studied by the state.

In Georgia, on the other hand, there is a massive consolidation of small Negro schools. But Dr. Robert Couzens, white director of the state's Negro education program, reports it is increasing the demand for teachers.

In addition to Oklahoma, the greatest concern among Negro teachers over the possible personal economic impact of integration was reported in Mississippi, South Carolina and Alabama.

The problem of Negroes teaching white children is another that has been raised in connection with integration.

The spokesman for the Georgia teachers said Negroes "do not want to teach white children, but there is no hesitancy about it." He conceded there might be some concern about the attitude of white parents toward Negro teachers for their children.

However, Executive Secretary Gilbert Porter of the Florida Negro teachers organization said it would be hard to believe that white parents who allow their children to be tended by Negro maids with little or no education would refuse to let them be taught by well-educated Negro teachers.

Reports from the various states indicate that the Negro teachers generally favor desegregation, but by and large not militantly so. "They have become interested spectators," as the Georgia teachers' spokesman put it.

Another factor entering the picture is the possibility that some of the states, notably Georgia and South Carolina, and possibly others might close their public schools if integration is ordered.

In South Carolina some Negro teachers are reported to be disturbed about what would happen to them if some private school arrangement was set up for white children, leaving the Negroes to their own devices.

There seems to be a possibility of such a development in Georgia. But the thinking in that state has been toward distributing state school money to pupils and thus continuing segregated schools on a private basis.

Louisiana also has taken legal steps to preserve segregation, but some integration already has been forced by court order at the college level. The Catholic archdiocese of New Orleans, which operates the state's largest single school system, said it sees no possibility of integrating parochial schools before September, 1956, and is studying the possibility of ending segregation in kindergarten and the first grade after that date.

Elsewhere, no substantial change in private school enrollment was reported which could be attributed to the segregation issue. And there were no reports of any new private schools being set up primarily for the purpose of offering segregated classes.

Angola Editor Says Prisoners On Theft Spree

ANGOLA, La. Oct. 22—UP—Old Wooden Ear, editor of the state prison's weekly newspaper, "The Angolite," charged today that thieves are running amuck in the prison.

"The proverbial fly in the new prison ointment at this time seems to be thieves," said Old Wooden Ear in an editorial.

"The characters to whom this refers are the rapscallions who purloin anything and everything not tied down, who will take a toothbrush or a pair of sox, seemingly just to keep in practice," the editor said.

He concluded that a few of the "honest" prisoners have "vowed to take direct action upon anyone caught prowling."

The Geneva meeting will get underway next Wednesday. The U. S. delegation will be headed by Marvin L. McLain of the Agriculture Department's grain division.

Morrison Gives Support To State Attorney General

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 22—UP—Atty. Gen. Fred S. LeBlanc Saturday was endorsed for reelection by New Orleans Mayor deLesseps Morrison and Lt. Gov. C. E. (Cap Barham.

Morrison, candidate for governor in the Jan. 17 Democratic primary, praised LeBlanc's efforts in the state's fight to retain the submerged oil-rich lands off the Louisiana coast.

The New Orleans mayor said "I think that it would be extremely unwise for our people, in effect, to hire another lawyer to represent them in such important law suits."

ATTEND DINNER—Formally gowned and wearing tiaras, Britain's Queen Mother Elizabeth, left, and Princess Margaret enter Lambeth Palace in London, residence of the Archbishop of Canterbury, to attend a dinner party. Reports say Margaret and the Archbishop conversed privately for 15 minutes. The Archbishop is reportedly opposed to possibility of marriage between Margaret and Capt. Peter Townsend, a divorced person.

Researchers Predicting 'Earth-Shaking Discovery' By Massive Heart Studies

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 22 —UP— Hundreds of researchers in heart disease all over the world are together that eventually will result putting little pieces of information in a "world - shaking discovery," according to Dr. Charles P. Marple of New York, medical director of the American Heart Association.

Marple said the heart association and its some 60 affiliates and 300 chapters are spending more than $3 million a year on research into the nature and causes of heart disease.

"We take the brains and the materials and let them go," he said. "There is an aggregation of facts that eventually will come up with a world-shaking discovery."

Marple was among some 2,500 specialists and physicians here to attend the annual scientific and business sessions of the association.

Interest in the conference was heightened by the expected arrival tomorrow of Dr. Paul D. White of Boston, Mass., famed heart specialist who is presently in Denver, Colo., attending President Eisenhower. Dr. White is scheduled to take part in a panel discussion tomorrow afternoon on "rehabilitation and Heart Disease."

The presentation of scientific papers began Saturday and will continue through Monday, followed by closed business sessions through Friday.

Dr. Clarence E. de la Chappelle of New York and Dr. Robert L. King of Seattle, Wash., served as co-chairman today during the presentation of papers on clinical cardiology and cardiovascular surgery.

Dr. George A. Perera of New York delivered the Lewis A. Conner Memorial lecture this afternoon. The lecture was followed by the presentation of the Albert Lasker award to Dr. Carl J. Wiggers of Cleveland, Ohio.

The association's annual dinner is scheduled tomorrow, at which the Howard S. Blakeslee awards will be presented.

Dr. Irvine H. Page of Cleveland will succeed Dr. Cowles Andrus of Baltimore, Md., as president of the association Wednesday.

Drs. Marple and Wiggers, a noted physiologist, agreed that a "life of moderation" is the best method of preventing a heart attack. However, Marple said that "some people mistreat themselves something awful and get by with it. They're just made of sterner stuff."

Marple said the national organization has 51 full-time research investigators and contributes to about 100 other research projects yearly with grants-in-aid. Of the 51 research men supported by the AHA, 48 of them are "established investigators" who are obligated to spend 75 per cent of their time on research projects.

The other three researchers, he said, are "career investigators," supported in full-time jobs for the rest of their lives by the AHA. The association sets aside $25,000 a year for each investigator for salary and laboratory. The three are Dr. Victor Lorber of the University of Minnesota, and Drs. John Pappenheimer and Albert Coons, both of Harvard University.

Marple said that in the last national drive about $14 million was collected of which 75 per cent stayed in the area in which it was collected. Of the 25 per cent received by the national organization, he said, half must be spent on research projects. The money retained by local organizations is spent on research and local expenses.

Coal Purchases By U. S. May Be Campaign Issue

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 —UP— The administration's failure to make good on a promise to buy big quantities of U.S. coal for the foreign aid program loomed Saturday as a hot political issue in a dozen states.

And the resentment of coal area congressmen raised a new threat to the administration's entire foreign aid program.

Democrats charge the administration with a "double cross" on an announced plan to help hard-pressed coal areas by buying coal for the foreign aid program.

Coal area Republicans, on whom the promise has boomeranged, are peppering the administration with vigorous protests.

When Harold E. Stassen was foreign aid chief he said in September, 1954, that his agency would immediately start a $150 million emergency program to buy 10 million tons of coal from distressed areas. He made the promise after a visit with President Eisenhower at Denver, Colo., just a few weeks before the congressional elections in which several coal area seats were in doubt.

But John B. Hollister, head of the International Cooperation Administration which has since replaced Stassen's agency, revealed in a letter to Rep. Robert H. Mollohan (D-W. Va.) last month that the Stassen plan had been abandoned. Mollohan said only 1.13 million tons of coal had been purchased.

A portrait of a president is on bills of most denominations but the $10,000 bill has a portrait of Salon P. Chase, secretary of the treasury under Lincoln.

Southwide Survey Reveals:

Negro Teachers Unconcerned About Loss Of Jobs Under Desegregation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Negro teachers will lose some jobs when public school integration becomes an actuality, and the Negro teacher's prestige and higher social position may suffer somewhat.

But an Associated Press survey in the 12 states where separation of the races has been traditional indicated Saturday that these possibilities have aroused no great fear among the more than 75,000 Negro teachers.

Nor have they sparked among this group any substantial opposition to changing the old pattern of separate classrooms for white and Negro students.

Ordered by the U.S. Supreme Court last May, the movement toward integration is going forward more or less in the anticipated pattern—slowly, but almost certainly, surely. And it was prodded along a bit by two court decisions this week.

They involved admission of Negroes to white colleges in Florida and Tennessee, but they may have set a pattern for public school integration in those states. Both delayed admission of Negroes to the institutions, but both decreed it must be done sooner or later.

Integration probably poses more problems for the Negro teachers as a group than any of the other parties involved in the issue. Some Negroes were reluctant to comment, but many others spoke minds freely, however asking not to be quoted by name. Some spokesmen for organized groups were willing to be quoted.

In all but two of the states, Kentucky and Oklahoma, the number of Negro teachers has been increasing steadily. And the salary schedules in all states, if not equal, are nearly on par with those for white teachers with the same training and experience.

In at least one state, Virginia, the average pay for Negro teachers is higher than that for white teachers because of the long tenure of Negroes and percentagewise, higher qualifications.

Foes of integration have frequently asserted that Negro teachers would suffer through loss of jobs in integrated schools. And that has created some concern among the Negro teachers.

But J.K. Haynes of Baton Rouge, La., generally summed up the thinking when he said Louisiana Negro teachers realize that "in any great social change, someone is likely to lose his job."

And an Arkansas Negro school administrator commented, "The qualified teachers will survive; those who are not qualified should not survive. In my school, we have 24 teachers and 19 of them have master's degrees. There will always be a place in any school system for these people."

The Texas Colored Teachers State Assn. has taken a position in favor of integration, and Secretary Leslie J. White said, "although we may suffer some economic loss in initial phases of the desegregation process, the ultimate gains that will come from elimination of second-class citizenship should be our primary concern."

Also expecting loss "of a few jobs here and there, perhaps wholesale in some places," is William L. Green, secretary of the North Carolina Teachers Assn. But he added, "Most of us know it is a calculated risk that we have to take for the sake of the next generation."

Two other factors figure in the Negroes' thinking along that line. One is the shortage of white teachers and belief that in most of the states for some time any integration will consist only of a few Negroes in a white school or a few white students in a Negro school.

Z. Alexander Looby of Nashville, Tenn., a spokesman for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, cited the teacher shortage in saying there should be plenty of teaching jobs for qualified Negroes.

A spokesman for Georgia's Negro teacher organization cited the state's school building program which is replacing practically all of the one and two-room Negro schools with consolidated schools. He said the Negroes are proud of the new schools and that pressure for integration will be much slower in areas which have good Negro schools.

While he was confident that integration will eventually come to Georgia "when we get over this 'hair pulling' stage," he said even then there will be community segregation and a minimum of mixing.

And he added, "Negroes don't specifically want to go to school with white people, but they want the right to, and once the barriers are down, there will be a minimum of mixing."

In the only two states reporting fewer Negro teachers, Oklahoma and Kentucky, school consolidation was given as the reason. Oklahoma reported some evidence that Negro teachers were not too happy over the situation. But in Kentucky, it was reported the decrease was small and that the problem is being studied by the state.

In Georgia, on the other hand, there is a massive consolidation of small Negro schools. But Dr. Robert Couzens, white director of the state's Negro education program, reports it is increasing the demand for teachers.

In addition to Oklahoma, the greatest concern among Negro teachers over the possible personal economic impact of integration was reported in Mississippi, South Carolina and Alabama.

The problem of Negroes teaching white children is another that has been raised in connection with integration.

The spokesman for the Georgia teachers said Negroes "do not want to teach white children, but there is no hesitancy about it." He conceded there might be some concern about the attitude of white parents toward Negro teachers for their children.

However, Executive Secretary Gilbert Porter of the Florida Negro teachers organization said it would be hard to believe that white parents who allow their children to be tended by Negro maids with little or no education would refuse to let them be taught by well-educated Negro teachers.

Reports from the various states indicate that the Negro teachers generally favor desegregation, but by and large not militantly so. "They have become interested spectators," as the Georgia teachers' spokesman put it.

Another factor entering the picture is the possibility that some of the states, notably Georgia and South Carolina, and possibly others might close their public schools if integration is ordered.

In South Carolina some Negro teachers are reported to be disturbed about what would happen to them if some private school arrangement was set up for white children, leaving the Negroes to their own devices.

There seems to be a possibility of such a development in Georgia. But the thinking in that state has been toward distributing state school money to pupils and thus continuing segregated schools on a private basis.

Louisiana also has taken legal steps to preserve segregation, but some integration already has been forced by court order at the college level. The Catholic archdiocese of New Orleans, which operates the state's largest single school system, said it sees no possibility of integrating parochial schools before September, 1956, and is studying the possibility of ending segregation in kindergarten and the first grade after that date.

Elsewhere, no substantial change in private school enrollment was reported which could be attributed to the segregation issue. And there were no reports of any new private schools being set up primarily for the purpose of offering segregated classes.

Angola Editor Says Prisoners On Theft Spree

ANGOLA, La. Oct. 22—UP—Old Wooden Ear, editor of the state prison's weekly newspaper, "The Angolite," charged today that thieves are running amuck in the prison.

"The proverbial fly in the new prison ointment at this time seems to be thieves," said Old Wooden Ear in an editorial.

"The characters to whom this refers are the rapscallions who purloin anything and everything not tied down, who will take a toothbrush or a pair of sox, seemingly just to keep in practice," the editor said.

He concluded that a few of the "honest" prisoners have "vowed to take direct action upon anyone caught prowling."

Cotton Futures Irregular, Active During Last Week

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP) — The cotton futures market charted an irregular course this week. Active futures contracts on the New York Cotton Exchange closed at prices ranging from $1.95 a bale higher to $2.05 lower for the five-day trading session.

Gains were largely confined to the nearer months, with declines concentrated among the more distant contracts.

Short covering and trade buying helped the nearer deliveries. Much of the buying reflected reports of continued heavy movement of cotton into the government loan.

Distant months were under pressure of profit-taking, hedge selling and liquidation. Very much on the depressing side were continued uncertainty over the loan rate outlook for 1956, and the continued lag in cotton exports.

The government's official cotton consumption report for September—closely in line with an earlier estimate by the New York Cotton Exchange Service Bureau — had little impact marketwise. At 875,000 bales, it compared with a consumption figure of 817,000 for September 1954.

This brought total use of the staple for the first two months of the new crop year to 1,592,000 bales, vs. 1,435,000 a year earlier.

However, the New York Cotton Exchange pointed out, this gain was more than offset by a sharp decline in exports. Total domestic distribution of cotton (mill consumption plus exports) was estimated by the exchange at 1,792,000 bales for the August-September period. This compared with 1,974,000 for the first two months of the previous season.

Navy To Aid Economy Drive

Valve On Dental Chairs To Save $160,000 In Taxes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (UP) — The Navy announced Saturday that it plans to save $160,000 a year by cutting the amount of water that goes down the drain in dental treatment.

It seems Navy dentists have been using 250 million gallons of water a year while excavating cavities in sailors from gobs to admirals.

This extravagance is going to stop, the Navy disclosed. All dental chairs are now being outfitted with a special valve which will control the water flowing into the cuspidor. From now on, the water will be used only when it's needed instead of running all the time.

This is expected to cut dental water consumption to a mere trickle of 4,653,500 gallons a year —a total saving of more than 200 million gallons.

The saving is expected to amount to $44 for every land-based dental unit and $260 for ship units. Total saving for the taxpayer—$160,000.

The new valve is the creation of Cmdr. William N. Gallarher of the naval dental school here. It will cost only about $12 to build.

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson has called on the armed services to cut expenses by about half a billion dollars to help balance the budget.

The Navy said the dental valve is one of its contributions to the campaign.

Buisness Boom Unabated; Spending At Record Level

By WALTER BREEDE JR.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—Business, spurred by record consumer spending, headed for new levels this week.

Things were on the upbeat almost everywhere you looked. Department store sales showed a thumping 8 per cent gain over year-ago levels, steel production—scheduled at 96.1 per cent of capacity—was up 31 per cent, the auto industry rolled out 1956 models in increasingly heavy volume, rail freight traffic was the highest in nearly three years.

Corporate earnings reported for the first nine months pointed to lush rewards for shareholders. Chalking up record profits were such blue chip firms as American Gas & Electric, Continental Can, Eastman Kodak, St. Regis Paper, and Union Carbide. The stock market regained a substantial portion of the ground it had lost in the stunned aftermath of President Eisenhower's heart attack.

In most lines, the outlook was for continued good business for almost as far ahead as you could see.

Top executives attending the annual Hot Springs, Va., meeting of the government's Business Advisory Council — known as the "elite corps" of U. S. industry — were polled by the Associated Press. The consensus: Business activity will continue on a high plateau well into 1956 or longer. Questioned about the recent "Blue Mondays' on Wall Street, one delegate said: "That's just speculation."

U. S. government experts said the sum total of all business activity — the gross national product — might thurst to an unprecedented high this year of nearly 400 billion dollars, if the rate of gain in the current quarter measures up to that of July-August-September.

GNP hit an estimated record annual pace of 392 billions in the third quarter, with private spending by Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public providing most of the drive.

Other boom signals: Average take-home pay of U. S. factory workers in September reached its highest level in history — $71.55 after taxes for a married worker with two children. Personal income of Americans during the third quarter rose to a record annual rate of 306 billions. Department stores, their profits running 50 per cent higher than a year ago, were told by the National Retail Dry Goods Assn. to expect another record Christmas season.

Labor Secretary Mitchell, looking ahead to 1956, predicted more jobs, fewer unemployed and possible manpower shortages. Wendell Barnes, chief of the government's Small Business Administration, declared: "Our economy is poised for a new surge forward of such magnitude that it is truly breathtaking."

Mingled with the jubilant shouts of the optimists, you could hear occasional complaints. Most of them concerned the tightening squeeze on credit. For some months now, the money managers of the Federal Reserve Board have been clamping down on the nation's money supply. Interest rates have moved up. Banks have become more finicky about making loans. Business firms and individual consumers have found it more difficult — and more expensive — to borrow money. The objective: To hold the boom in check, and curb inflation.

Hardest hit so far is the nation's 15-billion-dollar-a-year home building industry. Housing starts last month slumped to 113,000, down 8 per cent from August and the lowest in seven months. This week Thomas P. Coogan, head of a big New York mortgage clearing house and former president of the National Assn. of Home Builders, said it's time curbs on mortgage credit were relaxed. If they stay "as is," he said, and home buyers can't get the easy terms they want, "You'll see a drop of at least 10 per cent" next year in the number of new homes started.

Stock Market Vigorously Moves To Higher Level

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—The stock market got its recovery drive rolling vigorously this week with the strongest advance in nearly a year.

Four weeks ago President Eisenhower had a heart attack. The market tumbled but finally last week it touched bottom. Since then it has been advancing with growing vigor until now it has retraced 36 per cent of its fall.

The Associated Press average this week rose $1.20 and closed at $169.90.

Everyone is now eager to point to excellent earnings reports, better dividends, higher prices, rising sales, and expanding industries.

Monday's market was quiet. The next day a lot of improvement showed. The advance gained pace Wednesday and Thursday.

On Friday there was a pause but there was a modest advance.

The five most active issues this week were U. S. Steel up 2⅛, Curtiss-Wright up 1⅜, Westinghouse up 1⅛, General Motors up 1¼ and Sperry Rand up ⅞.

In the bond market U.S. governments posted advances for the week despite new evidences of tightened credit.

Cash Corn Drop Leads Futures To Lower Level

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (AP) —A drop in prices of cash corn to the lowest level since 1948 provided the main feature on the Board of Trade this week.

Corn futures also weakened, but they held up a lot better than the cash grain. As a result the cash article was selling at a severe discount under the December future as the week ended.

Other cereals declined with corn, although rye provided an exception by scoring modest gains.

Wheat closed the week 1⅞ to 4 cents lower, corn 1⅞-2½ lower, oats ⅛-⅝ lower, rye unchanged to 1¼ higher, soybeans ¼-2⅛ lower and lard 30 to 40 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Cotton Futures Irregular, Active During Last Week

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP) —The cotton futures market charted an irregular course this week. Active futures contracts on the New York Cotton Exchange closed at prices ranging from $1.95 a bale higher to $2.05 lower for the five-day trading session.

Gains were largely confined to the nearer months, with declines concentrated among the more distant contracts.

Short covering and trade buying helped the nearer deliveries. Much of the buying reflected reports of continued heavy movement of cotton into the government loan.

Distant months were under pressure of profit-taking, hedge selling and liquidation. Very much on the depressing side were continued uncertainity over the loan rate outlook for 1956, and the continued lag in cotton exports.

The government's official cotton consumption report for September —closely in line with an earlier estimate by the New York Cotton Exchange Service Bureau — had little impact marketwise. At 875,000 bales, it compared with a consumption figure of 817,000 for September 1954.

This brought total use of the staple for the first two months of the new crop year to 1,592,000 bales vs. 1,485,000 a year earlier.

However, the New York Cotton Exchange pointed out, this gain was more than offset by a sharp decline in exports. Total domestic distribution of cotton (mill consumption plus exports) was estimated by the exchange at 1,792,000 bales for the August-September period. This compared with 1,874,000 for the first two months of the previous season.

Valve On Dental Chairs To Save $160,000 In Taxes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 —UP— The Navy announced Saturday that it plans to save $160,000 a year by cutting the amount of water that goes down the drain in dental treatment.

It seems Navy dentists have been using 250 million gallons of water a year while excavating cavities in sailors from gobs to admirals.

This extravagance is going to stop, the Navy disclosed. All dental chairs are now being outfitted with a special valve which will control the water flowing into the cuspidor. From now on, the water will be used only when it's needed instead of running all the time.

This is expected to cut dental water consumption to a mere trickle of 4,653,500 gallons a year —a total saving of more than 200 million gallons.

The saving is expected to amount to $44 for every land-based dental unit and $260 for ship units. Total saving for the taxpayer—$160,000.

The new valve is the creation of Cmdr. William N. Gallagher of the naval dental school here. It will cost only about $12 to build.

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson has called on the armed services to cut expenses by about half a billion dollars to help balance the budget.

The Navy said the dental valve is one of its contributions to the campaign.

Stock Market Vigorously Moves To Higher Level

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—The stock market got its recovery drive rolling vigorously this week with the strongest advance in nearly a year.

Four weeks ago President Eisenhower had a heart attack. The market tumbled but finally last week it touched bottom. Since then it has been advancing with growing vigor until now it has retraced 36 per cent of its fall.

The Associated Press average this week rose $4.20 and closed at $169.90.

Everyone is now eager to point to excellent earnings reports, better dividends, higher prices, rising sales, and expanding industries.

Monday's market was quiet. The next day a lot of improvement showed. The advance gained pace Wednesday and Thursday.

On Friday there was a pause but there was a modest advance.

The five most active issues this week were U. S. Steel up 2⅛, Curtiss-Wright up 1⅝, Westinghouse up 1⅛, General Motors up 1¾ and Sperry Rand up ⅜.

In the bond market U.S. governments posted advances for the week despite new evidences of tightened credit.

Cash Corn Drop Leads Futures To Lower Level

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (AP) —A drop in prices of cash corn to the lowest level since 1948 provided the main feature on the Board of Trade this week.

Corn futures also weakened, but they held up a lot better than the cash grain. As a result the cash article was selling at a severe discount under the December future as the week ended.

Other cereals declined with corn, although rye provided an exception by scoring modest gains.

Wheat closed the week 1⅞ to 4 cents lower, corn 1⅞-2½ lower, oats ¼-⅜ lower, rye unchanged to 1¾ higher, soybeans ¼-2½ lower and lard 30 to 40 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Buisness Boom Unabated; Spending At Record Level

By WALTER BREEDE JR.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—Business, spurred by record consumer spending, headed for new levels this week.

Things were on the upbeat almost everywhere you looked. Department store sales showed a thumping 8 per cent gain over year-ago levels, steel production—scheduled at 96.1 per cent of capacity—was up 31 per cent, the auto industry rolled out 1956 models in increasingly heavy volume, rail freight traffic was the highest in nearly three years.

Corporate earnings reported for the first nine months pointed to lush rewards for shareholders. Chalking up record profits were such blue chip firms as American Gas & Electric, Continental Can, Eastman Kodak, St. Regis Paper, and Union Carbide. The stock market regained a substantial portion of the ground it had lost in the stunned aftermath of President Eisenhower's heart attack.

In most lines, the outlook was for continued good business for almost as far ahead as you could see.

Top executives attending the annual Hot Springs, Va., meeting of the government's Business Advisory Council — known as the "elite corps" of U. S. industry — were polled by the Associated Press. The consensus: Business activity will continue on a high plateau well into 1956 or longer. Questioned about the recent "Blue Mondays' on Wall Street, one delegate said: "That's just speculation."

U. S. government experts said the sum total of all business activity — the gross national product — might thurst to an unprecedented high this year of nearly 400 billion dollars, if the rate of gain in the current quarter measures up to that of July-August-September.

GNP hit an estimated record annual pace of 392 billions in the third quarter, with private spending by Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public providing most of the drive.

Other boom signals: Average take-home pay of U. S. factory workers in September reached its highest level in history — $71.55 after taxes for a married worker with two children. Personal income of Americans during the third quarter rose to a record annual rate of 306 billions. Department stores, their profits running 50 per cent higher than a year ago, were told by the National Retail Dry Goods Assn. to expect another record Christmas season.

Labor Secretary Mitchell, looking ahead to 1956, predicted more jobs, fewer unemployed and possible manpower shortages. Wendell Barnes, chief of the government's Small Business Administration, declared: "Our economy is poised for a new surge forward of such magnitude that it is truly breathtaking."

Mingled with the jubilant shouts of the optimists, you could hear occasional complaints. Most of them concerned the tightening squeeze on credit. For some months now, the money managers of the Federal Reserve Board have been clamping down on the nation's money supply. Interest rates have moved up. Banks have become more finicky about making loans. Business firms and individual consumers have found it more difficult — and more expensive — to borrow money. The objective: To hold the boom in check, and curb inflation.

Hardest hit so far is the nation's 15-billion-dollar-a-year home building industry. Housing starts last month slumped to 113,000, down 8 per cent from August and the lowest in seven months. This week Thomas P. Coogan, head of a big New York mortgage clearing house and former president of the National Assn. of Home Builders, said it's time curbs on mortgage credit were relaxed. If they stay "as is," he said, and home buyers can't get the easy terms they want, "You'll see a drop of at least 10 per cent" next year in the number of new homes started.

Molotov's Announcement On Retirement Plans Set For Release At Geneva

MOSCW, Oct. 22 (AP)—V. M. Molotov said tonight he will announce "in Geneva and from Geneva", whether he plans to quit his job as Soviet Foreign minister.

Molotov leaves Tuesday for the four-power foreign ministers' conference which opens in Geneva Thursday. Western diplomats here have speculated about his future as foreign minister ever since he confessed an "ideological error" in the magazine Communist Oct. 8.

Affable and smiling at a gala Kremlin reception for visiting Burmese Premier U Nu, Molotov was asked by this correspondent whether he intended to resign.

"I will give the answer to that question in Geneva and from Geneva," Molotov replied.

He was reluctant to discuss his plans in further detail.

In his confession in the magazine Communist, Molotov said he had erred "dangerously" in a major speech last Feb. 8 when he suggested the Soviet Union was not yet a full-scale Socialist nation. The speech was made at the same Supreme Soviet session at which Georgi M. Malenkov confessed errors and resigned as premier.

Molotov's confession led to immediate speculation about his future. The speculation was heightened by Molotov's absence from recent top-level conferences in the Crimea at which the Soviet line for the Geneva conference was believed discussed. The Crimean conference was attended by Soviet Premier Bulganin, Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev, foreign trade expert A. I. Mikoyan, Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov and military, political and trade aides.

Molotov, a veteran Soviet diplomat, has been associated with the hard Soviet foreign policy of the cold war era. Some Western diplomats considered his self-criticism discredited him and the policies he stood for. Others put little stock in talk that he would quit on the ground that confessions of error —self criticisms — are highly regarded in the Soviet Union.

Molotov, at 65 the last of the old Bolsheviks, has had his ups and downs in the Communist hierarchy. He has been active in Soviet government affairs since the days of the Revolution. Among his top jobs was that of Soviet Premier from 1930 to 1941.

He served as foreign minister from 1939 to 1949, but resigned after publicly humiliating himself by delivering a long address on self-criticism "regardless of rank." Andrei Y. Vishinsky succeeded him.

Trouble loomed again for him in 1952 when his wife, a former head of the Soviet cosmetics trust, was reported arrested. She was released after Stalin's death in 1953 and Molotov was returned to his old job as foreign minister. He has held the job without interruption since. He also is one of five first deputy premiers of the Soviet Union.

Thorne crashed into this two-story apartment house at North Hollywood, Calif., bringing death in flames to the pilot and two other persons. Nine persons were injured. Police said papers found on the body indicated the dead pilot was Thorne. The plane plunged through the roof of the apartment house at upper left and sent debris flying through windows at right. The front apartments caught fire and were burned out but those in the rear were not damaged badly. The other death victims were residents of the apartment house. (AP Wirephoto.)

Reward Mounts In Chicago Hunt For Boys' Killer

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (AP)—Rewards for capture of the slayers of three schoolboys mounted today as a special force of 250 policemen made a 13-square-mile house-to-house canvass for clues.

Officials of Chicago and the surrounding area — stirred by the apparently motiveless murder in triplicate — marshaled extraordinary resources to attack the mystery after five days of investigation showed almost no headway.

The public's help was begged as Mayor Richard J. Daley announced that he will ask the City Council to post $10,000 reward—a sum which would bring the total of rewards offered to $16,500.

In all, some 500 police officers worked to crack the mystery shrouding the deaths of 14-year-old Robert Peterson, and the Schuessler brothers, John, 13, and Anton Jr., 11.

The boys left their homes Sunday afternoon, planning to see a movie or go bowling. Thir naked bodies, strangled, beaten and soiled, were found shortly after noon Tuesday in a heap at the bottom of a shallow forest preserve ditch, three miles from their homes.

Because they were reported missing in Chicago's Northwest side Jefferson Park police district where they lived, and their bodies were found outside the city, the case fell into the jurisdictions of five agencies.

These are the Chicago police, the Cook County sheriff's police, the county forest rangers, the county coroner's office and the state attorney's office — all with investigating personnel.

Confusion and lack of cooperation among these agencies marked early stages of the investigation. But a unified investigation was worked out yesterday by top officials. Chicago Police Lt. Patrick Deeley was made coordinator of the investigation.

He was given a force of 60 hand-picked Chicago detectives who will be deputized — for countywide authority — by Coroner Walter McCarron.

Giving up their weekends, 250 traffic policemen today searched the far Northwest side neighborhood where the boys were last reported seen. They planned to work again tomorrow, interviewing householders, shop keepers and others.

Tangible leads in the case are almost totally lacking. The youngsters, likable and lively, came from respectable middle class homes. The Schuessler boys were Boy Scouts. Their father, Anton, is a tailor. Young Peterson's father, Malcolm, is a carpenter. The lads were pupils in Farnsworth elementary school.

Man Charged In Narcotics Case Is Found Guilty

LAFAYETTE, La., Oct. 22 (AP) — A jury found Robert J. (Bobby) Ellias, 24, guilty last night of selling marijuana.

The two-day trial was one of a series resulting from state police raids in Lafayette and New Iberia last March 25.

Ellias was charged with selling 19 marijuana cigarettes to State Trooper I. H. Otwell.

Woman Convicted Of Cattle Thefts Put On Probation

RUSSELLVILLE, Ala., Oct. 22 (AP)—Mrs. Birdie Victoria Darby, 26, convicted of cattle stealing, was granted probation today by Circuit Judge H. Neil Taylor.

Mrs. Darby, mother of two small children, was sentenced to a year and a day after she pleaded guilty Oct. 17. Taylor granted probation on condition that she return to her home at Beaumont, Tex., and abide by Texas probation laws.

Her husband, Hurno C. Darby, was convicted on a similar charge and is serving two concurrent to three-year terms in Tennessee. He was sentenced last week at Chattanooga.

The couple was arrested in Lawrenceburg, Tenn., about two months ago. They were accused of rustling cattle in Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee. Officers said they stole cattle from fields along side the highways, and forced them into a trailer they hauled behind their auto.

Taylor said Mrs. Darby planned to leave for Beaumont tonight. He said the two small children, being held at a home in Lawrenceburg, would be sent to her by arrangement with Tennessee officers.

In Morocco

Leading Moderate To Try Formation Of First Cabinet

RABAT, French Morocco, Oct. 23 (AP)—A leading moderate nationalist accepted today the job of forming Morocco's first representative government. At the same time he announced Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef soon will be brought to France from his exile in Madagascar.

Si Hadj Fatmi Ben Slimane, 57-year-old lawyer and former pasha of Fez, began consultations aimed at building a Cabinet in which he would be Morocco's first premier. Under the French reform program he expects to negotiate limited home rule for this North African protectorate.

Ben Slimane announced the arrival of the deposed Sultan in France would coincide with the great Moslem holiday, Mouloud, celebrated Oct. 29 this year. It commemorates the birthday of the prophet, Mohammed.

With the former Sultan in France, accessible for consultation with the Moroccan nationalists, Ben Slimane's job would be eased somewhat. The Sultan's dethronement and exile by the French more than two years ago has been an outstanding point of friction in Morocco.

Ben Slimane took the job of forming a government after a long conference with a four-man Regency Council acting in the absence of the two rival claimants to the throne: Ben Youssef and his successor, aged Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafa, who has gone to Tangier. Ben Arafa was installed by the French after Ben Youssef's ouster.

Ben Slimane said the government he plans to form would negotiate to place the relationship between France and Morocco "on new bases." He said this would permit Morocco to exercise its "full sovereignty." That would mean the end of the 43-year-old protectorate status under which France runs Morocco's foreign affairs, defense and most of the government functions.

'Atoms For Peace' Organization

Top U. S. Delegates To UN Drafting Conference Call

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 22 —UP—Spadework by top American delegates at the United Nations Saturday led the U.S. to call for a 12-nation conference, including Russia, to draft a revised statute for an international "atoms for peace" organiation.

Private talks between a U.S. deputy UN representative, James J. Wadsworth, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister V. V. Kunestov and Indian delegate V. K. Krishna Menon were credited with bringing the American proposal for a "working level" meeting of 12 governments in Washington in December.

The proposal for a meeting on the statute for the proposed international agency was made late Friday night by the State Department in Washington.

It was an independent American government move made in a bid to draft a statute for the international atomic agency that would be acceptable to all the 84 nations the U.S. has suggested be members of the organiation.

However, the Washington action and the work of the American delegates at the UN were coordinated.

Friday, before the meeting was proposed, Krishna Menon suggested that the General Assembly's main political committee adjourn its debate on atoms-for-peace until Tuesday to give the U.S. a chance to work on a resolution on international atomic energy.

In the atoms for peace debate in the UN political committee Russia and India both have introduced resolutions calling for changes in the proposed statute. Washington's call for a meeting to include these two nations was aimed at getting the Indians and Soviets working from the start on the proposed revised draft statute.

New Argentine Plot Uncovered, Officials Claim

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 22—UP—Police in the city of Corrientes discovered and crushed a "terrorist plot" this week and arrested a number of supporters of ousted ex-President Juan D. Peron, it was reported Saturday.

Corrientes, a provincial capital and port on the Parana River, is 480 miles north of here and less than 30 miles from the border of Paraguay, where Peron is living in exile.

Unconfirmed reports said incendiary bombs and a quantity of high explosives were seized by police in raids on the homes of the plotters. Those arrested included leaders of the General Federation of Labor (CGT), former government officials and members of the Peronist party.

The CGT is the only major Peronist organization that has not been disbanded or drastically reorganized by the revolutionary government that replaced Peron last month.

The Socialist party urged provisional President Eduardo Lonardi Friday to order a "thorough purge" of the labor federation, saying it was the "most important political weapon of (Peron's) dictatorship."

The socialists warned that the CGT will continue to be a dangerous "source of counter revolution" as long as its present leaders are "recognized, encouraged and supported" by the government.

Police here announced Saturday that they have tracked down and captured ex-congressman John W. Cooke, a fanatic nationalist and principal leader of the Peronist movement in Buenos Aires, who had been a fugitive ever since Peron was overthrown.

Anti-Integration Forces Meeting In Closed Session

BATON ROUGE, Oct. 22 (AP)—The Southern Gentlemen, first organized two years ago to preserve racial segregation, today opened their first statewide convention behind closed doors.

"We haven't accomplished enough to make a report," said a spokesman. "It's mostly organizational work today."

He promised an open meeting tomorrow.

Some 50 to 60 delegates are attending the two-day meeting, held in a small lodge hall on the outskirts of town.

Officials refused to announce the exact number of chapters, mostly in rural areas, but contended the organization will be "all over the state" in a few months.

No blood test is required for wedding licenses in Arizona, Arkansas, District of Columbia, Maryland, Minnesota, Mississippi, Nevada, South Carolina and Washington.

He served as foreign minister from 1939 to 1949, but resigned after publicly humiliating himself by delivering a long address on self-criticism "regardless of rank." Andrei Y. Vishinsky succeeded him.

Trouble loomed again for him in 1952 when his wife, a former head of the Soviet cosmetics trust, was reported arrested. She was released after Stalin's death in 1953 and Molotov was returned to his old job as foreign minister. He has held the job without interruption since. He also is one of five first deputy premiers of the Soviet Union.

Reward Mounts In Chicago Hunt For Boys' Killer

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (AP)—Rewards for capture of the slayers of three schoolboys mounted today as a special force of 250 policemen made a 13-square-mile house-to-house canvass for clues.

Officials of Chicago and the surrounding area — stirred by the apparently motiveless murder in triplicate — marshaled extraordinary resources to attack the mystery after five days of investigation showed almost no headway.

The public's help was begged as Mayor Richard J. Daley announced that he will ask the City Council to post $10,000 reward—a sum which would bring the total of rewards offered to $16,500.

In all, some 500 police officers worked to crack the mystery shrouding the deaths of 14-year-old Robert Peterson, and the Schuessler brothers, John, 13, and Anton Jr., 11.

The boys left their homes Sunday afternoon, planning to see a movie or go bowling. Thir naked bodies, strangled, beaten and soiled, were found shortly after noon Tuesday in a heap at the bottom of a shallow forest preserve ditch, three miles from their homes.

Because they were reported missing in Chicago's Northwest side Jefferson Park police district where they lived, and their bodies were found outside the city, the case fell into the jurisdictions of five agencies.

These are the Chicago police, the Cook County sheriff's police, the county forest rangers, the county coroner's office and the state attorney's office — all with investigating personnel.

Confusion and lack of cooperation among these agencies marked early stages of the investigation. But a unified investigation was worked out yesterday by top officials. Chicago Police Lt. Patrick Deeley was made coordinator of the investigation.

He was given a force of 60 hand-picked Chicago detectives who will be deputized — for countywide authority — by Coroner Walter McCarron.

Giving up their weekends, 250 traffic policemen today searched the far Northwest side neighborhood where the boys were last reported seen. They planned to work again tomorrow, interviewing householders, shop keepers and others.

Tangible leads in the case are almost totally lacking. The youngsters, likable and lively, came from respectable middle class homes. The Schuessler boys were Boy Scouts. Their father, Anton, is a tailor. Young Peterson's father, Malcolm, is a carpenter. The lads were pupils in Farnsworth elementary school.

Leading Moderate To Try Formation Of First Cabinet

RABAT, French Morocco, Oct. 23 (AP)—A leading moderate nationalist accepted today the job of forming Morocco's first representative government. At the same time he announced Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef soon will be brought to France from his exile in Madagascar.

Si Hadj Fatmi Ben Slimane, 57-year-old lawyer and former pasha of Fez, began consultations aimed at building a Cabinet in which he would be Morocco's first premier. Under the French reform program he expects to negotiate limited home rule for this North African protectorate.

Ben Slimane announced the arrival of the deposed Sultan in France would coincide with the great Moslem holiday, Mouloud, celebrated Oct. 29 this year. It commemorates the birthday of the prophet, Mohammed.

With the former Sultan in France, accessible for consultation with the Moroccan nationalists, Ben Slimane's job would be eased somewhat. The Sultan's dethronement and exile by the French more than two years ago has been an outstanding point of friction in Morocco.

Ben Slimane took the job of forming a government after a long conference with a four-man Regency Council acting in the absence of the two rival claimants to the throne: Ben Youssef and his successor, aged Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafa, who has gone to Tangier. Ben Arafa was installed by the French after Ben Youssef's ouster.

Ben Slimane said the government he plans to form would negotiate to place the relationship between France and Morocco "on new bases." He said this would permit Morocco to exercise its "full sovereignty." That would mean the end of the 43-year-old protectorate status under which France runs Morocco's foreign affairs, defense and most of the government functions.

'Atoms For Peace' Organization

Top U. S. Delegates To UN Drafting Conference Call

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 22 —UP—Spadework by top American delegates at the United Nations Saturday led the U.S. to call for a 12-nation conference, including Russia, to draft a revised statute for an international "atoms for peace" organiation.

Private talks between a U.S. deputy UN representative, James J. Wadsworth, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister V. V. Kunestov and Indian delegate V. K. Krishna Menon were credited with bringing the American proposal for a "working level" meeting of 12 governments in Washington in December.

The proposal for a meeting on the statute for the proposed international agency was made late Friday night by the State Department in Washington.

It was an independent American government move made in a bid to draft a statute for the international atomic agency that would be acceptable to all the 84 nations the U.S. has suggested be members of the organiation.

However, the Washington action and the work of the American delegates at the UN were coordinated.

Friday, before the meeting was proposed, Krishna Menon suggested that the General Assembly's main political committee adjourn its debate on atoms-for-peace until Tuesday to give the U.S. a chance to work on a resolution on international atomic energy.

In the atoms for peace debate in the UN political committee Russia and India both have introduced resolutions calling for changes in the proposed statute. Washington's call for a meeting to include these two nations was aimed at getting the Indians and Soviets working from the start on the proposed revised draft statute.

New Argentine Plot Uncovered, Officials Claim

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 22—UP—Police in the city of Corrientes discovered and crushed a "terrorist plot" this week and arrested a number of supporters of ousted ex-President Juan D. Peron, it was reported Saturday.

Corrientes, a provincial capital and port on the Parana River, is 480 miles north of here and less than 30 miles from the border of Paraguay, where Peron is living in exile.

Unconfirmed reports said incendiary bombs and a quantity of high explosives were seized by police in raids on the homes of the plotters. Those arrested included leaders of the General Federation of Labor (CGT), former government officials and members of the Peronist party.

The CGT is the only major Peronist organization that has not been disbanded or drastically reorganized by the revolutionary government that replaced Peron last month.

The Socialist party urged provisional President Eduardo Lonardi Friday to order a "thorough purge" of the labor federation, saying it was the "most important political weapon of (Peron's) dictatorship."

The socialists warned that the CGT will continue to be a dangerous "source of counter revolution" as long as its present leaders are "recognized, encouraged and supported" by the government.

Police here announced Saturday that they have tracked down and captured ex-congressman John W. Cooke, a fanatic nationalist and principal leader of the Peronist movement in Buenos Aires, who had been a fugitive ever since Peron was overthrown.

Woman Convicted Of Cattle Thefts Put On Probation

RUSSELLVILLE, Ala., Oct. 22 (AP)—Mrs. Birdie Victoria Darby, 26, convicted of cattle stealing, was granted probation today by Circuit Judge H. Neil Taylor.

Mrs. Darby, mother of two small children, was sentenced to a year and a day after she pleaded guilty Oct. 17. Taylor granted probation on condition that she return to her home at Beaumont, Tex., and abide by Texas probation laws.

Her husband, Hurno C. Darby, was convicted on a similar charge and is serving two concurrent to three-year terms in Tennessee. He was sentenced last week at Chattanooga.

The couple was arrested in Lawrenceburg, Tenn., about two months ago. They were accused of rustling cattle in Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee. Officers said they stole cattle from fields along side the highways, and forced them into a trailer they hauled behind their auto.

Taylor said Mrs. Darby planned to leave for Beaumont tonight. He said the two small children, being held at a home in Lawrenceburg, would be sent to her by arrangement with Tennessee officers.

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

The boys of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, who have made an annual habit of selecting All-Twin Cities athletic teams from the five high schools of Monroe and West Monroe, are planning bigger things for their football selections about the early part of December.

Ben Marshall tells us Paul Dietzel, the head football coach Louisiana State U. lured away from West Point, will probably be a Monroe visitor as guest speaker at a December banquet honoring the Monroe-West Monroe prep aces. Heretofore, the all-stars have been content with the publicity they got and tokens of their honors, but the big feed is planned additionally this year.

Meanwhile, the Jaycees' board of electors is keeping a close eye on the hometown football hopefuls. In another month they'll be about ready to tabulate the votes.

One of the fines offerings of non-fictional writings in the field of sports has been authored by Edwin Pope, executive sports editor of the Atlanta Journal with the publication of his book, "Football's Greatest Coaches," and the story of the players and plays that made them famous.

Pope's offering from the same city and same newspaper staff that produced "Gone With the Wind" contains intimate stories of twenty-eight of the nation most famous gridiron masters—Bill Alexander, Dana Bible, Bernie Bierman, "Red" Blaik, "Firtz" Crisler, Gil Dobie, Bobby Dodd, Don Faurot, Percy Duncan Haughton, John W. Heisman, Howard Jones, Andy Kerr, Frank Leahy, Lou Little, General Bob Neyland, Knute Rockne, "Red" Sanders, Clark Shaughnessy, Amos Alonzo Stagg, "Jock" Sutherland, Jim Tatum, Frank Thomas, Wallace Wade, "Pop" Warner, "Bud" Wilkinson, Fielding Yost, and Bob Zuppke.

Some fine coaches may not be included in the list, in a lot of opinions, but there's nothing wrong with the stories of the success and heartache of Pope's "28." There's Alexander's Georgia Tech story of dividing his squad into just 18 players to work for L.S.U., Oglethorpe, and Auburn in 1927 and 12 more to work for Georgia and Tennessee. The designated divisions won their games. The Blaik story includes the fight to break down the barrier of no player weighing more than 181 pounds on an Army team.

And such revealing stories as Crisler's development of two-platoon football and his fight to kill it; the luck of Dodd; how western rivals hated all-conquering Dobie; how Bible, short of players, summoned a Texas A. and M. cadet from the stands with the result that the cadet crops still stand in salute at Aggie games; that Zuppke once coached author Ernest Hemingway; Rockne worked in developing a base for synthetic rubber; Warner made his Indians spank each other for mistakes; Bierman overcame the same bone ailment that handicapped Mickey Mantle; plus numerous other relatively previously untold tales of the coaching greats.

M'Neese Tips Northeast In GSC Tilt, 35-0

NSC Homecoming Tussle Ruined By Land, Air Attacks

By TED HECKATHORN

McNeese State, scoring two touchdowns by land in the first period, and adding three more by air in the second and third ruined Northeasts' homecoming football game at Brown Stadium yesterday, by winning the Gulf States Conference tussle, 35-0.

Cowboy quarterback Don Ladner, a 205-pointer, and the heaviest man on the McNeese squad with the exception of three tackles, not only brilliantly engineered his team to victory, but scored the first and winning TD himself, and tossed long passes for the last two.

The Indians' only two drives came in the third and fourth periods, during which they piled up seven stick-movers to the visitors' three. Their first march, starting after the Cowpokes' final tally, began on their own 29 and carried to the enemy 23. Two completed passes, the only Tribe completions of the second half, featured the drive and were good for 36 yards. Quarterback Bill McDonald hit end C. W. Statham with a 20-yarder, and opposite end Billy Laird for 16 yards on the next play. John Smith and Mack Powell toted the leather to the Cowboy 23, where the march stalled with three successive incompleted aerials.

In the fourth, the Indians drove from their 37 to the McNeese 31, with Howdy Nugent and Benny Franklin, both reserve backs, sparking the advance. Two more first downs were added to the Tribe yardage in the drive, before they were forced to punt after a six-yard setback.

The invaders picked up only 75 of their rushing yards during the second half, with the Cassedy brothers, Ashton and Joe, providing most of it. However, two third-quarter passes from Ladner to halfback Ray Simmons and end Warren Herman were good for 31 and 34-yard touchdowns.

In the first half, which was all McNeese, the Lake Charles eleven scored in just five plays after they had taken possession in the first quarter, with hard-running halfback Jesse Castete setting up the marker with a 34-yard jaunt, and Simmons running it into position on the two for Ladner's TD plunge.

McNeese intercepted a Northeast pass, one of five throughout, and drove to another tally covering 47 yards, Castete and halfback Charles Dollar did all the gaining, with the former ending it with an actual lope around end from three yards away.

Early in the second stanza, after the Tribe had chalked up their initial first down on a jump pass, Danny Hoak to Powell, the Cowboys intercepted an aerial on the 50. They carried to the 30, from where Herb Mills, who had done the interception, tossed a 30-yarder to halfback Mac Bryan, alone in the end zone, for the third six-pointer before intermission.

The Cowboys, who had two immensely heavy platoons, wore down the Indian defense all through the first half, and were led by 268-pound tackle Charles Dees. C. J. Melancon was the chief defender for the Indians, and Nick Lassiter and Red Yocom recovered McNeese bobbles in the second half to halt scoring drives.

The five successful McNeese conversions were all placement boots, wit James Moss kicking two, Nyles Spurlock one, and Ladner the other pair.

Farmer Jones And Pet Pig Headline Mat Card

Farmer Jones, accompanied by his pet pig, are famous mat attractions throughout the nation, and will appear at Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night to feature the two-match card.

Jones, a bewhiskered, barefoot husky, takes on Red Roberts in the main bout; and Charley Laye, winner last week over frog-voiced Johnny Silvers, meets ever-popular George Curtis in the semi-final. Curtis defeated Canadian Piere Dugas last Tuesday in the first half of the double-main event.

Promoter Kallio, who reports an early advance sale of ducats for the Jones appearance, looks for a large crowd Tuesday to watch the renowned Farmer in action.

Jones won a match here several years ago, but faces no pushover in the Little Rock ex-cop. The bullet-headed Roberts, who would be a legal redhead if he hadn't had his skull shaved for professional wrestling purposes, has always fought a rugged battle here, and has a special interest in meeting Jones. The latter also hails from Arkansas, and has claimed to be the best wrestler to ever come out of the Ozarks. That, Roberts disputes, for he says that he never has been defeated by an Arkansas grappler.

Their match, pet pig or not, appears to be a "natural".

Laye, against Silvers, fought a clean match all the way, and had the fans with him as a result. Against Curtis, always a clean, scientific strong - boy, it may be a different story, for Laye is certain to miss the plaudits of the crowd, and fight accordingly.

The Jones, Roberts feature requires the best of three falls to win, and will have a 90-minute limit. Curtis and Laye will also need two falls to win, but will have only a 45-minute time limit.

Bill Barney will referee both matches.

Sooners Shock Buffaloes

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 22—UP—Oklahoma crushed Colorado 56-21 here Saturday with shocking power that overcame a 14-point deficit and virtually cinched the Sooners' eighth straight Big Seven championship and another Orange Bowl bid.

What started as a scary test for the third-ranked Sooners became a lop-sided rout in the last half. The capacity crowd of 59,000 saw Oklahoma reserves score three times in the final period to give Oklahoma its 24th straight victory.

Oklahoma's scoring spree started in the second period after Colorado had turned Oklahoma errors into a 14-0 lead. Oklahoma exploded with three touchdowns from sustained drives in 10 minutes to gain a 21-14 halftime edge.

Both of the Buffalo's second period scores began with recovered Oklahoma fumbles. Colorado tackle Sam Salerno pounced on quarterback Jim Harris' bobble on the Sooner five and fullback John Bayuk plunged over from the three. Then Colorado marched 70 yards in seven plays with Emerson Wilson ripping the final five yards.

Oklahoma halfback Bob Burris sparked the Sooner comeback and scored twice in seven minutes. He plunged from inside the three both times to climax fierce marches which featured fancy running and passing by halfback Tommy McDonald.

A shaky quick kick by tailback Homer Jenkins set up the drive that put Oklahoma in front to stay. The Sooners raced 55 yards in six plays, with McDonald jumping over from the two.

Burris scored a third time and McDonald a second time in the third period. Fullback Billy Pricer converted five times, Carl Dodd twice, and Bill Sturm once in a perfect afternoon for Oklahoma points after touchdown.

Jenkins converted three times for Colorado.

Alternate halfback Clendon Thomas led Sooner ball carriers with 56 yards in six carries. Oklahoma rushed 320 yards to 78 for Colorado, which was undefeated in five starts before Saturday.

In a wild final stanza the Sooner alternates roared for three scores over exhausted Colorado. Fullback Dennit Morris skipped 23 yards for one tally and Thomas set up another with a 22-yard reverse before plunging over.

Sturm, third-string quarterback, tossed a touchdown pass to end Duane Goff from the Colorado 35 for the finale.

Trojans Score 3 TD's In Fourth; Wallop Bears, 33-6

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 22 (AP)—Southern California, with Jon Arnett setting the scoring pace, exploded for three last quarter touchdowns today to trounce the clawless California Bears, 33-6, in a Pacific Coast Conference football game.

The Trojans' vaunted offense, most powerful in the conference, stuttered through the first three periods of a dull game, but suddenly jelled in the closing period to slam the Bears into the ground.

Arnett, a whirling dervish off the tackles, ripped through for his trio of touchdowns on two blasts of six yards each and another of four. Gordy Duvall slammed 58 yards, also off tackle, for a fourth Trojan tally and Jimmy Contratto passed 10 yards to huge Leon Clarke for the fifth. Ellis Kissinger kicked the conversions after the final three scores, taking over for Arnett who missed on the initial two.

California broke into the scoring in the hectic fourth quarter, Jim Carmichael taking a 15-yard pass from Hugh Maguire after the sturdy quarterback had intercepted a Trojan pass.

The victory was the fifth straight for Southern Cal over California, the first time the Bears ever have been beaten that many in a row by any team.

Southern Cal, racking up its fifth victory in six starts, moved sluggishly through the first half, but held a 12-0 lead at the intermission on Arnett's first touchdown and Contratto's pass to Clarke. The Trojans were held scoreless in the third period, but opened up in the final quarter to win going away. Southern California 6 6 6 21—33

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

The boys of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, who have made an annual habit of selecting All-Twin Cities athletic teams from the five high schools of Monroe and West Monroe, are planning bigger things for their football selections about the early part of December.

Ben Marshall tells us Paul Dietzel, the head football coach Louisiana State U. lured away from West Point, will probably be a Monroe visitor as guest speaker at a December banquet honoring the Monroe-West Monroe prep aces. Heretofore, the all-stars have been content with the publicity they got and tokens of their honors, but the big feed is planned additionally this year.

Meanwhile, the Jaycees' board of electors is keeping a close eye on the hometown football hopefuls. In another month they'll be about ready to tabulate the votes.

One of the fines offerings of non-fictional writings in the field of sports has been authored by Edwin Pope, executive sports editor of the Atlanta Journal with the publication of his book, "Football's Greatest Coaches," and the story of the players and plays that made them famous.

Pope's offering from the same city and same newspaper staff that produced "Gone With the Wind" contains intimate stories of twenty-eight of the nation most famous gridiron masters—Bill Alexander, Dana Bible, Bernie Bierman, "Red" Blaik, "Firtz" Crisler, Gil Dobie, Bobby Dodd, Don Faurot, Percy Duncan Haughton, John W. Heisman, Howard Jones, Andy Kerr, Frank Leahy, Lou Little, General Bob Neyland, Knute Rockne, "Red" Sanders, Clark Shaughnessy, Amos Alonzo Stagg, "Jock" Sutherland, Jim Tatum, Frank Thomas, Wallace Wade, "Pop" Warner, "Bud" Wilkinson, Fielding Yost, and Bob Zuppke.

Some fine coaches may not be included in the list, in a lot of opinions, but there's nothing wrong with the stories of the success and heartache of Pope's "28." There's Alexander's Georgia Tech story of dividing his squad into just 18 players to work for L.S.U., Oglethorpe, and Auburn in 1927 and 12 more to work for Georgia and Tennessee. The designated divisions won their games. The Blaik story includes the fight to break down the barrier of no player weighing more than 181 pounds on an Army team.

And such revealing stories as Crisler's development of two-platoon football and his fight to kill it; the luck of Dodd; how western rivals hated all-conquering Dobie; how Bible, short of players, summoned a Texas A. and M. cadet from the stands with the result that the cadet crops still stand in salute at Aggie games; that Zuppke once coached author Ernest Hemingway; Rockne worked in developing a base for synthetic rubber; Warner made his Indians spank each other for mistakes; Bierman overcame the same bone ailment that handicapped Mickey Mantle; plus numerous other relatively previously untold tales of the coaching greats.

He had also won the Southern Advance tournament at Hodge earlier in the season. Bobby has been playing consistently good amateur golf since his high school days here. At Houston he will be teaching and playing the game he likes best with no arguments in the family from dad, Bob, a former pro baseball player and partial to the diamond sport.

M'Neese Tips Northeast In GSC Tilt, 35-0

By TED HECKATHORN

McNeese State, scoring two touchdowns by land in the first period, and adding three more by air in the second and third ruined Northeasts' homecoming football game at Brown Stadium yesterday, by winning the Gulf States Conference tussle, 35-0.

Cowboy quarterback Don Ladner, a 205-pointer, and the heaviest man on the McNeese squad with the exception of three tackles, not only brilliantly engineered his team to victory, but scored the first and winning TD himself, and tossed long passes for the last two.

STATISTICS	Indians	Cowboys
First downs	11	10
Rushing yardage	58	207
Passing yardage	48	104
Passes attempted	21	9
Passes completed	3	5
Passes intercepted by	1	5
Punts	5	3
Punting average	31	37
Fumbles lost	0	3
Yards penalized	15	75

The Indians' only two drives came in the third and fourth periods, during which they piled up seven stick-movers to the visitors' three. Their first march, starting after the Cowpokes' final tally, began on their own 29 and carried to the enemy 23. Two completed passes, the only Tribe completions of the second half, featured the drive and were good for 36 yards. Quarterback Bill McDonald hit end C. W. Statham with a 20-yarder, and opposite end Billy Laird for 16 yards on the next play. John Smith and Mack Powell toted the leather to the Cowboy 23, where the march stalled with three successive incompleted aerials.

In the fourth, the Indians drove from their 37 to the McNeese 31, with Howdy Nugent and Benny Franklin, both reserve backs, sparking the advance. Two more first downs were added to the Tribe yardage in the drive, before they were forced to punt after a six-yard setback.

The invaders picked up only 75 of their rushing yards during the second half, with the Cassedy brothers, Ashton and Joe, providing most of it. However, two third-quarter passes from Ladner to halfback Ray Simmons and end Warren Herman were good for 31 and 34-yard touchdowns.

In the first half, which was all McNeese, the Lake Charles eleven scored in just five plays after they had taken possession in the first quarter, with hard-running halfback Jesse Castete setting up the marker with a 34-yard jaunt, and Simmons running it into position on the two for Ladner's TD plunge.

McNeese intercepted a Northeast pass, one of five throughout, and drove to another tally covering 47 yards, Castete and halfback Charles Dollar did all the gaining, with the former ending it with an actual lope around end from three yards away.

Early in the second stanza, after the Tribe had chalked up their initial first down on a jump pass, Danny Hoak to Powell, the Cowboys intercepted an aerial on the 50. They carried to the 30, from where Herb Mills, who had done the interception, tossed a 30-yarder to halfback Mac Bryan, alone in the end zone, for the third six-pointer before intermission.

The Cowboys, who had two immensely heavy platoons, wore down the Indian defense all through the first half, and were led by 268-pound tackle Charles Dees. C. J. Melancon was the chief defender for the Indians, and Nick Lassiter and Red Yocom recovered McNeese bobbles in the second half to halt scoring drives.

The five successful McNeese conversions were all placement boots, wit James Moss kicking two, Nyles Spurlock one, and Ladner the other pair.

Farmer Jones And Pet Pig Headline Mat Card

Farmer Jones, accompanied by his pet pig, are famous mat attractions throughout the nation, and will appear at Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night to feature the two-match card.

Jones, a bewhiskered, barefoot husky, takes on Red Roberts in the main bout; and Charley Laye, winner last week over frog-voiced Johnny Silvers, meets ever-popular George Curtis in the semi-final. Curtis defeated Canadian Piere Dugas last Tuesday in the first half of the double-main event.

Promoter Kallio, who reports an early advance sale of ducats for the Jones appearance, looks for a large crowd Tuesday to watch the renowned Farmer in action.

Jones won a match here several years ago, but faces no pushover in the Little Rock ex-cop. The bullet-headed Roberts, who would be a legal redhead if he hadn't had his skull shaved for professional wrestling purposes, has always fought a rugged battle here, and has a special interest in meeting Jones. The latter also hails from Arkansas, and has claimed to be the best wrestler to ever come out of the Ozarks. That, Roberts disputes, for he says that he never has been defeated by an Arkansas grappler.

Their match, pet pig or not, appears to be a "natural".

Laye, against Silvers, fought a clean match all the way, and had the fans with him as a result. Against Curtis, always a clean, scientific strong - boy, it may be a different story, for Laye is certain to miss the plaudits of the crowd, and fight accordingly.

The Jones, Roberts feature requires the best of three falls to win, and will have a 90-minute limit. Curtis and Laye will also need two falls to win, but will have only a 45-minute time limit.

Bill Barney will referee both matches.

Trojans Score 3 TD's In Fourth; Wallop Bears, 33-6

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 22 (AP)—Southern California, with Jon Arnett setting the scoring pace, exploded for three last quarter touchdowns today to trounce the clawless California Bears, 33-6, in a Pacific Coast Conference football game.

The Trojans' vaunted offense, most powerful in the conference, stuttered through the first three periods of a dull game, but suddenly jelled in the closing period to slam the Bears into the ground.

Arnett, a whirling dervish off the tackles, ripped through for his trio of touchdowns on two blasts of six yards each and another of four. Gordy Duvall slammed 58 yards, also off tackle, for a fourth Trojan tally and Jimmy Contratto passed 10 yards to huge Leon Clarke for the fifth. Ellis Kissinger kicked the conversions after the final three scores, taking over for Arnett who missed on the initial two.

The victory was the fifth straight for Southern Cal over California, the first time the Bears ever have been beaten that many in a row by any team.

Newton Sparks Tulane In 14 To 0 Upset Of Georgia

Shreveport's Gift To Greenies Runs For Both Scores

By MERCER BAILEY

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 22 (AP)—Baby-faced Gene Newton, a slick split-T operator and a fancy-dan runner, sprinted 49 yards for an early touchdown and guided Tulane to a 14-0 upset victory over Georgia in a Southeastern Conference football game today.

Tulane stopped Georgia's touted air attack when it counted and the Bulldogs couldn't punch over a score on the ground.

Newton, a 20-year-old sophomore from Shreveport, La., also scored Tulane's clinching touchdown in the fourth quarter, racing eight yards around his left end. This score was set up when tackle Dalton Truax recovered a fumble by Georgia's Charlie Harris at the eight.

Georgia threatened twice in the first half but Dick Young, the nation's top passer on yards gained, couldn't connect. The first Georgia threat, set up by Roy Wilkins' recovery of an Otis Gilmore fumble at the Tulane 33, stalled at the 25 when Young overthrew Wendell Tarleton in the end one.

BORGS HERE WEDNESDAY—Julius Boros (left), a leading money-winner of golf and victory in the "World" tourney at Tam O'Shanter this year, will appear in a Wednesday afternoon clinic and exhibition at Bayou DeSiard Country Club. The picture was made when Boros presented his caddy with a $1,000 check following his "World" triumph.

Boros Bills Exhibition Here

Julius Boros, who became "man of the hour" in golf when he won the 1955 "World Championship" at Tam O'Shanter Country Club in Chicago for the second time in four years will give an exhibition of his playing skill at Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

Through arrangements with the George S. May Company, business engineers, and sponsor of the world titular classic, the Chamber of Commerce of Monroe - West Monroe announces that the noted golfer will appear here Wednesday afternoon.

Boros, a Connecticut Yankee, registers as pro at Mid Pines, N. Car. outplayed more than 360 of the leading professional golfers of America and 25 foreign stars in acquiring the world title for the second time. He scored his first victory for the honor in 1952.

His masterful golf technique will be displayed in a clinic and exhibition. He will start his clinic at 1 p.m. and will tee off in a foursome match immediately following.

Three Twin Cities youngsters will appear in the foursome match with Boros, it was announced yesterday. They are Roy Nash, a 1954 Louisiana representative in the National Jaycee Tournament; Ed Watkins Jr., the state high school champion; and Jackie Rivers, 1954 state runner-up and winner of numerous junior events.

The swarthy, suave, 200-pound Boros, born and reared in Fairfield, Conn., climaxed a year of competition as the 1955 high money winner when he annexed the richest stakes of the Tam tournaments—the "World Championship" which yielded the burly pro a total of $106,000.

Broken down in tangible figures he received $50,000 cash, plus a contract for a minimum of 55 exhibitions at $1,000 each, plus transportation and expenses, plus an option of 50 additional exhibitions at $1,000 each plus expenses, plus a $1,000 caddie fee.

Without computing revenue that will accrue from exhibition matches, Boros by winning the $50,000 cash award in May's "World Championship" boosted his total winnings of the year in golf tournament play.

When Boros won the world title in 1952 he was awarded $25,000 as first prize. He is one of two players who have twice won the coveted honor since its inauguration in 1943 by May. Ben Hogan was the other two-time winner having annexed the title first in 1947 and again in 1951.

The 35-year-old pro played his first full year of tournament golf in 1951 and finished as the 34th money winner, banking $4,697.97 for the year's efforts. In addition, during 1951 he finished well up in the money in the National Open.

Before making his mark in golf competition, Boros was a standout in both basketball and baseball in his Connecticut high school and college days. A caddy product, he played his first tournament at the age of 15.

Navy Sacks Penn Without Trickery To Tune Of 33-0

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22 (AP)—Unbeaten Navy, with star quarterback George Welsh on the bench, its bag of tricks in the locker room and a junior varsity quarterback directing the attack, sailed to its fifth straight victory today, smashing downtrodden Penn 33-0 before 34,543 fans at Franklin Field.

Coach Eddie Erdalatz, confident his deep squad could handle anything the peaceful Quakers could muster, used second and third string players most of the way and apparently ordered his quarterback to use nothing but simple run and pass plays. Navy, the nation's fourth-ranking team, has a deal with Notre Dame next week and seemed determined to keep Irish scouts in the dark.

Navy scoring — Touchdowns: Burchett (1, plunge); Forrestal (2, sneak); Beagle (10, pass from Forrestal); Monto, (16, pass-run from Prahalis); Malynn (6, run). Conversions, Oldham 2, Royer.

Nebraska Pastes 18 To 12 Defeat On Missouri Foe

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 22 (AP)—Nebraska's alert Cornhuskers, propelled by a fleet corps of backs and taking advantage of opposition bobbles, shook off a six-point halftime deficit to deal the Missouri Tigers their sixth football loss of the season, 18-12, before a homecoming gathering of 25,300 today.

It was Nebraska's first victory over Missouri here since 1937 and extended the Tigers' losing streak to seven games dating back to Missouri's loss to Maryland at the tail end of the 1954 campaign.

Missouri dominated play the first half and scored with a minute and a half of the second quarter remaining when quarterback Dave Doane sneaked the last foot of a 73-yard drive. But that was about the last bit of joy for the Tiger faithful.

Nebraska	0	0	12	6	— 18
Missouri	0	6	0	6	— 12

Nebraska scoring: Touchdowns, Greenlaw (1, plunge); Erway (1, plunge); Fisher (57, pass interception).

Duc De Fer Takes Interborough Run To Return $22.10

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—James W. Rodgers' Duc De Fer spurted to a three-length lead at the start and galloped home easily in the 34th running of the $30,150 Interborough Handicap that launched a 21-day meeting of the Greater New York Association at Jamaica race track today.

The 4-year-old son of Spy Long-Lady Waterloo, invading from the New Jersey circuit, stepped the six furlongs in the smart time of 1:11 4-5 with Donald Brumfield in the saddle. Three lengths back came High Tide stable's Fabulist, who headed Clearwater stable's Dark Peter for the place. Albert J. Mesler's War Command was a length out of the money. The last named was a contender until midstretch.

Duc De Fer won his third race in 15 starts and earned $21,100 net for Rodgers. The last time he was in New York he was unplaced in the Roseben Handicap at Belmont Park in May.

Another New Jersey invader, Wesley E. Brown's Royal Battle, was sent off the favorite by the crowd of 32,835, but was never in the hunt, finishing sixth.

Duc De Fer, coupled with Robert O. J. Streuber's First Served and Mrs. Richard J. Maloney Jr.'s On Flight as a field horse, was lightly supported in the betting, returning mutuels of $22.10, 9.60 and $6.30. Fabulist, coupled with Jan Burde's Squared Away, winner of the Interborough in 1952, paid $6.20 and $4.90 and Dark Peter was $7.60 to show.

Morgan Fills Davis' Post With Maroons

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., Oct. 22 (AP)—Sophomore William Earl Morgan will replace injured halfback Art Davis tomorrow in the Mississippi State football lineup against Alabama in Tuscaloosa.

Davis dislocated a shoulder in last week's victory over Kentucky. The co-captain, who was the Southeastern Conference's most valuable player last year, is not expected back before the Auburn game on Nov. 5.

Quarterback Bill Stanton, a senior, will take Davis' place as co-captain along with the other regular team leader, Jim Barron, a senior tackle.

Engineers Smash Seminoles Easily To Tune Of 34-0

ATLANTA, Oct. 22 (AP)—Georgia Tech unwrapped its passing game for the first time this season today and mixed it with a strong ground attack to trounce ambitious but outmanned Florida State 34-0 in a football mismatch.

Tech Coach Bobby Dodd used his first two units to build a 20-0 lead and then emptied the bench to complete the rout before a shirt-sleeved crowd of about 30,000.

It was Tech's fifth victory against one loss this year and its third triumph of the season over a Florida team.

Toppy Vann, Tech's No. 2 quarterback, scored twice on short thrusts after long drives. First string quarterback Wade Mitchell returned a punt 39 yards for the first score. The fourth touchdown came on a pass from Stan Cochran, third string halfback, to end Ted Smith. Tech's last touchdown came in the final minute on a 40-yard pass from No. 3 quarterback, Burton Grant, to end Paul Vickers.

The losers never threatened but four times checked Tech inside the Florida State 15. The Seminoles halted the first Tech drive a few inches from their goal line. A fumble, an incomplete pass and an offside penalty helped frustrate three other scoring bids by the Engineers.

Vann and Grant flexed Tech's air arm. Vann's aerials sparked the second and third touchdown drives and Grant's throws set up the fourth and brought the fifth. Ends Vickers, Tommy Rose, Don Ellis and Smith did most of the catching.

Scoring by quarters:

Georgia Tech	....	7	7	13	7—34

Methodist Ponies Grind Out 33-14 Win Over Kansas

LAWRENCE, Kan., Oct. 22 (AP)—Halfback Don McIlhenny scored four touchdowns today as Southern Methodist, capitalizing on virtually every major break, scored a 33-14 football victory over Kansas.

The prolific McIlhenny scored three times on plunges of a yard each and skirted left end for 12 yards for the other tally. Fullback Hal O'Brien dived a yard for the fifth Mustang score.

Kansas' sophomore battery of quarterback Wally Strauch and end Jim Letcavits accounted for the Kansas touchdowns. One scoring play covered 14 yards, the other 11.

S.M.U. rammed over two of its tallies after fourth down punting bobblers by Kansas and got another after recovering a fumble deep in Jayhawk territory.

Kansas had to gain all its yardage in the air as the dogged S.M.U. defenses held the Jayhawkers to a minus 30-yards rushing.

S.M.U.	.....	0	7	12	14 — 33
Kansas	.....	0	7	7	0 — 14

S.M.U. scoring—touchdowns: McIlhenny 4 (1, 1 and 1 on plunges, 12, seep); O'Brien (1, plunge). Conversions: Beal, Masters 2.

Pitt Panthers Drop Duke From Unbeaten List, 26-7

DURHAM, N. C., Oct. 22 (AP)—Pittsburgh's twice-beaten football team rose up to smash previously unbeaten Duke, the nation's fifth ranking team, 26-7, today. The Panthers held fumble - plagued Duke, the nation's fifth ranking rushing team to 92 yards on the ground and ran up 249 themselves as they spoiled homecoming day for a crowd of 31,000.

Pittsburgh's one-two quarterback punch of Pete Neft and Corny Salvaterra added enough aerial threat to round out Pitt's devastating attack.

Duke nursed a 7-6 halftime lead after a scoreless first period but thereafter the Panthers were pretty much in control. They moved ahead in the third quarter when halfback Lou Cimarolli plunged over from a yard out, boosted their lead to two touchdowns in the fourth quarter when halfpack Corky Cost also plunged over from the one.

Adding insult to injury the Panthers scored again 20 seconds before the finish with third-string quarterback Darrell Lewis threw a 15-yard pass into the end zone to end Joe Walton. It was Walton who scored Pitt's first touchdown in the second period when he took a 36-yard pass from Salvaterra.

Duke, winner of four previous games this season, had struck swiftly after the first Pitt score, quarterbcak Sonny Jurgensen throwing a 35-yard pass to halfback Bunny Blaney who scampered 40 more yards for an easy touchdown.

Four times Duke lost the ball on fumbles and several other times its progress was impeded by bobbles which the Blue Devils managed to recover.

Pittsburgh	.....	0	6	7	13 —26
Duke	.....	0	7	0	0 — 7

Pittsburgh scoring: touchdowns, Walton 2, (36, pass-run from Salvaterra; 15, pass from Lewis), Cimarolli (1, plunge), cost (1, plunge). Conversions: Bagamery 2.

Duke scoring: Touchdowns, Blaney (75, pass-run from Jurgensen). Conversion, Nelson.

Engineers Smash Seminoles Easily To Tune Of 34-0

ATLANTA, Oct. 22 (AP) —Georgia Tech unwrapped its passing game for the first time this season today and mixed it with a strong ground attack to trounce ambitious but outmanned Florida State 34-0 in a football mismatch.

Tech Coach Bobby Dodd used his first two units to build a 20-0 lead and then emptied the bench to complete the rout before a shirt-sleeved crowd of about 30,000.

It was Tech's fifth victory against one loss this year and its third triumph of the season over a Florida team.

Toppy Vann, Tech's No. 2 quarterback, scored twice on short thrusts after long drives. First string quarterback Wade Mitchell returned a punt 39 yards for the first score. The fourth touchdown came on a pass from Stan Cochran, third string halfback, to end Ted Smith. Tech's last touchdown came in the final minute on a 40-yard pass from No. 3 quarterback, Burton Grant, to end Paul Vickers.

The losers never threatened but four times checked Tech inside the Florida State 15. The Seminoles halted the first Tech drive a few inches from their goal line. A fumble, an incomplete pass and an offside penalty helped frustrate three other scoring bids by the Engineers.

Vann and Grant flexed Tech's air arm. Vann's aerials sparked the second and third touchdown drives and Grant's throws set up the fourth and brought the fifth. Ends Vickers, Tommy Rose, Don Ellis and Smith did most of the catching.

Scoring by quarters:

Georgia Tech	7	7	13	7	—34

Georgia Tech scoring: Touchdowns, Mitchell (39, punt return); Vann 2 (1, plunge; 7, run); Smith (3, pass from Cochran); Vickers (40, pass from Grant). Conversions, Mitchell 2, Grant 2.

Methodist Ponies Grind Out 33-14 Win Over Kansas

LAWRENCE, Kan., Oct. 22 (AP)—Halfback Don McIlhenny scored four touchdowns today as Southern Methodist, capitalizing on virtually every major break, scored a 33-14 football victory over Kansas.

The prolific McIlhenny scored three times on plunges of a yard each and skirted left end for 12 yards for the other tally. Fullback Hal O'Brien dived a yard for the fifth Mustang score.

Kansas' sophomore battery of quarterback Wally Strauch and end Jim Letcavits accounted for the Kansas touchdowns. One scoring play covered 14 yards, the other 11.

S.M.U. rammed over two of its tallies after fourth down punting bobblers by Kansas and got another after recovering a fumble deep in Jayhawk territory.

Kansas had to gain all its yardage in the air as the dogged S.M.U. defenses held the Jayhawkers to a minus 30-yards rushing.

S.M.U.	0	7	12	14	— 33
Kansas	0	7	7	0	— 14

S.M.U. scoring—touchdowns: McIlhenny 4 (1, 1 and 1 on plunges, 12, seep); O'Brien (1, plunge). Conversions: Beal, Masters 2.

Pitt Panthers Drop Duke From Unbeaten List, 26-7

DURHAM, N. C., Oct. 22 (AP)—Pittsburgh's twice-beaten football team rose up to smash previously unbeaten Duke, the nation's fifth ranking team, 26-7, today. The Panthers held fumble - plagued Duke, the nation's fifth ranking rushing team to 92 yards on the ground and ran up 249 themselves as they spoiled homecoming day for a crowd of 31,000.

Pittsburgh's one-two quarterback punch of Pete Neft and Corny Salvaterra added enough aerial threat to round out Pitt's devastating attack.

Duke nursed a 7-6 halftime lead after a scoreless first period but thereafter the Panthers were pretty much in control. They moved ahead in the third quarter when halfback Lou Cimarolli plunged over from a yard out, boosted their lead to two touchdowns in the fourth quarter when halfpack Corky Cost also plunged over from the one.

Adding insult to injury the Panthers scored again 20 seconds before the finish with third-string quarterback Darrell Lewis threw a 15-yard pass into the end zone to end Joe Walton. It was Walton who scored Pitt's first touchdown in the second period when he took a 36-yard pass from Salvaterra.

Duke, winner of four previous games this season, had struck swiftly after the first Pitt score, quarterbcak Sonny Jurgensen throwing a 35-yard pass to halfback Bunny Blaney who scampered 40 more yards for an easy touchdown.

Four times Duke lost the ball on fumbles and several other times its progress was impeded by bobbles which the Blue Devils managed to recover.

Pittsburgh	0	6	7	13	—26
Duke	0	7	0	0	— 7

Pittsburgh scoring: touchdowns, Walton 2, (36, pass-run from Salvaterra; 15, pass from Lewis), Cimarolli (1, plunge), cost (1, plunge). Conversions: Bagamery 2.

Louisiana Tech Noses Past Northwestern, 21 To 20

12,000 Fair Fans See Bulldogs Keep Gulf Record Clean

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 22 (AP)—Louisiana Tech continued undefeated in the Gulf States Conference today with a narrow 21-20 victory over stubborn Northwestern State.

Tech's big center, Charles Glover, blocked Harry Fontenot's kick for a point after touchdown in the third quarter to give Tech the edge before 12,000 fans in the State Fair Stadium.

After a scoreless first period, Tech pushed across from the one on a quarterback sneak by Milford Andrews. Gayle Dick converted.

A Northwestern fumble, recovered by Tech co-captain Charles Anderson, set up the score on the 20.

Tech scored again two minutes before the half on an eight-yard pass from quarterback Jim Coleman to halfback Al Williams, who added the extra point.

Northwestern cashed in on a Tech fumble five seconds before the half ended, with James McNew passing five yards to halfback Larry Whit in the end one.

A 14-yard McNew pass to Lacy Lofton brought Northwestern to within a point of Tech in the third quarter, climaxing a 55-yard drive, but Glover blocked the extra point try. Tech got its final touchdown in the fourth period when Wayne Bourgeois pushed across from the two and Dick got the extra point.

Northwestern made it a thrilling ending when halfback Jack Bice, a track star, took a punt on his own 30 and scooted 70 yards down the sidelines for a touchdown. Dewey O'Neal converted.

Ohio State Whips Wisconsin, Shares Big 10 Leadership

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 22 (AP)—Ohio State smashed Wisconsin, 26-16, today for the fourth time in a row and snatched a share of the Big 10 football lead with quarterback Frank Ellwood at the throttle of an express—train ground attack that wouldn't be stopped.

The Buckeyes moved into a first place tie with Michigan in the Big 10 race in handing Wisconsin its first conference loss before a record Camp Randall crowd of 53,529. Michigan, which edged Minnesota, 14-13, today, has won three without a loss while Ohio State is undefeated in two starts.

Ohio State spotted Wisconsin a two-touchdown lead early in the second quarter, then roared back with a relentless running assault for two touchdowns in the second and two more in the fourth.

Ellwood, a 5-11, 193-pounder from Dover, O., who runs more than most quarterbacks and isn't afraid to put himself on the spot, led the Buckeyes goal-line charges with Howard (Hopalong) Cassady, not as spectacular as he has been but still plenty of ballplayer, accounted for the other marker.

Michigan Escapes Upset From Minnesoto, 14 To 13

By ED SAINSBURY

MINNEAPOLIS, Ot. 22—UP—Michigan's Wolverines, stunned by two quick Minnesota touchdowns, ground back with crushing running by Lou Baldacci, Terry Barr and Tony Branoff Saturday to pound out a 14-13 victory before 64,434 fans.

Minnesota, a two-touchdown underdog, clicked for 13 points in the first 12 minutes while Michigan stumbled and fumbled. But once the Wolverines began to clock they rolled 60 yards on razzle-dazzle for one score and stuck to the grounds for a 48-yard advance for the winning points.

It was the fifth straight win this season for the unbeaten Michigan eleven, ranked No. 1 in the nation, and the fourth loss in five games for the Gophers.

Minnesota, though, took all the acclaim from the favorites as the game opened. Pinky McNamara returned a punt 27 yards to set off an eight-yard touchdown dash by sophomore Bob Schultz and then turned in a 26-yard run from scrimmage to precede a 16-yard touchdown plunge by Ken Yackel.

Guard Mike Falls converted after the first marker, but his miss after the second when Barr blocked the effort, cost the Gophers a tie.

Then the Wolverines settled down. Jim Van Pelt, who completed five of 11 passes, for 78 yards, tossed to end Mike Rotunno, who lateralled to end Ed Shannon for a 36-yard gain. Then Barr passed to Tom Maentz for 23 yards to the Gopher five and Barr dashed the rest of the way himself.

The winning score came on a nine-yard pass from Van Pelt to Maentz but it was set up by nine straight rushes by Barr, Baldacci and Branoff. Branoff converted after the first touchdown and Van Pelt place-kicked the second conversion for the winning point.

Score by periods:

Minnesota	13	0	0	0—13
Michigan	0	7	7	0—14

Minnesota scoring — Touchdowns, Schultz (8, run), Yackel (16, plunge). Point after touchdown — Falls.

Army Rebounds To Tag Columbia With 45-0 Defeat

WEST POINT, N.Y., Oct. 22 (AP)—A churning 72-yard run by substitute Peter Lash highlighted a cascade of Army touchdowns which smothered fangless Columbia, 45-0, today to break a two-game losing streak for the men of West Point.

After his first infantry troops had rolled to four touchdowns in the opening half, Coach Earl Blaik obviously called off the dogs and sought to show the Lions some mercy.

Army's varsity, stung by successive losses to Michigan and Syracuse, played less than half the game. But reserves such as Lash, Frank Burd and Bob Munger proved even more damaging.

Lash's high-stepping sprint came with 15 seconds left in the opening half on the first play from scrimmage after Army had taken a punt. He reversed his field twice, sneaked out of at least two traps and galloped across the goal.

Dick Murtland, a jarring straightaway runner, scored two of the three last half touchdowns, plunging over from the one in the third period and sprinting nine yards in the second to end a 61-yard march.

Score by quarters:

Army	7	20	6	12—45

Army scoring — Touchdowns: ziegler (10 run); Uebel, (2, plunge) Munger (6, run); Lash (72, run); Murtland 2 (1, plunge; 9, run); Martina (12, run). Conversions: Chesnauskas 3.

Dayton's Errors Costly; Tennessee Claims 53-7 Rout

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 22 (AP)—An alert Tennessee football team turned Dayton errors into touchdowns today to route the Ohioans 53-7.

The Vols scored all but two of their six-pointers in the first half when they converted three Dayton fumbles and an intercepted pass into touchdowns.

Dayton talled its lone touchdown in the second quarter when quarterback Ken Bockenstette hit end Ron Finotti in the end zone with a six-yard pass. Ken Kristopaitis converted.

Tailback John Majors engineered Tennessee to three touchdowns before retiring from the game. Majors picked up 64 yards rushing and 22 on two passes to boost his offensive total for the season to 573 yards.

Stanford Indians Tie Washington's PCC Leaders, 7-7

SEATTLE, Oct. 22 (AP)—Stanford's Indians threw Tarr and trouble at Washington all through a sunny football afternoon today but had to settle for a 7-7 tie that knocked Washington out of its co-ownership of first place in the Pacific Coast Conference.

Both teams turned enemy fumbles into touchdowns in the opening quarter and the sun-washed crowd of 47,500 tingled in anticipation of a free-scoring fracas which never developed.

The Huskies took their bite quickly. Stanford received the opening kickoff, but on the second scrimmage play Washington tackle red Robinson jarred John Brodie loose from the ball and Ed Sheron recovered for the Huskies on the Stanford 18.

Hard-hitting Credell Green slammed to the Stanford three in four plays and from there halfback Mike Monroe angled into the corner to put Washington in front. Dean Derby booted the placement.

Stanford came boiling back to march 73 yards to the Washington five. There, Washington closed the gate on fourth down, took over at the nine but flubbed the pitchout on the first play and Stanford's Joe Long grabbed the ball on the 10.

Fullback Bill Tarr, a Washington export from upstate Bellingham, slammed through the middle to tally on Stanford's first play.

Mike Raftery kicked a high, wobbly placement which was barely good and, although it seemed unimportant then, it proved the point that saved Stanford from defeat.

Twice in the second quarter, Washington fought off Stanford threats, holding the Indians for downs on the 16 and again on the Washington one. Washington marched 93 yards after the second half kickoff and failed to score when Stanford checked the threat on its own two.

Stanford	7	0	0	0 — 7
Washington	7	0	0	0 — 7

Stanford scoring: Touchdown — Tarr (10, run). Conversion — Raftery.

Washington scoring: Touchdown —Monroe (3, run). Conversion — Derby.

Auburn extended its undefeated streak to 11 games while handing Furman its sixth loss of the season.

The stingless Purple Hurricanes were never able to generate a serious scoring threat throughout the game, and netted only 14 yards during the first half.

Fullback Joe Childress and quarterback Jimmy Cook led Auburn's scoring with two touchdowns each. Four other Plainsmen crossed Furman's goal line.

Cothren Steers Ole Miss Past Razorbacks, 17 To 7

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Oct. 22 (AP)—Fullback Paige Cothren ripped the University of Arkansas line to shreds and used his skillful toe to lead the University of Mississippi to a 17-7 football victory today.

Cothren scored 11 points on a touchdown, a field goal and two conversions to boost his season's scoring total to 44. He was the leading scorer in the Southeastern Conference when the game began.

Mississippi outclassed the Razorbacks on the ground and in the air. The Rebels grabbed the breaks, converting a recovered fumble into their first touchdown.

Quarterback Eagle Day, sometimes a first string player and sometimes not, passed and ran like an all-star to alternate in the scoring punch with Cothren.

Day passed to end Bob Drewry for the Rebels' second touchdown and recovered the fumble which set up the first score.

Mississippi stunned Arkansas with two touchdowns in the first seven minutes of play. Cothren added two conversions for a quick 14-0 lead.

Arkansas then tightened its spongy line and held the Rebels scoreless until late in the fourth period when Cothren kicked a 12-yard field goal.

Arkansas quarterback George Walker opened the only Razorback scoring drive when he intercepted a Mississippi pass on his own 45-yard line and dashed to the Mississippi 27.

Walker stepped back on the first play and fired a pass to end Jerry Souter, who took the ball away from a Mississippi defender and stumbled across for a score. Walker added the extra point.

Score by quarters:

Arkansas	0	0	7	0— 7

MINNEAPOLIS, Ot. 22—UP—Michigan's Wolverines, stunned by two quick Minnesota touchdowns, ground back with crushing running by Lou Baldacci, Terry Barr and Tony Branoff Saturday to pound out a 14-13 victory before 64,434 fans.

Minnesota, a two-touchdown underdog, clicked for 13 points in the first 12 minutes while Michigan stumbled and fumbled. But once the Wolverines began to clock they rolled 60 yards on razzle-dazzle for one score and stuck to the grounds for a 48-yard advance for the winning points.

It was the fifth straight win this season for the unbeaten Michigan eleven, ranked No. 1 in the nation, and the fourth loss in five games for the Gophers.

Minnesota, though, took all the acclaim from the favorites as the game opened. Pinky McNamara returned a punt 27 yards to set off an eight-yard touchdown dash by sophomore Bob Schultz and then turned in a 26-yard run from scrimmage to precede a 16-yard touchdown plunge by Ken Yackel.

Guard Mike Falls converted after the first marker, but his miss after the second when Barr blocked the effort, cost the Gophers a tie.

Then the Wolverines settled down. Jim Van Pelt, who completed five of 11 passes, for 78 yards, tossed to end Mike Rotunno, who lateralled to end Ed Shannon for a 36-yard gain. Then Barr passed to Tom Maentz for 23 yards to the Gopher five and Barr dashed the rest of the way himself.

The winning score came on a nine-yard pass from Van Pelt to Maentz but it was set up by nine straight rushes by Barr, Baldacci and Branoff. Branoff converted after the first touchdown and Van Pelt place-kicked the second conversion for the winning point.

Score by periods:

Minnesota	13	0	0	0	—13
Michigan	0	7	7	0	—14

Minnesota scoring — Touchdowns, Schultz (8, run), Yackel (16, plunge). Point after touchdown — Falls.

Michigan scoring — Barr (5, dplunge), Maentz (9, pass from Van Pelt). Points after touchdown — Branoff, Van Pelt.

Army Rebounds To Tag Columbia With 45-0 Defeat

WEST POINT, N.Y., Oct. 22 (AP)—A churning 72-yard run by substitute Peter Lash highlighted a cascade of Army touchdowns which smothered fangless Columbia, 45-0, today to break a two-game losing streak for the men of West Point.

After his first infantry troops had rolled to four touchdowns in the opening half, Coach Earl Blaik obviously called off the dogs and sought to show the Lions some mercy.

Army's varsity, stung by successive losses to Michigan and Syracuse, played less than half the game. But reserves such as Lash, Frank Burd and Bob Munger proved even more damaging.

Lash's high-stepping sprint came with 15 seconds left in the opening half on the first play from scrimmage after Army had taken a punt. He reversed his field twice, sneaked out of at least two traps and galloped across the goal.

Dick Murtland, a jarring straight-away runner, scored two of the three last half touchdowns, plunging over from the one in the third period and sprinting nine yards in the second to end a 61-yard march.

Score by quarters:

Army	7	20	6	12	—45

Army scoring — Touchdowns: ziegler (10 run); Uebel, (2, plunge) Munger (6, run); Lash (72, run); Murtland 2 (1, plunge; 9, run); Martina (12, run). Conversions: Chesnauskas 3.

BOSTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—Charging through the stretch with ground devouring strides, Brandywine stable's Countermand gained a three-quarter length victory in the $25,000 added Mayflower Stakes at Suffolk Downs today before 23,549 thrilled spectators.

Racing as one of three field horses in the 14 horse race, Countermand outfinished Mrs. J. E. O'Connell's favored Combustion, who saved place money by just a nose over N. R. Low's Akboy.

Stanford Indians Tie Washington's PCC Leaders, 7-7

SEATTLE, Oct. 22 (AP)—Stanford's Indians threw Tarr and trouble at Washington all through a sunny football afternoon today but had to settle for a 7-7 tie that knocked Washington out of its co-ownership of first place in the Pacific Coast Conference.

Both teams turned enemy fumbles into touchdowns in the opening quarter and the sun-washed crowd of 47,500 tingled in anticipation of a free-scoring fracas which never developed.

The Huskies took their bite quickly. Stanford received the opening kickoff, but on the second scrimmage play Washington tackle red Robinson jarred John Brodie loose from the ball and Ed Sheron recovered for the Huskies on the Stanford 18.

Hard-hitting Credell Green slammed to the Stanford three in four plays and from there halfback Mike Monroe angled into the corner to put Washington in front. Dean Derby booted the placement.

Stanford came boiling back to march 73 yards to the Washington five. There, Washington closed the gate on fourth down, took over at the nine but flubbed the pitchout on the first play and Stanford's Joe Long grabbed the ball on the 10.

Fullback Bill Tarr, a Washington export from upstate Bellingham, slammed through the middle to tally on Stanford's first play.

Mike Raftery kicked a high, wobbly placement which was barely good and, although it seemed unimportant then, it proved the point that saved Stanford from defeat.

Twice in the second quarter, Washington fought off Stanford threats, holding the Indians for downs on the 16 and again on the Washington one. Washington marched 93 yards after the second half kickoff and failed to score when Stanford checked the threat on its own two.

Stanford	7	0	0	0	— 7
Washington	7	0	0	0	— 7

Stanford scoring: Touchdown — Tarr (10, run). Conversion — Raftery.

Washington scoring: Touchdown —Monroe (3, run). Conversion — Derby.

Dayton's Errors Costly; Tennessee Claims 53-7 Rout

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 22 (AP)—An alert Tennessee football team turned Dayton errors into touchdowns today to route the Ohioans 53-7.

The Vols scored all but two of their six-pointers in the first half when they converted three Dayton fumbles and an intercepted pass into touchdowns.

Dayton tallied its lone touchdown in the second quarter when quarterback Ken Bockenstette hit end Ron Finotti in the end zone with a six-yard pass. Ken Kristopaitis converted.

Tailback John Majors engineered Tennessee to three touchdowns before retiring from the game. Majors picked up 64 yards rushing and 22 on two passes to boost his offensive total for the season to 573 yards.

Winless Furman Falls To Auburn By 53-0 Margin

AUBURN, Ala., Oct. 22—UP—Auburn looking ahead to its homecoming game with Mississippi State next week, coasted to a desultory 52-0 victory Saturday over winless Furman University before a crowd of 9,000.

Auburn extended its undefeated streak to 11 games while handing Furman its sixth loss of the season.

The stingless Purple Hurricanes were never able to generate a serious scoring threat throughout the game, and netted only 14 yards during the first half.

Fullback Joe Childress and quarterback Jimmy Cook led Auburn's scoring with two touchdowns each. Four other Plainsmen crossed Furman's goal line.

Cothren Steers Ole Miss Past Razorbacks, 17 To 7

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Oct. 22 (AP)—Fullback Paige Cothren ripped the University of Arkansas line to shreds and used his skillful toe to lead the University of Mississippi to a 17-7 football victory today.

Cothren scored 11 points on a touchdown, a field goal and two conversions to boost his season's scoring total to 44. He was the leading scorer in the Southeastern Conference when the game began.

Mississippi outclassed the Razorbacks on the ground and in the air. The Rebels grabbed the breaks, converting a recovered fumble into their first touchdown.

Quarterback Eagle Day, sometimes a first string player and sometimes not, passed and ran like an all-star to alternate in the scoring punch with Cothren.

Day passed to end Bob Drewry for the Rebels' second touchdown and recovered the fumble which set up the first score.

Mississippi stunned Arkansas with two touchdowns in the first seven minutes of play. Cothren added two conversions for a quick 14-0 lead.

Arkansas then tightened its spongy line and held the Rebels scoreless until late in the fourth period when Cothren kicked a 12-yard field goal.

Arkansas quarterback George Walker opened the only Razorback scoring drive when he intercepted a Mississippi pass on his own 45-yard line and dashed to the Mississippi 27.

Walker stepped back on the first play and fired a pass to end Jerry Souter, who took the ball away from a Mississippi defender and stumbled across for a score. Walker added the extra point.

Score by quarters:

Aggies Rip Bears Apart For 19 To 7 Win

Pardee Ramrods Bryant Upstarts In Southwest Win

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Oct. 22—UP—Jolting Jack Pardee jarred Baylor's touted line apart at the seams Saturday as Texas A&M's audacious Aggies carved out a 19-7 victory that boomed them to the top of the Southwest Conference before 35,000 fans.

Behind a supercharged line that outcharged the Baylor forwards at will and smothered its heralded attack to 34 net yards, Pardee and 10 other Aggie backs roamed for 265 yards and touchdowns in the first three periods.

Pardee, a six-man football graduate from tiny Christoval, Tex., scored on line plunges of one and two yards in the second and third periods after quarterback Donald Grant had shot the Aggies out in front in the opening period with a one-yard scoring sneak.

Pardee Important Cog

But, while his scoring plunges were short, the 202-pound Pardee made up for it elsewhere as he personally moved for 20 of his team's 63-yard second quarter drive and 48 of 66 that the Aggies covered on the third-quarter score. In all, he gained 81 yards in 18 plays as Texas A&M's sophomore-tinged crew swept to its fifth consecutive victory since bowing to UCLA in the season opener.

After the Aggies had capitalized on a recovered Baylor fumble only 17 yards from the goal in the opening minutes, Baylor bounced back to drive 69 yards, mostly on passes for a tying score on Reuben Saage's half-foot dive.

But, that was Baylor's last major threat of the afternoon as the great Aggie line boxed in its running attack and the secondary contained the Baylor passing game that only last week had knocked Washington from the undefeated ranks.

Baylor Calls on Traylor

Baylor even called upon its untested sophomore sensation, Doyle Traylor, in desperation in the last quarter but although he looked as if he might salvage a touchdown with his passing, the Aggies intercepted one and were knocking at the touchdown gate when the final gun sounded.

It was another brilliant team victory for Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant's young upstarts who were not supposed to do more than harry the opposition in this second season.

Baylor whipped up 134 yards in passing against the Aggies, but four interceptions offset that threat in the cluth.

Score by periods:

Texas A&M	7	6	6	0	-19

Texas A&M scoring — Touchdowns, Grant (1 foot, plunge); Pardee 2 (1, plunge, 2, plunge). Conversion—Taylor.

Maryland Nearer Orange Bowl As Syracuse Falls

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Oct. 22 (AP)—Powerful Maryland, ranked No. 2 in the nation, bolstered its chances of an Orange Bowl trip, today by manhandling Syracuse 34-13 behind a solid line that opened the holes for Ed Vereb, Phil Perlo and Jack Healey.

Smashing over two touchdowns in the first period with Perlo blasting six yards for the first and Vereb throwing 17 yards to Russ Dennis for the second, Maryland was threatened seriously only once.

The Syracuse team that upset Army last week clicked for an eye - popping 30- yard touchdown pass from Mark Hoffman to Don Althouse early in the second period but that strong Maryland line quickly closed the gap and helped Vereb score from the three for a first - half lead of 20-7.

It was all Maryland in the second half to the dismay of a sell-out crowd of 32,500 at Archbold Stadium with Healey romping home twice from three and seven in the third period as Coach Jim Tatum sprinkled his lineup with reserves.

Score by quarters:

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Oct. 22—UP—Mississippi State ground out touchdowns with equal ease whether Bill Stanton or Jim Bain was at the helm Saturday and whacked Alabama 26 to 7 for its fifth straight victory.

A homecoming crowd of 28,000 saw Alabama go down to its 10th consecutive defeat over a two-season span and got some hope for the future from Clay Walls, a brilliant sophomore quarterback.

Its backs working in smooth precision, the Maroons, beaten only by Florida this season, scored on sustained drives in every quarter and meanwhile staved off Walls's surprising passing and running attack with little damage.

Quarterbacks Stanton and Bain mixed aerials with bruising line play and catchy pitchouts to score on the tide.

The little Oak Grove, Mo., pilot is the holder of three IMCA world records.

Also entering their names on the entry list were Jerry Massey, Birmingham, Ala., who will drive the Buckner Offy; Lee Drollinger, Champaign, Ill., in his No. 21 Offy; Jerry Blundy, Peoria, Ill., in the Keith Saylor Special, and Swede Olson, Burlington, Ia., the corn state titleholder, in the Benson Special.

Latest IMCA reports reveal that Bobby Grim, famous Indianapolis, Ind., driver, has won the 1955 National Championship. With only four IMCA championship races left on the schedule, Grim has enough points to cinch the crown.

Grim's entry was the first received for the Shreveport events. He will be at the wheel of the famed Honore Offy in which he has won 24 feature races this year and set four world speed records, plus 23 track time trial marks.

Maryland Nearer Orange Bowl As Syracuse Falls

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Oct. 22 (AP)—Powerful Maryland, ranked No. 2 in the nation, bolstered its chances of an Orange Bowl trip, today by manhandling Syracuse 34-13 behind a solid line that opened the holes for Ed Vereb, Phil Perlo and Jack Healey.

Smashing over two touchdowns in the first period with Perlo blasting six yards for the first and Vereb throwing 17 yards to Russ Dennis for the second, Maryland was threatened seriously only once.

The Syracuse team that upset Army last week clicked for an eye - popping 30- yard touchdown pass from Mark Hoffman to Don Althouse early in the second period but that strong Maryland line quickly closed the gap and helped Vereb score from the three for a first - half lead of 20-7.

It was all Maryland in the second half to the dismay of a sell-out crowd of 32,500 at Archbold Stadium with Healey romping home twice from three and seven in the third period as Coach Jim Tatum sprinkled his lineup with reserves.

Score by quarters:

Maryland	14	6	14	0	—34
Syracuse	0	7	0	6	—13

Maryland scoring—Touchdowns: Perlo (6 Buck); Dennis (17 pass from Vereb); Vereb (3- off-tackle); J. Healey 2 (3 Buck; 7 end run). Conversions: Laughery 2, Perlo 2.

Maroons Win 5th Straight; Crimson Tide 26-7 Victim

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Oct. 22—UP—Mississippi State ground out touchdowns with equal ease whether Bill Stanton or Jim Bain was at the helm Saturday and whacked Alabama 26 to 7 for its fifth straight victory.

A homecoming crowd of 28,000 saw Alabama go down to its 10th consecutive defeat over a two-season span and got some hope for the future from Clay Walls, a brilliant sophomore quarterback.

Its backs working in smooth precision, the Maroons, beaten only by Florida this season, scored on sustained drives in every quarter and meanwhile staved off Walls's surprising passing and running attack with little damage.

Quarterbacks Stanton and Bain mixed aerials with bruising line play and catchy pitchouts to score on the tide.

Score by periods:

Miss. State	6	7	7	6	—26
Alabama	0	7	0	0	— 7

Mississippi State scoring—Touchdowns, Sabbatini (1, plunge), Morgan 2 (10, run-pass from Stanton, 6, run); Harness (14, run). Conversions — Morgan 2.

Alabama scoring — Touchdown, Walls (1, sneak). Conversion—Sington.

West Virginia In Second Half Win Over Penn State

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 22—UP—West Virginia, with halfback Bobby Moss leading the charge, surged from behind with three last half touchdowns Saturday to defeat Penn State 21-7.

West Virginia, extending its perfect record to five games, was set back by a fired-up State team in the first half, but was unstoppable once its charging team began to gallop in the second half.

With the Split-T expert Freddy Wyant, at the reins, the Mountaineers unleashed a ground attack that the Lions could not contain in the final 30 minutes. Moss accounted for two of the three scores.

Trailing 7-0 as the result of a second-quarter Penn State touchdown that followed a West Virginia fumble, the mammoth Mountaineers began rolling early in the third period after stopping the only last-half Penn State penetration at the West Virginia 29.

West Virginia appeared to be in a hole when a punt went out of bounds at its seven-yard line. But then the Mountaineers began to claw back at the Lions, smashing 93 yards to score in seven plays.

Moss sprinted around right end from nine yards out and Ted Holmes booted the extra point to tie it, 7-7.

With a record Mountaineer field crowd of 34,400 cheering them on, West Va. took over completely after that. Penn State didn't get another first down as big Bruce Bosely led a fiery West Virginia defense.

Score by periods:

West Virginia	0	0	7	14	—21
Penn State	0	7	0	0	— 7

West Virginia scoring: Touchdowns — Moss 2 (9, run; 12, run), Marconi (2, run). Conversions — Holmes 2, Huff.

Penn State scoring: Touchdown: Hoffman (1 foot, plunge). Conversion — Plum.

Triple Dead Heat Race Is Recorded At Agua Caliente

AGUA CALIENTE, Mexico, Oct. 22 (AP) — Three Mexican jockeys raced to a standoff here today to record the second triple winning dead heat on a major track since the advent of the photo finish camera 21 years ago.

The horses Stormsorno, Beaufair and Chancespeed raced shoulder to shoulder through the stretch to thrust their noses evenly on the wire in the eighth race at one mile. The time was 1:39 1-5.

Stormsorno on the rail, chance speed in between and Beaufair on the outside was the way they fanned to the finish before the official photochart lens.

The three young Mexican riders were Manuel Esparza on Stormsorno, Louis Leon on Beaufair, and Rene Cruzat on Chance Speed.

Only other such winning dead heat of camera record, according to the American Racing Manual, was the finish of Brownie, Bossuet and Wait A Bit in the Carter Handicap at Aqueduct, N. Y., on June 19, 1944.

Of the total winning pool of $4,092 on the race here, $991 was wagered on the three horses. To the 363 holders of $2 tickets, payoffs across the board were:

Stormsorno, $6.60, $5.40 and $5.40; Beaufair, $6, $9.40 and $7, and Chance Speed, $7, $6 and $7.60. The unusual place and show prices were caused by the triple dead heat.

Kentucky Defeats Florida, 10 To 7, In Final 20 Seconds

LEXINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—Delmar Hughes booted Kentucky to a 10-7 Southeastern Conference football victory over Florida tonight with a field goal from the 10-yard line with 20 seconds left.

Kentucky, fighting the clock for vital yardage, moved from its 18 to the Florida 10 on the strength of two Bob Hardy to Howard Schnellenberger's passes and a 27-yard run by Woody Herzog.

Then, on first down, Hughes came off the bench and booted the clincher.

Florida, a threat against a fumbling Kentucky team, moments earlier moved seven yards to tie the score after fullback Bob Dougherty fumbled at his seven, and Florida tackle Charlie Mitchell recovered.

On fourth down, Bobby Lance, on an option play, scooted off tackle four yards and calmly kicked the extra point that tied it at 7-7 with four minutes, 23 seconds left.

Kentucky, grinding out yard after yard, moved 53 yards in eight plays in the second period to take a 7-0 lead. Hardy scored the touchdown on a five-yard keeper and Hughes converted.

Florida	0	0	0	7	—7
Kentucky	0	7	0	3	—10

Florida scoring: Touchdown — Lance (4, run); Conversion—Lance.

Kentucky scoring: Touchdown—Hardy (5, run); Conversion—Hughes field goal; Hughes (20 yards).

Ryder Cuppers In 12-3 Lead Over Challengers

MIDLAND, Tex., Oct. 22 (AP)—Lead by captain Chick Harbert and Ted Kroll, who carded a spectacular 65 to score the day's only sweep, the U.S. Ryder Cup team seized a 12 - 3 advantage over Jimmy Demaret's hand-picked challenge team at Midland Country Club today.

The Kroll - Harbert tandem won three points in the Scotch foursome play, blanking the challenge team's Don Cherry, Walker Cup amateur from Wichita Falls, and Odessa pro Billy Maxwell.

The challenge team's best showing was made by long driving Mike Souchak, Grossinger, N. Y., and short iron expert, Vic Ghezzi of Deal, N.J.

Ghezzi blew a four-foot putt following a nice chip shot by Souchak from the frog hair just off the green, that would have given the challenge duo a 2-1 victory. Instead, they were forced to settle for a 1½ to 1½ tie as the team of Cary Middlteoff and Sam Snead won the hole to wipe out a one-hole deficit on the back nine.

They scored a 37 to a 39 to gain a full point on the back nine score. Outside of Harbert and Kroll, the only twosome to crack 70 on the 7,305-yard layout was Doug Ford and Jack Burke, Jr., who carded a 36-33—69 to beat Jimmy Demaret and Bo Wininger of the challenge team.

Summary of the matches—Vic Ghezzi, Deal, N. J. and Mike Souchak, Grossinger, N.Y. (72) tied Cary Middlecoff, Kiamesha Lake, N.Y. and Sam Snead, White Sulphur, W. Va., (73) 1½ to 1½.

Doug Ford, Kiamesha, N.Y., and Jack Burke, Jr., Kiamesha, N.Y. (69) defeated Jimmy Demaret, Kiamesha Lake, N.Y. and Bo Winiger, Oklahoma City, (72) 21 to ½.

Tommy Bolt, Chattanooga, Tenn., and Chandler Harper, Portsmouth, Va., (71) defeated Al Besselink, Grossinger, N.Y., and Fred Hawkins, St. Andrews, Ill., (74) 2½ to ½.

Marty Furgo, Lemont, Ill., and Jerry Barber, Los Angeles, (71) defeated Byron Nelson, Roanoke, Texas, and Bobby Moncreif, El Paso, (76) 2½ to ½.

Chick Harbert, Northville, Mich, and Ted Kroll, Bethesda, Md., (65), defeated Don Cherry, Wichita Falls, and Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex. (73) 3 to 0.

Waterfowl Woes Will Get Jaycee Attention Today

With the duck hunting season in Louisiana drawing near, today's Jaycee Roundtable television discussion will concern the development of public duck hunting areas in north Louisiana.

The overcrowding of present locations, continued drainage, and the steady growth of private grounds present a serious problem to sportsmen in Louisiana.

Panelists will be Raymond Moody, of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries commission; Joe Herring, biologist in charge of the district Wild Life and Fisheries program; Jack Rushing, of the Ouachita unit of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation; and T. J. Coenen, Rayville attorney and prominent sportsman.

Moderator will be Dr. T. A. Brulte Jr. Jaycee Harry [illegible]er is creating the program [illegible] the chairmanship of Diehlman[illegible]rnhardt. On hand to take the questions from the public will be Charles and Lenna Nelson and Herb Neitlick. The program will appear at its regular time of 4 p.m. over the local TV outlet.

Marty Marion, manager of the Chicago White Sox, played 1,502 games at shortstop for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Rebel Quarterbacks Meeting Tomorrow

The West Monroe Quarterback Club is scheduled to hold a meeting tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in the high school fieldhouse.

Films of the recent West Monroe-Ouachita game will be shown, and scouting reports on Haynesville, the Rebel's next opponent here Thursday night, will be discussed.

WHY SETTLE FOR LESS THAN $14,000 IN A YEAR

The days are gone when a "few thousand" a year salary was enough for a man to take care of his family, buy a new car, and "salt some away for the future."

If you are a middle-aged man who has reached the "ceiling" on your earnings and now want to make good in a new field, we can make you a fine offer to join our organization, where top men are paid up to $22,000 in a year.

In spite of shortages in other businesses, our volume is expanding at a terrific rate. We have an opening in the Monroe area for a man over 45. The man we want must be high grade (not high pressure), ambitious and sincere. Earnings are paid in advance, no investment is needed, no collections, no deliverie. Field training and drawing account to qualified men.

Write a personal letter to our PRESIDENT, Dept. H-2, P. O. Box 5206, Denver 17, Colorado.

WHY SETTLE FOR LESS THAN $14,000 IN A YEAR

The days are gone when a "few thousand" a year salary was enough for a man to take care of his family, buy a new car, and "salt some away for the future."

If you are a middle-aged man who has reached the "ceiling" on your earnings and now want to make good in a new field, we can make you a fine offer to join our organization, where top men are paid up to $22,000 in a year.

In spite of shortages in other businesses, our volume is expanding at a terrific rate. We have an opening in the Monroe area for a man over 45. The man we want must be high grade (not high pressure), ambitious and sincere. Earnings are paid in advance, no investment is needed, no collections, no deliverie. Field training and drawing account to qualified men.

Write a personal letter to our PRESIDENT, Dept. H-2, P. O. Box 5206, Denver 17, Colorado.

Don Cossacks Plan Balance In Offerings

The Don Cossack chorus and dancers, being presented in Monroe at the Neville High School auditorium, on Nov. 21 by the Jaycees of Monroe-West Monroe, will include in their program liturgical music, folk songs, Cossack melodies, battle songs and dances. They will include some recent American songs in their local appearance making for a well rounded show for all those who attend.

The membership of the Don Cossacks has always comprised the best of vocal talent, and dancers obtainable among the White Russian emigres who fought communism as early as 1920, and who actually may be considered pioneers in the fight against world communism.

All members of the chorus are now American citizens, and some of them fought in the ranks of the U. S. army during the Second World War. Besides the many concerts that they have given in military camps in the United States and overseas, they have put on their colorful show at 57 veterans hospitals.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is proud to sponsor such an outstanding group of entertainers in their only performance in this area. Tickets may be obtained by writing the Jaycee office at P. O. Box 1302, Monroe. Tickets may also be obtained from any member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, or by calling Stanley Bagwell at 7623 or Dave Masur at 3-6940. There will be a limited number of reserved seats available.

So many ways to vary rice to serve with a meat or fish course! To the hot cooked rice add grated raw carrot; or minced parsley; or minced scallions; or melted butter and curry powder mixed together; or chopped mushrooms cooked in butter; or green peas.

Griffis Named Scout Chairman

WINNSBORO, Oct. 22 (Special)—Charles Griffis, prominent Rayville merchant and civic worker, will head the Midland District of the Ouachita Valley Council Boy Scouts for the coming year. Griffis was elected to serve as chairman of the district at the district meeting held in Winnsboro recently.

Peck, outstanding building contractor, planter, banker and civic worker of Sicily-Island. Roy M. Taylor, postmaster and civic worker of Winnsboro who has had 18 years scouting experience behind him. C. D. Coburn of Wisner, barber and outstanding lay leader in the Monroe District of the Methodist Church. Walters will serve as 1st. vice-chairman, Peck as 2nd vice-chairman, Taylor as district commissioner and Coburn as asst. dist. commissioner in charge of Cub Scouts.

The membership of the Don Cossacks has always comprised the best of vocal talent, and dancers obtainable among the White Russian emigres who fought communism as early as 1920, and who actually may be considered pioneers in the fight against world communism.

All members of the chorus are now American citizens, and some of them fought in the ranks of the U. S. army during the Second World War. Besides the many concerts that they have given in military camps in the United States and overseas, they have put on their colorful show at 57 veterans hospitals.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is proud to sponsor such an outstanding group of entertainers in their only performance in this area. Tickets may be obtained by writing the Jaycee office at P. O. Box 1302, Monroe. Tickets may also be obtained from any member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, or by calling Stanley Bagwell at 7623 or Dave Masur at 3-6940. There will be a limited number of reserved seats available.

Wilborn-Wilson Vows Pledged In Lake Providence

Miss Marilyn Wilson became the bride of the Rev. Tommy Lewis Wilborn in an impressive ceremony at the First Assembly of God Church, on Saturday at seven o'clock in the evening.

The Rev. Warren Davenport, local pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Grover C. Kirksey.

Mrs. C. A. Martin, organist, presented a concert of prenuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Edward Dinger, who sang "I Love You Truly," prior to the exchange of vows and "The Lord's Prayer" at the conclusion of the ceremony.

The pulpit and chancel decorations carried a white and green theme with magnolia leaves, giant while chrysanthemums and Oregon fern, interspersing the white wrought iron standards burning cathedral candles. Miss Tolan Marie Wilson, sister of the bride, wearing black taffeta, with bolero of black velvet and shoulder corsage of canary carnations, lighted the candles.

The bride and her attendants wore tailored suits.

Miss Shirley Wilson, cousin of the bride, as bridesmaid, wore a suit of horizon blue sheen gabardine and sequined calot of white satin. She carried a bridal bouquet of white split carnations with graduated streamers of narrow white satin.

Miss Alice Hammack, maid of honor, chose an all wool boucle of grey flecked in white. Her rippled shell was lavishly rimmed with pearls and bugle beads against a background of winter white satin.

She, too, carried a bouquet of white split carnations.

The bride, given in marriage by the Rev. G. C. Kirksey, was wearing a suit of navy blue crepe suiting. A pink scarf was artistically draped around the throat, and her pink wool felt cloche had floral side clips of matching material. A short tie back rayon veil completed the ensemble.

The Rev. Wilborn had Mr. Freeman Smalley of Port Lavaca, Tex., as his best man, and the ushers were J. L. Key and Bilbo Wilson.

Immediately following the church ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. G. C. Kirksey. Miss Mary Edith Yarbro, Jackson, Miss., cousin of the bride, presided at the punch bowl and Miss Tolan Marie Wilson, served the cake.

Rev. and Mrs. Wilborn will make their home in Port Lavaca, Tex.

Kappa Delta's Celebrate Founders Day

On October 23rd, Kappa Delta celebrates the 58th anniversary of her founding at Longwood College, Farmville, Va. Two of the four founders are now living — these are Mrs. Arthur White of Norfolk, daughter of a distinguished Virginia senator, and Mrs. James Southall Wilson of Charlottesville, Va., the granddaughter of John Tyler, the tenth president of the United States. These two founders will be remembered in ceremonies by Kappa Delta members throughout the nation.

Kappa Delta with more than 37,000 members ranks fourth in the National Panhellenic Conference world with 90 college chapters, and third in number of alumnae associations, with 257 chartered groups. Kappa Delta was the first of the National Panhellenic Conference Groups to select aid and care of crippled children as a national philanthropy. Work with the Crippled Children's Hospital in Richmond, Va. was chosen as a tribute to the founding of the sorority in that state, and in the past 34 years, more than $165,000 has been given to this hospital by Kappa Delta. This sum includes the annual support of six beds plus gifts of major hospital needs and much medical equipment. At the 31st biennial national convention held in Bedford Springs, Pa. this year, $10,000 was given to the hospital for air conditioning the physical therapy unit, and an additional gift of $1,000 was derived from the Sunshine Box, a voluntary contribution plan which has become a tradition at all national conventions.

At the National convention in Virginia Beach in 1947, a Kappa Delta Research Award in Orthopedy, in the amount of $1,000 annually, was begun. Since the initial award made in 1950, this has been administered by the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons.

Since October 23rd fell on Sunday this year, Alpha Chi chapter of Kappa Delta at Louisiana Tech will celebrate Founders' Day tomorrow. They will observe the day with a special program and they will wear white throughout the day.

Kappa Delta's Celebrate Founders Day

On October 23rd, Kappa Delta celebrates the 58th anniversary of her founding at Longwood College, Farmville, Va. Two of the four founders are now living — these are Mrs. Arthur White of Norfolk, daughter of a distinguished Virginia senator, and Mrs. James Southall Wilson of Charlottesville, Va., the granddaughter of John Tyler, the tenth president of the United States. These two founders will be remembered in ceremonies by Kappa Delta members throughout the nation.

Kappa Delta with more than 37,000 members ranks fourth in the National Panhellenic Conference world with 90 college chapters, and third in number of alumnae associations, with 257 chartered groups. Kappa Delta was the first of the National Panhellenic Conference Groups to select aid and care of crippled children as a national philanthropy. Work with the Crippled Children's Hospital in Richmond, Va. was chosen as a tribute to the founding of the sorority in that state, and in the past 34 years, more than $165,000 has been given to this hospital by Kappa Delta. This sum includes the annual support of six beds plus gifts of major hospital needs and much medical equipment. At the 31st biennial national convention held in Bedford Springs, Pa. this year, $10,000 was given to the hospital for air conditioning the physical therapy unit, and an additional gift of $1,000 was derived from the Sunshine Box, a voluntary contribution plan which has become a tradition at all national conventions.

At the National convention in Virginia Beach in 1947, a Kappa Delta Research Award in Orthopedy, in the amount of $1,000 annually, was begun. Since the initial award made in 1950, this has been administered by the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons.

Since October 23rd fell on Sunday this year, Alpha Chi chapter of Kappa Delta at Louisiana Tech will celebrate Founders' Day tomorrow. They will observe the day with a special program and they will wear white throughout the day.

News From The Public Library

New books continue to arrive at the Ouachita Parish Public Library every week. These books are all cataloged at the headquarters branch and then distributed to the other branches. In ordering books we try to prepare for every type of reader and find just the book which will appeal to the many people we serve. When books are extremely popular, we order multiple copies so that people will not have to wait too long for the book they want. It is always hard to strike a happy medium in such a policy. We do not want people to wait too long to get a book, neither do we want to have a number of copies sitting on the shelf, when the popularity of the book has waned. We purchase a new copy of a book when we have as many as ten people waiting to read it. We could fill requests more quickly if all of our patrons would cooperate with us and return the book to the library as soon as they have finished it and not let friends read it while they have it checked out. The people who do just this are the ones who complain the loudest when they have to wait for a book that is very popular. Your cooperation in helping to keep the popular books moving would be greatly appreciated.

Now let's take a look at the new arrivals this week. In the field of fiction, "The Deer Park" by Norman Mailer will have a large initial demand because of the memory of Mr. Mailer's first book, "The Naked and the Dead." This book had its setting in the movie colony of California. It is an interesting and thoughtful story and will mean many things to many people.

A new novel by Angela Thirkell is always eagerly accepted by her fans. Her latest one is called "Enter Sir Robert" and is another of her delightful stories about the imaginary world of Barsetshire. 'Midpoint" by Isabella Holt is a fascinating novel of an American woman in a middle western city. There will be many familiar passages to many women. It is primarily a womans book and is extremely well written. "Black Mesa" is the latest Zane Grey book and is of course primarily a man's story. However, it will be of interest to all who love the old west. A very timely murder mystery is "Trick or Treat" by Doris Miles Disney. She is one of the best in the mystery field and this book will be much read.

One of the most popular writers of non - fiction is Emily Kimbrough. Her books are very humorous. Her latest one is called "So Near and Yet So Far," and deals with the adventures of five middle aged ladies in New Orleans and the bayou country. This book is delightfully written and will certainly be very popular. We have five copies of it and may have to order more.

Another book for which we have had a number of advance requests is "Louisiana Birds" by George H. Lowery. Jr. Many people are interested because Mr. Lowery formerly lived in Monroe but everyone who likes birds will be fascinated by this book. It is beautifully done. The illustrations are exquisite and it will be a useful as well as attractive book.

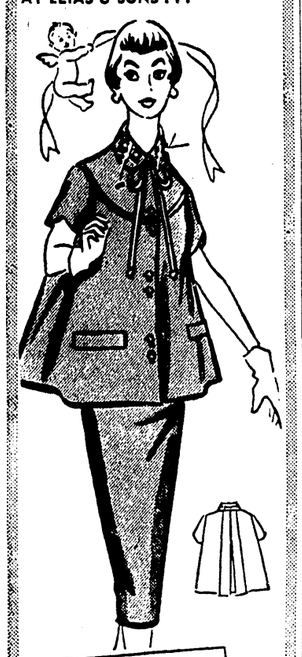

Two very practical books were called "How To Run a Club". This book was written by Harry Simmons and is a complete handbook for club members and officers. It should be extremely popular. The other is "Needlepoint Made Easy" by Mary Brooks Picken. All those who are interested in this art, should read the book.

A very fine series of reference books is called "The Interpreter's Bible." It is being published one volume at a time. The latest volume is V. 11, although it is only the ninth volume published. There are to be twelve in the set. This volume deals with Phillippians, Colossians, Thessalonians, Timothy, Philemon, Titus and Hebrews. This volume will be most helpful to students of the Bible.

The resources of the Ouachita Parish Public Library are yours for the asking. If you have not tried them, do so as soon as possible.

MISS EVA ANN LUDWICK

Former Monroyan Will Wed Dec. 22 In Hays, Kansas

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ludwick of Hays, Kan., formerly of this city, have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Eva Ann, to Bobbie Ronald McCoy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald L. McCoy of Russell, Kan.

The wedding will be an event of December 22 at St. Michael's Episcopal Church in Hays, Kan.

Miss Ludwick graduated from Neville High School and attended the University of Oklahoma and Louisiana State University where she was a member of Kappa Delta sorority.

Mr. McCoy is a student at Kansas State College and is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity.

Girl Scout News

Something new has been added to the new St. Francis Hospital. No, it's not equipment, nor staff, nor draperies. It's ten bright young girls with smiling faces and willing feet, neat and trim in the green skirt and white blouse that is the uniform of the Senior Girl Scout. They're hospital aides, one of several aide programs in senior scouting.

Bright and early, 7:00 o'clock to be exact, on Saturday mornings the girls report to Mrs. Adele Brossett, director of nurses, who assigns them to their positions. The plan is for each girl to work in each of the hospital divisions in turn during the 14 weeks training period, after which she will serve in the capacity she likes best. Two girls working together are to be found helping in the kitchen, surgical, pediatric, geriatric, obstetrical and medical departments of the hospital.

The girls serve trays, fill hot water bottles and ice caps, make beds, keep compresses hot or cold, run errands for the nurses, such as trips to the laboratory, X-ray, blood bank, or pharmacy. On Saturdays the patient who likes his morning paper gets it earlier because there is a Scout to go for it. The children love to have the girls read to them.

On some of the floors as the nurses have found time, they have taught the girls how to take temperature and pulse, how to bathe a patient, to order needed items from central supply. The girls have observed the dressing of wounds. In short, it looks as if they have no trouble making themselves useful.

And they love it, according to Frances Peterson, the nurse who helped make arrangements for the girls to serve and who helped to set up the training. The patients who come in contact with the girls are heartily in favor of the program, we hear, as are the doctors and nurses and the sisters. One of the doctors commenting on the value of such an opportunity for vocational exploration stated with emphasis, "There'll be no misfits among this group if they go into nursing; they'll know from this experience whether nursing is what they want."

The girls, all members of Senior Girl Scout Troop 14, Mrs. Robert Easterling, leader are: Dee Barksdale, Nancy Breard, Jerry Braucher, Charlotte Bruscato, Lynda Eby, Kay McCulloch, Jill Oswalt, Ingrid Peterson, Ann Rubey, and Beverly Rushing. The present ambition of each is to become a nurse, doctor, or technician. We're glad to see them take this first step toward the desired career, at the same time finding such a satisfying way of living up to that part of the Girl Scout Promise which says "to help other people at all times."

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES L. AULDS are shown with the wedding cake at the reception following their marriage at the First Baptist Church in Calhoun on Wednesday, October 12. The bride is the former Miss Betty Faye Barnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Barnes of Calhoun. Mr. Aulds is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Aulds, also of Calhoun.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith of Crossett, Arkansas, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Marjorie Ruth, to Mr. Franklin Nolan, son of Mrs. Floyd Rea of Beekman, Louisiana, and the late Mr. Willie Nolan.

Dorothy Doden, D. J. Faucheaux Pledge Troth

TALLULAH — Miss Dorothy Arlene Doden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Elmer Doden and Donald Joseph Faucheaux, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Faucheaux of New Orleans were married in an impressive candlelight ceremony at The First Baptist Church here on Saturday evening at six o'clock. The officiating minister was the Rev. Irvin Cheney, pastor of the church. Baskets of white gladioli and greenery and white cathedral candles in tall standards formed the simple and beautiful setting for the wedding scene.

As the guests were being seated Mrs. Edwin Courtney played "Liebestraum," "Calm as the Night," "O Promise Me" and "I Love Thee" and accompanied Mr. Gene Wilson who sang, "Because" and "I Love You Truly" and at the end of the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer."

The maid of honor, Miss Margie Doden and matron of honor, Mrs. Lewis Furr, sisters of the bride, wore identical dresses of ice blue crystalette, fashioned with bouffant waltz length skirts, accented with Godet inserts of fan pleating, molded bodices of appliqued lace embroidered with sequins. Their headdresses were blue velvet bandeaux with nose veils and they carried bronze tipped yellow chrysanthemums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a waltz length gown of white Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin. The lace bodice featured a scalloped neckline with tulle yoke, petite collar and long sleeves. The pleated tulle skirt had an overskirt of lace tulle panels. Her fingertip veil cascaded from a satin pillbox encrusted with pearlized lilies and orange blossoms and she carried a crescent shaped bouquet of lilies of the valley and a white orchid.

The bridegroom had as his best, Earl Allen of New Orleans and the ushers were Robert P. Grimes Jr., and Lewis Furr.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Doden chose a dress of gray lace over rose taffeta and Mrs. Faucheaux, the groom's mother wore navy taffeta eyelet dress over pink taffeta. They each had corsages of rose colored carnations.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride's parents entertained with a reception in the church parlors. Mrs. J. T. Fulton and Mrs. Manfred Gustafson presided at the punch service, Miss Betty Sue Horn and Mrs. Roland Mitchell served the wedding cake and Mrs. Robert Gaummitz had charge of the bride's book.

For their trip to Fontana Village Resort in North Carolina Mrs. Faucheaux changed to a slate wool suit with velvet trim, white hat and navy accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Tallulah High School and is a graduate nurse now studying for her bachelor of science degree at the L. S. U. school of medicine. Mr. Faucheaux is a student at Tulane University. The couple will reside at 4916 Dryades St., New Orleans.

A number of friends and relatives from New Orleans were in attendance.

Can And Freeze Sweet Potatoes

Save Sweet Potatoes by Canning and Freezing

A number of calls have been received on what to do with sweet potatoes to prevent them from decaying. Since it is impossible for the small producer to have a curing house, it is wise to can or freeze these potatoes. To freeze, cook until tender, mash or slice. To prevent discoloration add one teaspoon lemon juice to each quart of potatoes. Pack in containers, leaving one inch head space, and freeze. Information on canning sweet potatoes is given on page 25-26 in bulletin "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables." This bulletin is available by calling 3-2251.

Club Presidents' Meeting—October 28th

Each club president is urged to attend this meeting October 28th at 9:30 a. m. There are several matters to be discussed at this time relative to 1956 program and organization. Be sure to bring score sheets and scrap books. 1955 yearbooks will be distributed at this meeting.

Pork—Cook Pork Thoroughly

With the coming of cool weather, fresh pork will be served more on our tables. Homemakers are reminded that all pork should be thoroughly cooked. Thorough cooking kills any trichinae that may be in raw pork. The disease called trichinosis, which can be caused by eating undercooked pork, is a serious one. Run no risk. Cook pork throughly all the way through. A meat thermometer is useful in testing to see that pork is cooked correctly.

Apples Are Plentiful Now

While our market is bulging with fresh apples, try this new way to make apple crisp. (I tried it Sunday and found it most delicious.)

Apple Crisp

1-3 cup sifted flour; 2-3 cup dry milk; 3 tablespoons sugar; ¼ teaspoon nutmeg; ¼ teaspoon salt; 1 teaspoon cinnamon; ½ cup butter; 4 cups pared sliced tart apples; ½ cup sugar; ½ teaspoon cinnamon.

Turn oven to 325 degrees F. Grease shallow baking dish — 1½ quarts. Mix dry milk, sugar, salt, nutmeg and cinnamon with a fork. Add butter or margarine and mix with fork until crumbly. Mix apples with ½ cup sugar and ½ teaspoon cinnamon. Put apple mixture in greased baking dish. Sprinkle crumb mixture on top of apples. Bake at 325 degrees F. for 45 minutes or until apples are tender. Serve warm.

Garden Tips

The white seeded canfreezer snap bean has been perrfected by the research department and soon will be ready for release to growers. This bean is a high yielder and is recommended for fall or spring planting by home gardeners or commercial growers. Processors have asked for a white seeded type bean, saying that the old black seeded type is not entirely satisfactory for freezing or canning.

Clean Up To Reduce Insect Problems

Insect problems will be fewer for gardeners next year, if the places where these insects will spend the winter are destroyed now. Many insects and mites will live through the winter in trash and weeds left in the garden and yards.

Insects also spend the winter in wood piles, in the cracks and crevices, around the foundations of buildings, in the litter under shrubs around the house, and under the bark of trees. These places should be treated with insecticides which have long residual action, such as lindane, chlordane, toxaphene, DDT, dieldrin, or heptachlor. They may be applied as dusts or sprays.

Mulches used to protect plants during the winter also protect insects. Insecticides should be applied around the plant before mulching and should be mixed into the mulching material.

If you use less than one to 1½ teaspoons of tea to a cup of water, you won't have a good strong bracing beverage. And be sure to let the tea steep for five minutes.

POETRY SOCIETY MEETING—Among those attending the recent meeting of the Louisiana State Poetry Society in Baton Rouge, from left, are J. Ashton Greene, president, Mary B. Wall, newly elected president, Patricia Ann Hartley of Monroe, who was third place winner in the high school contest, Ethel E. Harvey, treasurer, Pat Smiley of New Orleans and R. Zeagler, state high school supervisor who made the awards.

State Poetry Society Meets In Baton Rouge

When the Louisiana State Poetry Society met in Baton Rouge for their annual state meeting, two firsts highlighted the occasion. One was what is believed to be the first poet laureate award ever to be made in Louisiana. The other was the publication, Lyric Louisiana, first collection of poems by members of the society. While there have been several collections of poems by Louisiana writers, this is believed to be the first group written on Louisiana subjects by native or resident sons and daughters. The book is dedicated to the Acadian BiCentennial.

The 1955 high school poetry award went to Miss Pat Smiley, Alcee Fortier High, New Orleans. The handsome bronze cup will remain in that school for one year. Hereafter the competition will be annual, therefore for many years the name of Emma Wilson Emery, Poet Laureate of Louisiana, from Shreveport, engraved upon the cup will be spoken in the cause of poetry. Miss Emery's favorite quotation from Father Ryan also appears on the cup, and this was read by J. Ashton Greene, president of the society, when making the presentation. A cash award from the society, and honorary membership were given the winner. One of the sponsors of the TV luncheon program at which the presentation took place, awarded Miss Smiley an all expense week end at Gulf Hills Dude Ranch in Mississippi.

Mr. R. Teagle, state supervisor of Louisiana high schools addressed the group, and made the second and third place awards. These went to Bob Mitchell, 2nd, and Jean Varnaben, both of Fortier, the latter tying for third place with Miss Patricia Ann Hartley of Monroe, whose entry came from her former home town, Lake Providence. In the group of honorable mentions were Jacquelyn Korn, Martha Leppert, Cynthia Konrad and Whewellene Williamson of Fortier; Mary Louise Garzotto, New Iberia, and Kay Reynolds, Byrd High, Shreveport. In this, the first contest conducted by LSPS, entries were received from all corners of the state, from the smallest towns and the largest cities.

Following the awards, Miss Ruth Voss of New Orleans read The Poet's Song by Emma Wilson Emery, and a picture of the poet laureate was projected for the television audience.

Many features were planned preceding Poetry Day, October 15th. State and parish libraries and book stores had poetry displayed for reading. In the Old State Capitol in Baton Rouge books and posters of published and unpublished poetry of members were exhibited. The books of Ethel Green Russell, Peggy Windsor Garnett, May Smith White, Adelaide Long Lawson, all of Monroe were among the book displays. The published poems of Monroe and Farmerville members were also displayed.

During a short business session officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mary B. Wall, Baton Rouge; 1st vice president, Ruth Voss, New Orleans; 2nd V.P., Thelma Cudd Adams, Shreveport; third V. P., Felix Howland, New Orleans; recording secretary, Charline Hays Brown, Monroe; corresponding Secretary, Alice Moser Claudell, Chalmette; treasurer, Ethel E. Harvey, Baton Rouge.

Ruth Voss, program chairman, presided during the program hour at the Old State Capitol. The poems of members, published during the current year, were featured. A group of unpublished poems by associate and active members were also read. Mary B. Wall made the announcement of the contest winners in the last series of contests for 1954-55. In the Anne Mobley Memorial award, 1st place went to Cora Phillips, Baton Rouge; 2nd to Eva Hinton Robinson, Baton Rouge and 3rd to Peggy Windsor Garnett of Monroe. In the hero or heroine contest, 1st place was awarded Cynthia LaFrance, Monroe, 2nd; Peggy Windsor Garnett, Monroe, and 3rd, Ethel E. Harvey, Baton Rouge.

At the tea hour Mrs. M. D. Saucier, chairman assisted by Mrs. R. Stafford and a group of active and sustaining members were the hospitality committee. Helen Jennings Macy, honorary member with state and local officers received guests.

The New Orleans branch of the society plans a review of Lyric Louisiana and a poetry program at the Presbytere on Sunday, October 23 at 6 p.m. and all members and their guests are invited.

The society announced that the state high school contest for 1955-56 will be open to all students in the high school divisions. The subject and form of poem to be chosen by student; line limit 24 lines and deadline May 31st. Further details will appear in papers of the state.

Sugar adds flavor to yeast bread and gives the crust a good color. It also provides food for the yeast to produce the leavening gas. Use the amount of sugar called for in a good recipe; adding sugar indiscriminately is not a good idea. Too much sugar will retard yeast.

Jigtime supper dish: Add tuna, broken into chunks, to canned macaroni with cheese sauce. Sprinkle with grated cheese and place in a moderate oven to heat while you are setting the table and putting a green salad together. French bread can go into the oven to heat along with the casserole. A big bowl of crisp red apples and succulent fresh pears for dessert with lots of coffee

Save Sweet Potatoes by Canning and Freezing

A number of calls have been received on what to do with sweet potatoes to prevent them from decaying. Since it is impossible for the small producer to have a curing house, it is wise to can or freeze these potatoes. To freeze, cook until tender, mash or slice. To prevent discoloration add one teaspoon lemon juice to each quart of potatoes. Pack in containers, leaving one inch head space, and freeze. Information on canning sweet potatoes is given on page 25-26 in bulletin "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables." This bulletin is available by calling 3-2251.

MRS. WALDO STEPHENS

Freedom Agenda Group To Hear Talk On Plans

Mrs. Waldo E. Stephens, of Oklahoma City, will address a planning meeting to organize a Freedom Agenda program locally Thursday morning at the Virginia Hotel.

Mrs. Vera Troy, president of the League of Women Voters, said that the planning meeting was being held in order to inform the community on the work of the Freedom Agenda.

The meeting is being sponsored by the League of Women Voters to get the movement underway, Mrs. Troy said.

Starting at 10 a. m. the meeting will continue through a luncheon period and will reconvene formally at 1:30 p. m.

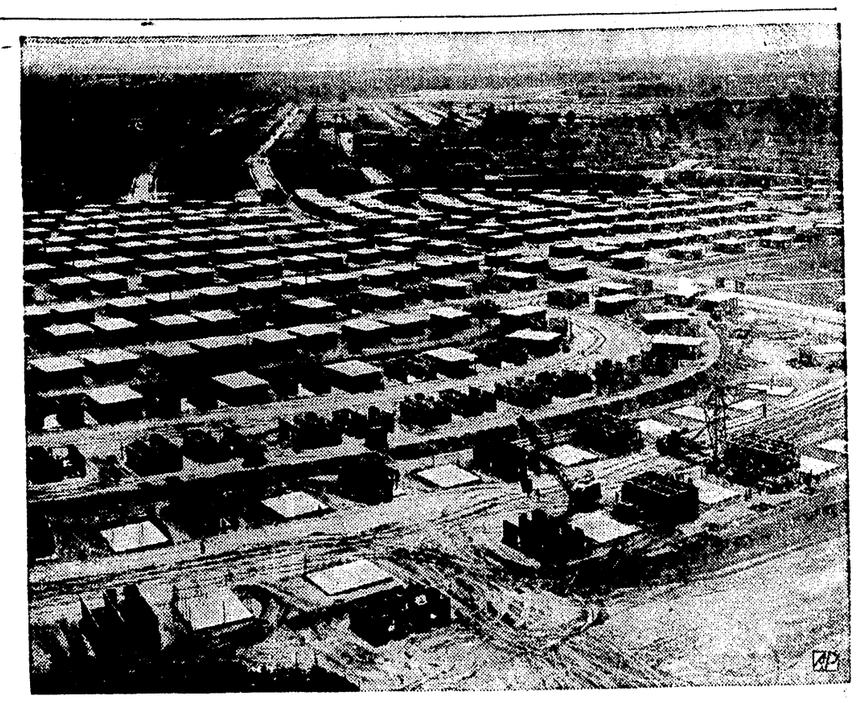

Mrs. Stephens will conduct the discussions on objectives of the agenda program.

The purpose of the Freedom Agenda program is to stimulate discussion of individual liberties, recognizing that the subjects covered are not static but are still developing through public opinion, legislation, administrative rulings and judicial interuretation. The Freedom Agenda hopes that widespread free discussion of the constitutional guarantees will develop a sound understanding of the American heritage and provide an increased devotion to the inherent values and promote a thoughtful consideration of the problems involved in the preservation of national security.

The Carrie Chapman Catt Memorial Fund, research and educational fund created by the League of Women Voters in the United States, created the Freedom Agenda program after being convinced of a need for more widespread citizen education on individual liberty.

Mrs. Stephens is a member of the national board of the League of Women Voters and is chairman of the committee which is charged with the responsibility for the league's work in the field of international relations. She was second vice - president of the national group from 1952-54.

She is a graduate of Ohio Weslayan University and did graduate work at Columbia University. She first became interested in the League of Women Voters of New York City when her husband was a member of the faculty of the department of government at Columbia University. Dr. Stephns is now executive vice president of Esperanza Oils, Inc. and both he and Mrs. Stephens are known throughout the state as leaders in public affairs.

MRS. WALDO STEPHENS

Freedom Agenda Group To Hear Talk On Plans

Mrs. Waldo E. Stephens, of Oklahoma City, will address a planning meeting to organize a Freedom Agenda program locally Thursday morning at the Virginia Hotel.

Mrs. Vera Troy, president of the League of Women Voters, said that the planning meeting was being held in order to inform the community on the work of the Freedom Agenda.

The meeting is being sponsored by the League of Women Voters to get the movement underway, Mrs. Troy said.

Starting at 10 a. m. the meeting will continue through a luncheon period and will reconvene formally at 1:30 p. m.

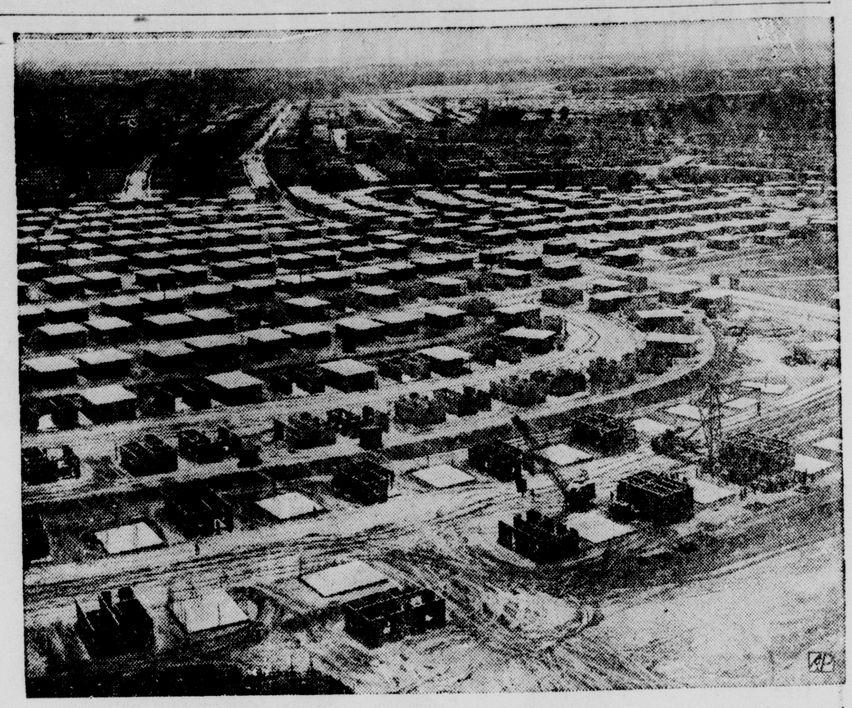

Mrs. Stephens will conduct the discussions on objectives of the agenda program.

The purpose of the Freedom Agenda program is to stimulate discussion of individual liberties, recognizing that the subjects covered are not static but are still developing through public opinion, legislation, administrative rulings and judicial interuretation. The Freedom Agenda hopes that widespread free discussion of the constitutional guarantees will develop a sound understanding of the American heritage and provide an increased devotion to the inherent values and promote a thoughtful consideration of the problems involved in the preservation of national security.

The Carrie Chapman Catt Memorial Fund, research and educational fund created by the League of Women Voters in the United States, created the Freedom Agenda program after being convinced of a need for more widespread citizen education on individual liberty.

Mrs. Stephens is a member of the national board of the League of Women Voters and is chairman of the committee which is charged with the responsibility for the league's work in the field of international relations. She was second vice - president of the national group from 1952-54.

She is a graduate of Ohio Weslayan University and did graduate work at Columbia University. She first became interested in the League of Women Voters of New York City when her husband was a member of the faculty of the department of government at Columbia University. Dr. Stephns is now executive vice president of Esperanza Oils, Inc. and both he and Mrs. Stephens are known throughout the state as leaders in public affairs.

African Chief Pursued By Second British Beauty

KAMPALA, Uganda, Oct. 22 (AP)—Another British beauty—the second in three days—who popped up here at an awkward moment for King Freddie apparently got the royal rush out of town today.

The beauty, giving her name as Phillida Stephens, swooshed into this East African capital yesterday and announced herhelf as the "guest of Freddie," more formally known as King Mutesa II, the 31-year-old Kabaka of Buganda.

The British-educated Kabaka returned here Monday to join his queen and young son after two years of exile in England. He had been banished after refusing to cooperate with British Colonial authorities in a government reorganization which he said would extend the white man's influence.

On Wednesday, just as the Kabaka wah settling back into the old routine of his royal court, a statuesque British beauty showed up in town with a one-way air ticket and said she was "Freddie's guest." She was Marcelle Parker, who appears as a nude in the London edition of the Folies Bergere. She arrived in Kampala wearing a picturesque straw sunhat and a white cotton dress adorned with pink rosebuds.

The 28-year-old Marcelle got as far as the fashionable Imperial Hotel here A determined looking delegation from the royal palace called on her. It was led by the Kabaka's elder brother, Prince Henry Kimera. The prince told her she had better go home. Some one mentioned her lack of an immigration visa and suggested the next plane back to London.

Marcelle protested in vigorous tones that resounded through the dignified halls of the Imperial Hotel. She barricaded herself in her room and refused to budge. Prince Henry finally smoothed matters over by agreeing to accompany the girl back to Britain if she'd come out.

They went together to the airport and boarded an airliner for London. But the prince was summoned out "for an urgent telephone call." He dashed out and, the explanation was, he missed the plane.

The screaming Marcelle, her fists pounding against the plane's door, could be heard above the roar of the engines as the plane started up. She arrived back in London in a calmer mood yesterday and told newsmen there: "It was entirely my mistake. I simply did not have time to arrange for a visitor's permit."

Just as Marcelle was reaching London, the second British woman showed up. Officials of the royal court were ready this time.

The Kabaka's aide-de-camp hurried up to the hotel in a Rolls Royce. Then a swarm of police and immigration officials came to talk to her.

That was the last seen of her in Kampala. The hotel said Phillida was still registered but just wasn't there to see anyone.

Saarlanders Warned To Keep Peace During Plebiscite On Europeanization

SAARBRUECKEN, Saar, Oct 22 (AP)—The European Commission for the Saar sternly warned Saarlanders tonight to maintain order and calm during Sunday's plebiscite on Europeanization of the rich valley.

The warning followed a commission announcement that the Saar's borders will be sealed tight on Sunday to keep out any foreign troublemakers during the voting and counting.

Sen. Fernard Dehousse, the commission's Belgian chairman, told a news conference the recent relative peace of the hotly contested plebiscite campaign "might change in the last days or on Sunday itself." He said the voting must be conducted with "order and calm worthy of a democracy."

Tempers are running high as the campaign for approval of the statute placing this coal and steel-rich territory on the French-German border under Western European Union control nears an end.

Pitted against the pro-Europeanization forces led by Saar Premier Johannes Hoffman are strong pro-German elements who want the territory restored to Germany—despite the West German government's support of Europeanization.

In 1935, when Hitler was in power, 90 per ent of the Saarlanders voted in plebiscite to cast off League of Nations trusteeship and go back to Germany.

At the end of World War II, France took control of the Saar's economy and foreign affairs and supervision of its internal government, headed by Hoffman. Dispute between France and West Germany over the territory's future was an obstacle to the Bonn government's entry into the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance and authorization for West German rearmament until the Europeanization solution was proposed and accepted by both sides.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has appealed from his sickbed to German-speaking Saarlanders to vote "yes" for the statute. French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay has warned that a rejection of the statute will not mean that the territory will go to Germany but that the status quo will be maintained.

Pinay said rejection of Europeanization would make it impossible for any French Parliament to approve reopening negotiations for an alternative solution.

The statute provides a firm economic and customs union with France, internal self-government and supervision of the Saar's foreign relations by a high commissioner to be appointed by the seven-nation WEU.

Private Plane Crashes; Three Persons Perish

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Oct. 22 —A private plane exploded and crashed in flames in this north central Pennsylvania region today, killing five persons.

State police said those aboard the single engine Beechcraft Bonanza were Dr. Marven O. Larsen, 38, of Middletown, N.Y.; his wife, Dorothy 36; their two children, Marven Dean, 18 months, and Karen, 4 and Russell Gowdey, of Bloomingburg, N.Y., near Middletown. Gowdey was described as a business associate of Dr. Larsen.

Cpl. Earl Moore, of the state police, said information that these five were in the plane came from the Middletown Airport where the plane took off for Pittsburgh.

Dr. Earl Miller of Lycoming County was on the scene but none of the bodies had been officially identified.

The plane exploded in view of several farmers and fell on the chicken farm of John E. Hart. The crash site is about 20 miles east of Williamsport, between Hughesville and Picture Rocks, near the community of Shady Nook.

State police and CAA investigators from the Williamsport Airport were still trying to recover the bodies almost three hours after the crash.

Jess E. Hackenburg of Williamsport, who flew over the scene soon after the accident, said it appeared that the plane struck the top of a utility pole.

Moore said the crash was caused by a "structural failure of the plane." He said he found a wing and door a mile from the spot where the plane came to earth in a ravine just off U. S. 220.

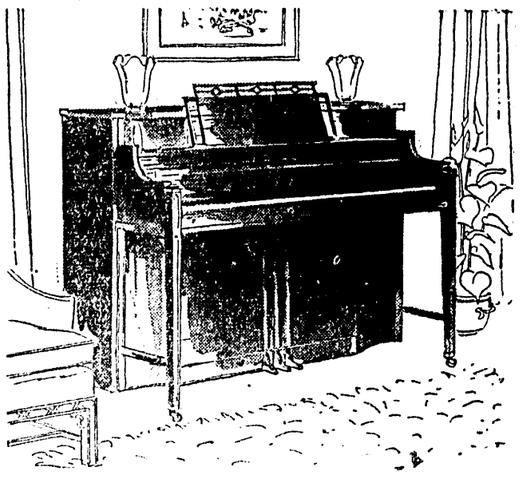

Gowdey, about 40, was a Middletown high school instructor and president of the New York State Christian Endeavor Union.

They went together to the airport and boarded an airliner for London. But the prince was summoned out "for an urgent telephone call." He dashed out and, the explanation was, he missed the plane.

The screaming Marcelle, her fists pounding against the plane's door, could be heard above the roar of the engines as the plane started up. She arrived back in London in a calmer mood yesterday and told newsmen there: "It was entirely my mistake. I simply did not have time to arrange for a visitor's permit."

Just as Marcelle was reaching London, the second British woman showed up. Officials of the royal court were ready this time.

The Kabaka's aide-de-camp hurried up to the hotel in a Rolls Royce. Then a swarm of police and immigration officials came to talk to her.

That was the last seen of her in Kampala. The hotel said Phillida was still registered but just wasn't there to see anyone.

Saarlanders Warned To Keep Peace During Plebiscite On Europeanization

SAARBRUECKEN, Saar, Oct 22 (AP)—The European Commission for the Saar sternly warned Saarlanders tonight to maintain order and calm during Sunday's plebiscite on Europeanization of the rich valley.

The warning followed a commission announcement that the Saar's borders will be sealed tight on Sunday to keep out any foreign troublemakers during the voting and counting.

Sen. Fernard Dehousse, the commission's Belgian chairman, told a news conference the recent relative peace of the hotly contested plebiscite campaign "might change in the last days or on Sunday itself." He said the voting must be conducted with "order and calm worthy of a democracy."

Tempers are running high as the campaign for approval of the statute placing this coal and steel-rich territory on the French-German border under Western European Union control nears an end.

Pitted against the pro-Europeanization forces led by Saar Premier Johannes Hoffman are strong pro-German elements who want the territory restored to Germany—despite the West German government's support of Europeanization.

In 1935, when Hitler was in power, 90 per ent of the Saarlanders voted in plebiscite to cast off League of Nations trusteeship and go back to Germany.

At the end of World War II, France took control of the Saar's economy and foreign affairs and supervision of its internal government, headed by Hoffman. Dispute between France and West Germany over the territory's future was an obstacle to the Bonn government's entry into the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance and authorization for West German rearmament until the Europeanization solution was proposed and accepted by both sides.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has appealed from his sickbed to German-speaking Saarlanders to vote "yes" for the statute. French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay has warned that a rejection of the statute will not mean that the territory will go to Germany but that the status quo will be maintained.

Pinay said rejection of Europeanization would make it impossible for any French Parliament to approve reopening negotiations for an alternative solution.

The statute provides a firm economic and customs union with France, internal self-government and supervision of the Saar's foreign relations by a high commissioner to be appointed by the seven-nation WEU.

Private Plane Crashes; Three Persons Perish

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Oct. 22 —A private plane exploded and crashed in flames in this north central Pennsylvania region today, killing five persons.

State police said those aboard the single engine Beechcraft Bonanza were Dr. Marven O. Larsen, 38, of Middletown, N.Y.; his wife, Dorothy 36; their two children, Marven Dean, 18 months, and Karen, 4 and Russell Gowdey, of Bloomingburg, N.Y., near Middletown. Gowdey was described as a business associate of Dr. Larsen.

Cpl. Earl Moore, of the state police, said information that these five were in the plane came from the Middletown Airport where the plane took off for Pittsburgh.

Dr. Earl Miller of Lycoming County was on the scene but none of the bodies had been officially identified.

The plane exploded in view of several farmers and fell on the chicken farm of John E. Hart. The crash site is about 20 miles east of Williamsport, between Hughesville and Picture Rocks, near the community of Shady Nook.

State police and CAA investigators from the Williamsport Airport were still trying to recover the bodies almost three hours after the crash.

Jess E. Hackenburg of Williamsport, who flew over the scene soon after the accident, said it appeared that the plane struck the top of a utility pole.

Moore said the crash was caused by a "structural failure of the plane." He said he found a wing and door a mile from the spot where the plane came to earth in a ravine just off U. S. 220.

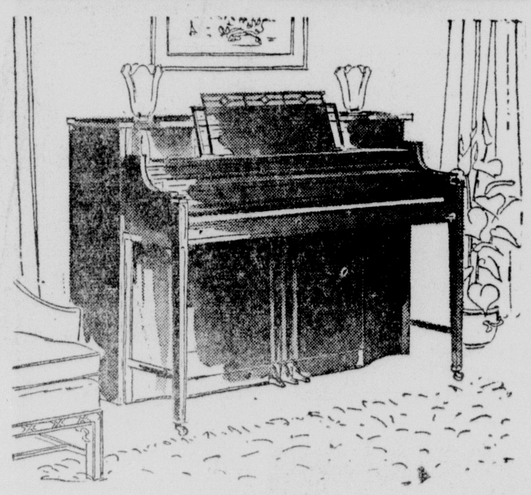

Gowdey, about 40, was a Middletown high school instructor and president of the New York State Christian Endeavor Union.

French Premier Orders Elections Next December

PARIS, Oct. 22 —UP— Premier Edgar Faure's cabinet Friday night called for new prliamentary general elections in France in early December to replace the present stalemated National Assembly.

The elections previous-lions was reached in a cabinet session presided over by President Rene Coty.

The government then Immediately were scheduled for next June, when the tenure of the parliament elected in the summer of 1951 expires.

The premier hoped new voting would result in a stronger government. He was said to feel the present clique - ridden assembly has reached the point where it is impossible for any government to carry out its mandate effectively.

Faure announced briskly after the cabinet meeting that if parliament approves, the new elections would come between Dec. 4 and 11, almost immediately after the Big Four Geneva conference.

But he side-stepped a question on whether he would demand a confidence vote to push the elections bill through the assembly.

The elections previous-tions was reached in a cabinet session presided over by President Rene Coty.

The government then immediately were scheduled for next June, when the tenure of the parliament elected in the summer of 1951 expires.

The premier hoped new voting would result in a stronger government. He was said to feel the present clique - ridden assembly has reached the point where it is impossible for any government to carry out its mandate effectively.

Faure announced briskly after the cabinet meeting that if parliament approves, the new elections would come between Dec. 4 and 11, almost immediately after the Big Four Geneva conference.

But he side-stepped a question on whether he would demand a confidence vote to push the elections bill through the assembly.

QUESTION: I have a chronic intestinal trouble which the doctor says is caused by worry. He tells me to relax, but how can I when the success of my business and the employment of 5,000 men and women depends upon me? C. T.

ANSWER: Your question indicates that you believe your work is important. If that is true, it is God's work. He has given it to you. And He will help you do it, if you ask Him.

Begin each day by saying the Lord's Prayer. When you come to the words "Give us this day our daily bread" remember that Jesus told us to ask only for the needs of one day. Most of our worries come from being too concerned about the future. When Christ was in Galilee He gave himself entirely to the work there. He didn't wear Himself out by worrying what would happen to Him in Jerusalem when it was time for Him to go there. He knew that when future trials came, He could meet them with the Father's help.

In the life of Christ we find our example. Trust in God. Each morning ask Him to guide you in the decisions you must make that day. Every hour take time to send a minute prayer to heaven. You may have felt like a deep-sea diver who is suffocating for want of air. Prayer is the lifeline that brings divine oxygen to your lungs.

Then when you go from your place of business, leave all thoughts of your work behind. Enjoy your family and friends. Take time to read the Bible daily. Take some recreation each week.

Jesus said, "Take no thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself." (Matthew 6:34). Do this. Live one day at a time, trusting in God, and you'll find no need to worry.

Bible Words for Today

MATTHEW 12:30—"He that is not with me, is against me, and he that does not gather with me scatters." (RSV)

Jesus never asked any one for a letter of recommendation. He still makes only one suggestion: "He that is not with me is against me, and he that does not gather with me scatters."

There are only two sides to Christianity—for and against.

Any position which is not submission, is rebellion.

Any diluted Christianity is paganism, no longer Christianity at all.

Any delayed decision regarding Christ is a vote against Him. You just cannot "serve God and mammon."

In the very last analysis, that decision is a decision of destiny. "When the Son of Man shall come in His glory"—there are still only the same two irreconcilable sides on which we can possibly be found—"Come, ye blessed of my Father," and "Depart from me, I never knew you."

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

QUESTION: I have a chronic intestinal trouble which the doctor says is caused by worry. He tells me to relax, but how can I when the success of my business and the employment of 5,000 men and women depends upon me? C. T.

ANSWER: Your question indicates that you believe your work is important. If that is true, it is God's work. He has given it to you. And He will help you do it, if you ask Him.

Begin each day by saying the Lord's Prayer. When you come to the words, "Give us this day our daily bread" remember that Jesus told us to ask only for the needs of one day. Most of our worries come from being too concerned about the future. When Christ was in Galilee He gave himself entirely to the work there. He didn't wear Himself out by worrying what would happen to Him in Jerusalem when it was time for Him to go there. He knew that when future trials came, He could meet them with the Father's help.

In the life of Christ we find our example. Trust in God. Each morning ask Him to guide you in the decisions you must make that day. Every hour take time to send a minute-prayer to heaven. You may have felt like a deep-sea diver who is suffocating for want of air. Prayer is the lifeline that brings divine oxygen to your lungs.

Then when you go from your place of business, leave all thoughts of your work behind. Enjoy your family and friends. Take time to read the Bible daily. Take some recreation each week.

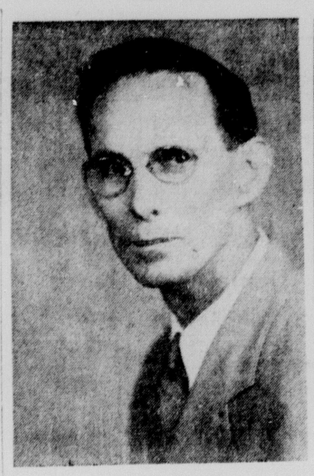

Jesus said, "Take no thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. (Matthew 6:34). Do this. Live one day at a time, trusting in God, and you'll find no need to worry.

Bible Words for Today

MATTHEW 12:30—"He that is not with me, is against me, and he that does not gather with me scatters." (RSV)

* * *

Jesus never asked any one for a letter of recommendation. He still makes only one suggestion: "He that is not with me is against me, and he that does not gather with me scatters."

There are only two sides to Christianity—for and against.

Any position which is not submission, is rebellion.

Any fair-appearing compromise with Truth is deceptive falsehood.

Any diluted Christianity is paganism, no longer Christianity at all.

Any delayed decision regarding Christ is a vote against Him. You just cannot "serve God and mammon."

In the very last analysis, that decision is a decision of destiny. "When the Son of Man shall come in His glory"—there are still only the same two irreconcilable sides on which we can possibly be found—"Come, ye blessed of my Father," and "Depart from me, I never knew you."

How To Make Your Garden Attractive

Looking over some of my landscaping notes, I found several interesting items you'll probably like. They're gathered from notes taken at the university. First, if your landscape design doesn't fit you, it is no good. You may have a friend who has a charming garden, but it would hardly fit you. A garden copied from Williamsburg would certainly be out of place. Those gardens were planned when labor was plentiful and cheap. It would be impossible to keep up such a yard, today.

Plants are not the only materials that can be used in your garden. Anything that can stand out-door weather is suitable for landscape material. It can be rocks, furniture, trellisses or cypress knees, but you've got to keep scale in mind. Things always look smaller out doors than in doors, and that should apply to lawn furniture. It should be larger than indoor furniture to keep it in scale with the surroundings.

The more material you use with a critical eye, the better your selection will be. Of course, don't overdo it. Too much of the same thing can be monotonous, but too many things will be confusing.

In planting a screening hedge, use only one kind of plant and make it only one plant deep. Leave space between them so they don't overlap or even come close to it.

When considering the planting of your site, don't forget that everything that can be seen from your home grounds is part of the site. It often extends far beyond your property line, and there are no two sites that are identical.

Garden Jobs

Edge the flower borders, walks and driveways for a neat look over winter. This will probably be the last trimming for this growing season.

It is not too late to plant winter grass. In fact the weather is just now getting cool enough, because as the name indicates, rye is a cool weather grass. I think we often plant these seed too thick. The effect is just as pretty if planting is thinner and then in February and March the grass is not so difficult to mow.

Don't forget — if you've just built a new house, see that the ground is free from cement before planting. This must be dug out—both small and large pieces. Cement is alkaline so acid loving plants will not grow there. Also, cement hardens in the ground so that any small roots will have trouble growing.

A few years ago in Baton Rouge and New Orleans a test was run on the size sweet potatoes the consumer wants. First choice were potatoes measuring 2¼ inches to 2¾ inches. The next most popular size was 2¾ to 3¼ inches. Large sized yams were found to move slowly.

When selecting sweet potatoes at the food counters, you'll want those that are uniform in size if you're cooking them whole, so they'll all cook in the same length of time. You'll want those free from blemishes with good color, heavy for their size and not shriveled.

Today we know the sweet potato as a prize package of food values—a rich source of Vitamin A, it also provides worth while quantitites of Vitamin C and small amounts of the B vitamins and minerals. It's a good provider of food energy, too. One medium-sized sweet potato gives about 150 calories. Most recipes call for sweet potatoes first cooked in their jackets. The thin skin of the cooked potato is easy to remove and takes with it less of the goodness underneath — besides, you lose some sweetness when the jacket is removed before cooking. Cook sweet potatoes quickly. Serve piping hot. When there are leftovers, cover the dish of peeled sweet potatoes and place in the refrigerator.

You can expect three and one-half servings from one pound of fresh yams, four and one-half servings from one number three can.

There's still lots of variety among the vegetable offerings. Broccoli, cabbage, carrots, lettuce, onions, peppers, potatoes, rutabagos, turnip greens, squash are among the plentifuls to help vary the fall menus.

Copy Of Garden Year Books Wanted

The Mer Rouge Garden Club presented a beautiful flower show at the Garden Center this week. The exhibits were judged by an accredited judge. In the arrangement section Mrs. E. T. Davidson and Mrs. Leslie Clark tied for first place. Against a rose background Mrs. Davidson used the symmetrical triangle form for her beautiful modern mass arrangement in shades of lavender and red. Jersey's Beauty Dahlias, (Cockscomb) Celosia in tones of red and maroon coleous were arranged in a low round black pottery container. Mrs. Leslie Clark chose an antique copper samovar for her container, with an arrangement made of red castor beans and their foliage. The cluster of red castor beans over the spout of the samovar created the central point of interest. This arrangement was placed against a grey background. The color harmony was very lovely. Mrs. C. L. Clark, Jr. looked about her kitchen for a container and came up with a chartreuse T. V. sandwich tray which added interest to her arrangement. Spikes of yellow-green seed pods of a roadside weed established the designs. Lower in the arrangement red seed pods of the canna were clustered, and maroon coleus tipped with yellow-green completed the design. The background was chartreuse.

In the horticulture section blue ribbons were awarded as follows: Mrs. John Moore for Hedychium, commonly called butterfly lily (of the ginger family). Mrs. E. P. Eckles for Celosia. Mrs. C. L. Clark for climbing Crimson Glory Rose.

We would like to have a copy of all Garden Club Year Books. If you have not sent in your year book, please send a copy to: Fifth District Garden Center, 1501 Louisville, Monroe, La.

Date to remember—Mr. John A. Wright of Louisiana Tech will be with us on T. V. for his third lesson on Flower Arrangement November 23rd.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	2 spades	Pass
4 spades	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: King of hearts.

"Holding nine cards of a suit, do you play for the drop or do you finesse to capture the queen?" The answer depends upon what has been found out about the hand. The table of probabilities will serve as a guide where no other clews are available, but where you have at hand private sources of information, you are advised not to rely on anything so abstract as a textbook.

Revealing the lengths to which an astute declarer will sometimes pursue his pipelines before committing himself to a trump play, we offer today's hand.

Against the contract of four spades, the king and queen of hearts were led, East playing the four and eight. West shifted to the two of diamonds, dummy played low, and East won the king and returned the five. In order to fulfill the contract declarer had to pick up both the king of clubs and the queen of spades.

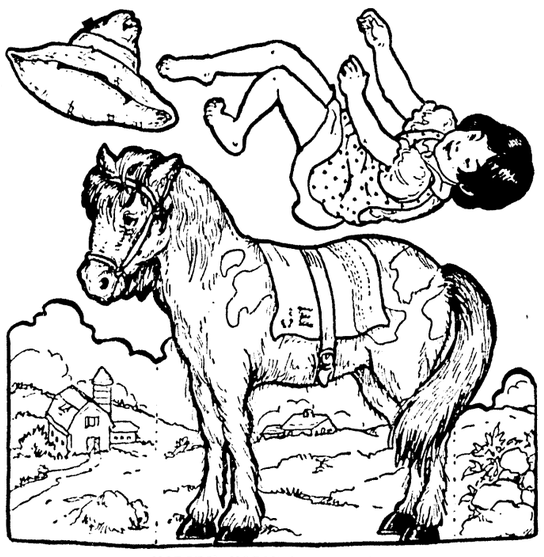

When East returned the five of diamonds, South's queen was overtaken in dummy and the club finesse tried. The jack held the trick. The ace of trumps and the ace of clubs were then cashed followed by a club ruff in dummy, and the king fell. Declarer now had sufficient data upon which to base his subsequent actions.

East's play of the four and then the eight of hearts made it clear that he had three hearts. If he had only two he would have started to echo. It was unlikely that he had four hearts, for in that case West would have had A-K-Q alone and would not have continued with a second round of the suit when the jack appeared in the dummy. The fall of the king of clubs made it appear that East had three clubs, and now for the diamonds.

West did lead the deuce and East returned the five, apparently his fourth best, so that the reasonable count of the East hand was four diamonds, three hearts, three clubs, and, therefore, three spades. On this line of reasoning, declarer took the spade finesse and was rewarded with a well earned game.

HORSES! HORSES! HORSES!

Ponies 6.

Do you think a pony is a little horse that did not grow to full size?

It isn't. The pony is a special breed of horse. It is a small but extremely sturdy animal, usually stocky, short-legged with powerful chest and thick, rough coat.

Smallest and best known are the Shetland ponies, which come from the Shetland Islands north of Scotland. They are gentle, sure-footed little animals and make excellent pets for children.

A lighter type of pony is used for playing polo.

Sturdy ponies were developed in Wales for work in the mines. In other countries they are used for farm work.

Here is Sally, a little farm girl, and her pony, Petey Paul. Sally is waiting for you to cut her out and put her on the pony's back.

Paste this picture on cereal box cardboard and color with crayons. Cut out the pony, fold back the ends at the dotted lines, and Petey Paul will stand up.

Cut out Sally. Cut up the heavy line between her knees as far as the edge of her dress. Then you can set her astride her pony, putting her right hand behind his neck.

Cut out her hat, cut the slit in it and put it on her head.

Now Sally is rarin' to go.

This week you have cut out and colored six horses, all headed in the same direction. Why not have a parade of your horses?

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

By William Lanier Hunt

Dogwood Tree Is First In Autumn

If we took a score card out and rated all the small trees for their colored foliage in the autumn, we would have to give the dogwood tree first place because it has the greatest variety of colors on one tree and has such showy blossoms in the spring. It is accommodatingly easy to grow and gets few diseases. It has beautiful red berries and is a beautiful thing in winter when the leaves are gone. What more can we ask of a tree!

Second place would probably be difficult to decide, because the sauerwood tree and the crape myrtle would compete closely. Our native American sauerwood has the most brilliant red leaves in the forest. The flowers in great sweeps of pendent groups in mid-summer hang like tiny pearls. The bees work them for the best honey there is, and then the tiny seed capsules stay on the tree and give it an interesting beauty in winter. If you shake the tree, a shower of tiny seeds will sprinkle you on its way to the ground. Sauerwood bark is light grey and a thing of beauty when the leaves are down. These trees are easy to transplant and will grow almost anywhere except in alkaline soil. Since they like acid soil they are splendid small trees to interplant in azalea groups. The sauerwood is a member of the Heath famly like the rhododendrons and azaleas. The botanical name of the species is Oxydendron arboreum. It was given the great Award of Merit of the Royal Horticulture Society of England in 1947. Since the trees grow more or less straight up, they do not interfere with other trees and take little room. One of the last trees to show red foliage, they can hardly be beaten for color.

The crape myrtle tree has a lot of various colors on it in autumn. With each season, your crape myrtle will be a little different in color. Sometimes they are bright red. Again they may run to salmons and nearly yellow. When the leaves are gone, they are one of our most beautiful ornamental trees in winter, and the older they become, the more beautiful. At Middleton Plantation gardens near Charleston, South Carolina, there is a huge tree that has really become a group of trees. This specimen certainly belongs to the time when the famous French botanist and horticulturist, Andre Michaux and his son were around Charleston. He may well have introduced this very specimen.

Southern nurserymen are beginning to introduce more and better colored crape myrtles. Besides the native species from Asia — the common old violet one, we now have good white crape myrtles, the watermelon red William Toovey, various shades of bright pink and just recently a new very light pink with tremendous panicles. This new variety is more bushy than tree - like but can be trained into tree form. There is a low lavender variety which tends to be bushy, too.

Learn to make hollandaise sauce by a standard recipe. Then use it to dress up fish fillets, broccoli, asparagus (frozen or canned), snap beans.

How To Make Your Garden Attractive

Looking over some of my landscaping notes, I found several interesting items you'll probably like. They're gathered from notes taken at the university. First, if your landscape design doesn't fit you, it is no good. You may have a friend who has a charming garden, but it would hardly fit you. A garden copied from Williamsburg would certainly be out of place. Those gardens were planned when labor was plentiful and cheap. It would be impossible to keep up such a yard, today.

Plants are not the only materials that can be used in your garden. Anything that can stand out-door weather is suitable for landscape material. It can be rocks, furniture, trellisses or cypress knees, but you've got to keep scale in mind. Things always look smaller out doors than in doors, and that should apply to lawn furniture. It should be larger than indoor furniture to keep it in scale with the surroundings.

The more material you use with a critical eye, the better your selection will be. Of course, don't overdo it. Too much of the same thing can be monotonous, but too many things will be confusing.

In planting a screening hedge, use only one kind of plant and make it only one plant deep. Leave space between them so they don't overlap or even come close to it.

When considering the planting of your site, don't forget that everything that can be seen from your home grounds is part of the site. It often extends far beyond your property line, and there are no two sites that are identical.

Garden Jobs

Edge the flower borders, walks and driveways for a neat look over winter. This will probably be the last trimming for this growing season.

It is not too late to plant winter grass. In fact the weather is just now getting cool enough, because as the name indicates, rye is a cool weather grass. I think we often plant these seed too thick. The effect is just as pretty if planting is thinner and then in February and March the grass is not so difficult to mow.

Don't forget — if you've just built a new house, see that the ground is free from cement before planting. This must be dug out—both small and large pieces. Cement is alkaline so acid loving plants will not grow there. Also, cement hardens in the ground so that any small roots will have trouble growing.

Georgia Facing Supreme Test In Second Year

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Will Lonesome George Gobel break the "sophomore jinx" and keep his popularity during his second year in the big time? Or will he fade, Eke Red Buttons and other unfortunates? Tune in next Saturday and try to find out.

My guess is that George will make it. This is based on his own great and diverse talents, not on his showing thus far this season. The shows have been far from the high standard he set in his freshman year.

Aside from the lack of bright sketches, there's another disturbing factor about the new Gobel show. It's Mom.

Now I have nothing against motherhood, in its place. Some of my best friends are mothers. But the device of having Mrs. Gobel interrupt the program is irritating and untunny. I am more alarmed about what it does to the character of George Gobel. It makes him a pantywaist.

I have a theory that TV comedians: They must be manly.

Some comedy historians will dispute this. They point out that the father of modern comedy was Charlie Chaplin, the little fellow who always got kicked around. So were other greats of the silent screen—Harold Lloyd, Buster Keaton, Harry Langdon, etc.

But even though they were wistful, they could also fling a brick now and then.

TV comedians are different from the movie kind. They are seen every week, not occasionally at a movie. To remain popular, TV comics must be really liked and admired by the viewers, who see the funnymen as often as they do most of their friends.

Americans like their male friends to be forceful and effective, not fellows who are afraid to speak up.

I feel that this dwelling on the "little fellow" concept is what has eclipsed the TV careers of Red Buttons, Alan Young, Wally Cox and Dennis Day. Even Jack Carson, though big in size, allowed himself to play the patsy.

All of these are good performers. Perhaps they would still have regular shows if they had been allowed to kick the boss or talk back to their wives and girl friends now and then.

So watch it, George. Don't let Mom push you around. (The real Mrs. Gobel is a fine woman who would never think of interfering with her son's show.)

The Gobel charm was based on his sly gibes at convention and his ability to close the curtains and walk blithely away from rough situations. Let's keep him that way.

R. CHESTER JORDAN

Statement Issued By Candidate For Ward Five Post

R. Chester Jordan, candidate for police jury of Ward Five, this week issued his campaign statement in which he said, "If elected, I welcome anyone to come to me for any assistance they think I might be to them. It it takes nerve and ambition . . . I have both of them. My greatest ambition is to serve the people to their satisfaction. I will work hard to do that."

Jordon, who lives at 706½ South Sixth in West Monroe, said he became familiar with police jury work while young and on a farm six miles north of Calhoun, but that in the past 16 years has learned much of the people's problems in the city.

While on the farm, Jordan said, the "people in our community would get together and work the road that came by our home. Knowing this work should be done by the parish I took steps to get this road included in the parish network of roads. I did this after many people told me I was wasting my time, that it had been tried before without success. Before I gave up the road was being worked by the parish.

"Next the people told me I was fighting a losing battle in trying to get a rural mail route on the new road. They changed their minds when the mail carrier drove by and notified them to move their mail boxes to the new route locations."

The 38 - year - old candidate, in his statement, said, "I plan to work in harmony with any city administration of West Monroe and with other elected police jurors. I am in favor of as many recreation facilities as can be made possible for our young people, for I strongly believe this helps to reduce our juvenile delinquency."

Jordan promised to fight for his constituents when he said, "I entered this race with the intention to win and for the benefit of those who don't know me personally, you will find by checking that I fight and fight hard for what I believe to be right in anything. I will do the same for you if you elect me to serve you."

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Answer To Question No. 1

1. No. He can't even trust himself — any more than if he were drunk. He lies and exaggerates because he feels he must show his superiority. Husbands and wives lie like all get - out when angry. When it's over, they say, "You know, dear, I didn't mean what I said." Now, they are lying again, for they did mean it when they said it but they wish they hadn't. You will be astonished how easily you can conquer this, if you are guided by our booklet, "How To Be An Emotional Grownup." Nonprofit, 15 cents (coin only) and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Answer To Question No. 2

2. Visit it while it is in session. See if it is clean and has plenty of toys and space to play. See if the children look happy or frightened and too quiet. See if teachers enjoy and love the children and are fully qualified — also for how many children each one is responsible. More than eight or ten under five years old are difficult for one person to handle, as any mother knows. In good school environment, two - and three - year-olds should learn to get along with others — to play and have fun in a group.

Getting married is not difficult. It's Building Your Marriage that is the problem, and the Public Affairs Committee non-profit pamphlet of that name will help you. For a copy, send your name and address and 25 cents (coin) to Public Affairs Committee c-o your newspaper. Ask for "Building Your Marriage."

Answer To Question No. 3

3. Yes. "Guilt feelings" as considered by psychologists are all-over, continuous feelings of "sinfulness," "unworthiness," and moral inadequacy. Lydia Sicher, psychologist, says, "Guilt feelings signify a poorly developed conscience — not strong enough to face responsibility. As with all neurotic symptoms, you conceive your guilt itself so strongly for unworthiness, it makes you feel worthy — as having compensated for your sins." The truly regretful person tries to correct his mistakes.

Firing Of Three Hiway Employes Upheld By Board

BATON ROUGE, Oct. 22 (AP)—The Louisiana Civil Service Commission yesterday dismissed the appeal of three Highway Department employes fired for refusing to work on an emergency project.

Millard L. Miller and Voorhies J. Miller, both of Basile, and Calvin Bass, Oberlin, were dismissed by the Lake Charles district when they refused to work Saturday and Sunday reinforcing timber bridges for the Army's Louisiana maneuver area.

Their letters of dismissal said the work was considered an "emergency project" and "you and all other highway employes assigned to duty in connection with the Army maneuvers . . . are expected to work seven days per week if necessary to complete the Highway Department's obligations by a certain deadline."

The trio appealed their dismissal. But the commission ruled the Highway Department was justified in requiring the men "to work at any time they were not regularly required to work."

The commission said the three "having failed to report as directed were guilty of disobeying orders."

RECEIVE KEYS TO NEW HOME—Jerome I. Braud, Grand Knight of the Knights of Columbus, is shown above receiving keys to the organization's new home from Charles V. Bruscato, contractor. The new building is located on Oliver Road and will be officially dedicated Sunday afternoon. Others shown in the picture are S. Everett Burgoyne, state secretary and trustee, George Tonore, district deputy and advocate, L. P. Cloutier, deputy grand knight, Braud, Bruscato, and J. D. Cascio, building chairman.

Knights Of Columbus Home Dedication Today

The new Knights of Columbus home, located on Oliver road, will be officially dedicated Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

Msgr. John C. Marsh, pastor of St. Matthews Catholic Church, will bless the new home along with his assistants. Open house will be held Sunday afternoon following the dedication for the public to inspect the new building.

Sunday night at 7 o'clock a barbecue dinner will be held for all Knights of Columbus members and wives. Everett G. Collins, of New Orleans, state deputy, will be the principal speaker at the dinner. Everett Burgoyne, of Monroe, state secretary, will be master of ceremonies.

George Tonore, district deputy, will be in charge of the dedication ceremonies. Knights of Columbus members from throughout the state are expected to attend the dedication.

The new building consists of approximately 5,600 square feet of floor space which is divided into a meeting rooom, 3,200 square feet, lounge, 600 square feet, conference room, utility room, storage, and kitchen and "quipment" room.

The Monroe Council No. 1337 of the Knights of Columbus was chartered in 1908. The only living charter member of the council is L. H. Krogmire, of Monroe, who is the faithful navigator of the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, Msgr. John Marsh Assembly of Monroe and West Monroe.

The Knights of Columbus base their reason for existence on four principals. They are charity, unity, fraternity and patriotism. The principals were set forth in 1882 when the order was founded in New Haven, Conn. The order is named after Christopher Columbus who, according to the founders, was motivated through service to his fellow men, unity of purpose, fraternity through his love of those whom he brought Christianity, and patriotism through service to his adopted country.

Officers of the local council said "it is a matter of great moment and a source of deep gratification that the Knights of Columbus of Monroe, Council 1337, feel justly proud of the fact that we are dedicating a new home to carry on the work of the great order, 965,000 men strong, an organized functioning society in every state of the United States, the ten provinces of Canada, Alaska, Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, Mexiro, Cuba and the Philippines."

Georgia Facing Supreme Test In Second Year

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Will Lonesome George Gobel break the "sophomore jinx" and keep his popularity during his second year in the big time? Or will he fade, like Red Buttons and other unfortunates? Tune in next Saturday and try to find out.

My guess is that George will make it. This is based on his own great and diverse talents, not on his showing thus far this season. The shows have been far from the high standard he set in his freshman year.

Aside from the lack of bright sketches, there's another disturbing factor about the new Gobel show. It's Mom.

Now I have nothing against motherhood, in its place. Some of my best friends are mothers. But the device of having Mrs. Gobel interrupt the program is irritating and unfunny. I am more alarmed about what it does to the character of George Gobel. It makes him a pantywaist.

I have a theory that TV comedians: They must be manly.

Some comedy historians will dispute this. They point out that the father of modern comedy was Charlie Chaplin, the little fellow who always got kicked around. So were other greats of the silent screen—Harold Lloyd, Buster Keaton, Harry Langdon, etc.

But even though they were wistful, they could also fling a brick now and then.

TV comedians are different from the movie kind. They are seen every week, not occasionally at a movie. To remain popular, TV comics must be really liked and admired by the viewers, who see the funnymen as often as they do most of their friends.

Americans like their male friends to be forceful and effective, not fellows who are afraid to speak up.

I feel that this dwelling on the "little fellow" concept is what has eclipsed the TV careers of Red Buttons, Alan Young, Wally Cox and Dennis Day. Even Jack Carson, though big in size, allowed himself to play the patsy.

All of these are good performers. Perhaps they would still have regular shows if they had been allowed to kick the boss or talk back to their wives and girl friends now and then.

So watch it, George. Don't let Mom push you around. (The real Mrs. Gobel is a fine woman who would never think of interfering with her son's show.)

The Gobel charm was based on his sly gibes at convention and his ability to close the curtains and walk blithely away from rough situations. Let's keep him that way.

R. CHESTER JORDAN

Statement Issued By Candidate For Ward Five Post

R. Chester Jordan, candidate for police jury of Ward Five, this week issued his campaign statement in which he said, "If elected, I welcome anyone to come to me for any assistance they think I might be to them. If it takes nerve and ambition . . . I have both of them. My greatest ambition is to serve the people to their satisfaction. I will work hard to do that."

Jordon, who lives at 706½ South Sixth in West Monroe, said he became familiar with police jury work while young and on a farm six miles north of Calhoun, but that in the past 16 years has learned much of the people's problems in the city.

While on the farm, Jordan said, the "people in our community would get together and work the road that came by our home. Knowing this work should be done by the parish I took steps to get this road included in the parish network of roads. I did this after many people told me I was wasting my time, that it had been tried before without success. Before I gave up the road was being worked by the parish.

"Next the people told me I was fighting a losing battle in trying to get a rural mail route on the new road. They changed their minds when the mail carrier drove by and notified them to move their mail boxes to the new route locations."

The 38 - year - old candidate, in his statement, said, "I plan to work in harmony with any city administration of West Monroe and with other elected police jurors. I am in favor of an many recreation facilities as can be made possible for our young people, for I strongly believe this helps to reduce our juvenile delinquency."

Jordan promised to fight for his constituents when he said, "I entered this race with the intention to win and for the benefit of those who don't know me personally, you will find by checking that I fight and fight hard for what I believe to be right in anything. I will do the same for you if you elect me to serve you."

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Answer To Question No. 1

1. No. He can't even trust himself — any more than if he were drunk. He lies and exaggerates because he feels he must show his superiority. Husbands and wives lie like all get - out when angry. When it's over, they say, "You know, dear, I didn't mean what I said." Now, they are lying again, for they did mean it when they said it, but they wish they hadn't. You will be astonished how easily you can conquer this, if you are guided by our booklet, "How To Be An Emotional Grownup." Nonprofit, 15 cents (coin only) and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Answer To Question No. 2

2. Visit it while it is in session. See if it is clean and has plenty of toys and space to play. See if the children look happy or frightened and too quiet. See if teachers enjoy and love the children and are fully qualified — also for how many children each one is responsible. More than eight or ten under five years old are difficult for one person to handle, as any mother knows. In good school environment, two - and three - year-olds should learn to get along with others — to play and have fun in a group.

Getting married is not difficult. It's Building Your Marriage that is the problem, and the Public Affairs Committee non-profit pamphlet of that name will help you. For a copy, send your name and address and 25 cents in coin to Public Affairs Committee, c-o your newspaper. Ask for "Building Your Marriage."

Answer To Question No. 3

3. Yes. "Guilt feelings" as considered by psychologists are all-over, continuous feelings of "sinfulness," "unworthiness," and moral inadequacy. Lydia Sicher, psychologist, says, "Guilt feelings signify a poorly developed conscience — not strong enough to face responsibility. As with all neurotic symptoms, you condemn yourself so strongly for unworthiness, it makes you feel worthy — as having compensated for your sins." The truly regretful person tries to correct his mistakes.

Firing Of Three Hiway Employes Upheld By Board

BATON ROUGE, Oct. 22 (AP)—The Louisiana Civil Service Commission yesterday dismissed the appeal of three Highway Department employes fired for refusing to work on an emergency project.

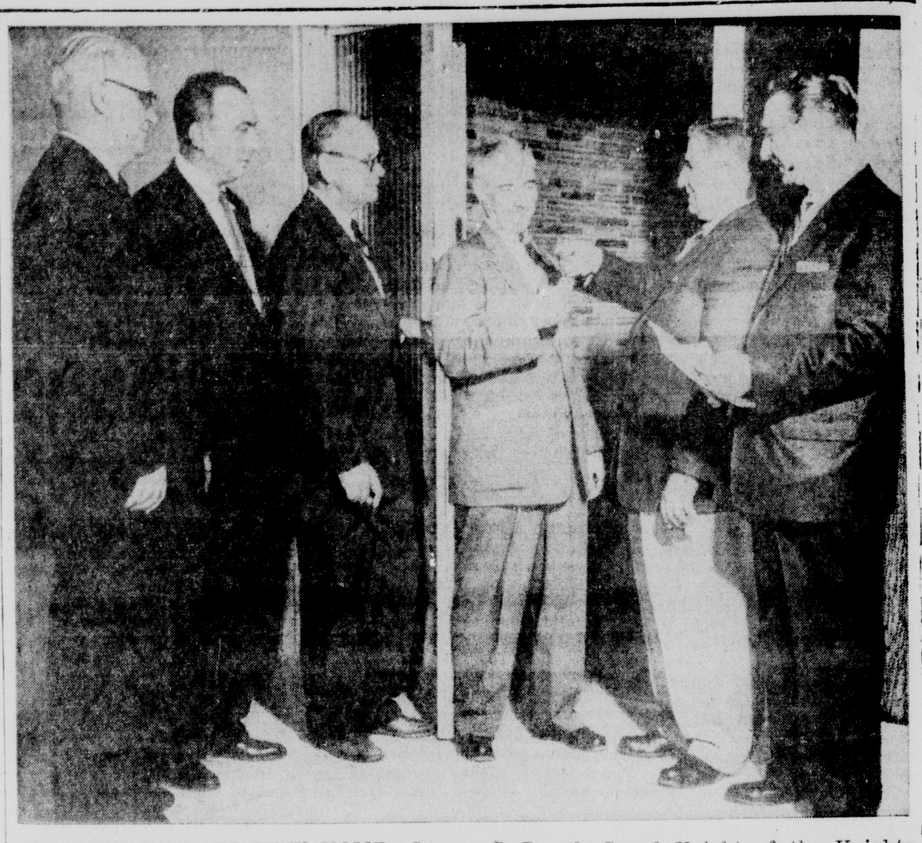

Millard L. Miller and Voorhies J. Miller, both of Basile, and Calvin Bass, Oberlin, were dismissed by the Lake Charles district when they refused to work Saturday and Sunday reinforcing timber bridges for the Army's Louisiana maneuver area.

Their letters of dismissal said the work was considered an "emergency project" and "you and all other highway employes assigned to duty in connection with the Army maneuvers . . . are expected to work seven days per week if necessary to complete the Highway Department's obligations by a certain deadline."

The trio appealed their dismissal. But the commission ruled the Highway Department was justified in requiring the men "to work at any time they were not regularly required to work."

The commission said the three "having failed to report as directed were guilty of disobeying orders."

RECEIVE KEYS TO NEW HOME—Jerome I. Braud, Grand Knight of the Knights of Columbus, is shown above receiving keys to the organization's new home from Charles V. Bruscato, contractor. The new building is located on Oliver Road and will be officially dedicated Sunday afternoon. Others shown in the picture are S. Everett Burgoyne, state secretary and trustee, George Tonore, district deputy and advocate, L. P. Cloutier, deputy grand knight, Braud, Bruscato, and J. D. Cascio, building chairman.

Knights Of Columbus Home Dedication Today

The new Knights of Columbus home, located on Oliver road, will be officially dedicated Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

Msgr. John C. Marsh, pastor of St. Matthews Catholic Church, will bless the new home along with his assistants. Open house will be held Sunday afternoon following the dedication for the public to inspect the new building.

Sunday night at 7 o'clock a barbecue dinner will be held for all Knights of Columbus members and wives. Everett G. Collins, of New Orleans, state deputy, will be the principal speaker at the dinner. Everett Burgoyne, of Monroe, state secretary, will be master of ceremonies.

George Tonore, district deputy, will be in charge of the dedication ceremonies. Knights of Columbus members from throughout the state are expected to attend the dedication.

The new building consists of approximately 5,600 square feet of floor space which is divided into a meeting rooom, 3,200 square feet, lounge, 600 square feet, conference room, utility room, storage, and kitchen and equipment room.

The Monroe Council No. 1337 of the Knights of Columbus was chartered in 1908. The only living charter member of the council is L. H. Krogmire, of Monroe, who is the faithful navigator of the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, Msgr. John Marsh Assembly of Monroe and West Monroe.

The Knights of Columbus base their reason for existence on four principals. They are charity, unity, fraternity and patriotism. The principals were set forth in 1882 when the order was founded in New Haven, Conn. The order is named after Christopher Columbus who, according to the founders, was motivated through service to his fellow men, unity of purpose, fraternity through his love of those whom he brought Christianity, and patriotism through service to his adopted country.

Officers of the local council said "it is a matter of great moment and a source of deep gratification that the Knights of Columbus of Monroe, Council 1337, feel justly proud of the fact that we are dedicating a new home to carry on the work of the great order, 965,000 men strong, an organized functioning society in every state of the United States, the ten provinres of Canada, Alaska, Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, Mexiro, Cuba and the Philippines."

Bittersweet Love Story With Katharine Hepburn

"Summertime," opening next Sunday at the Paramount Theatre through United Artists release, is the first full-length picture in Technicolor to be filmed in its entirety on location in Venice. The cast and crew of the picture spent some four and a half months shooting in the romantic and beautiful "Pearl of the Adriatic."

The bittersweet story of an American woman's passionate interlude with a handsome Italian, "Summertime" is an adaptation of Arthur Laurents' Broadway stage success, "The Time of the Cuckoo." Katharine Hepburn and Rossano Brazzi are co-starred as the lovers, and the supporting cast is headed by such international favorites as Isa Miranda, Darren McGavin, Mari Aldon, Jane Rose, Gaitano Audiero, MacDonald Parke and Jeremy Spenser.

Ilya Lopert produced "Summertime," and David Lean directed. The screenplay was written by Lean in collaboration with the noted novelist, H. E. Bates.

Ninety per cent of the total footage of "Summertime" was shot on exterior location in Venice; the remainder, interior scenes, were filmed in the small but well-equipped Scalera Studios, on the island of Guidecca in the commercial district of Venice. Among the historic landmarks against which key sequences of the film are played are the Piazza St. Marco, the Doge's Palace, the Grand Canal, the "rainbow-hued" island of Burano (a paradise in the Venetian lagoon where the proportion of women to men is 5-1), the Adriatic Marshes (made famous by the duck-hunting sequences in Hemingway's "Across the River and Into the Trees"), as well as many of the fascinating mediaeval backstreets and alleys rarely seen by the average tourist.

David Lean, director of "Summertime," is one of England's—and the world's — most noted directors. Among his pictures are such outstanding successes as "In Which We Serve," "Blithe Spirit," "Brief Encounter," "Oliver Twist," "Breaking the Sound Barrier" and "Hobson's Choice."

The producer of "Summertime," Ilya Lopert, is a distinguished international film figure. One of the men most responsible for the growth in international exchange of film stars and facilities, he has on his own sponsored such brilliant movie hits as "Red Shoes," "Tales of Hoffman," "The Third Man," "Outcast of the Islands," "Breaking Through the Sound Barrier" and "The Captain's Paradise."

KATHARINE HEPBURN and Rossano Brazzi have the romantic leads in "Summertime," United Artists release opening next Tuesday at the Paramount Theater. The picture, filmed in Technicolor, was shot on location in Venice.

Mental Health Group Receives Research Grant

Rev. W. H. McFadden, president of the northeast branch of the Louisiana Association for Mental Health, announced yesterday that its affiliate, the National Association for Mental Health has received a research grant of $100,000 from the 33rd Degree Scottish Rite for research on schizophrenia. This is the mental illness which accounts for 50,000 new patients in mental hospitals per year throughout the country — and most of them are young people.

Dr. George S. Stevenson, the mental health association's medical consultant, said that many of the gains made in the past twenty years in the treatment of schizophrenia originated in this research program. He pointed to the fact that "about 60 per cent of the patients admitted to mental hospitals with schizophrenia are currently being discharged as improved or recovered within two years after admission, compared to a figure of about 30 per cent in 1935."

Knowledge about the cause, treatment and prevention of schizophrenia "is still far from complete," Dr. Stevenson added. "While we know that current treatment methods — including the new drug therapies — are helping patients with schiophrenia to impatients with schizophrenia to imknow why. Also, while we know that the disease is rooted in a physiological predisposition and that this vulnerability is triggered by adverse emotional experiences, we still know very little about the nature of the physiological weakness and about the specific character of the harmful experiences.

"However, we know that we are definitely on the right track to the answers. We have an abundance of clues to follow, and the generous grant of the Scottish Rite will enable use to follow all the clues which are available.

Skillful Make-Up

By WILLIAM TUTTLE
(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, October 22 — Along with its dramatic impact, the new MGM film "I'll Cry Tomorrow," which stars Susan Hayward, might well contribute a slogan for make - up conscious women to live by.

It is: "You won't cry tomorrow, if you smile today."

Just how this adage applies to the use of make-up may seem a little obtuse at first. But there is a direct connection — ascertained by first looking in a mirror and asking yourself the following questions:

1. Do my mouth, eyes and brows slant downward or upward at the corners?

2. Does my face in repose look glad or sad, younger or older than its years?

Actually, the answer to the first question will give the key to the second. For when lines of the mouth and eye area slant downward the entire face seems to reflect an unhappy soul. And sadness is aging.

On the other hand, an upward tilt gives the impression of smiles, youth and even positive thinking.

This is the look that improves even the plainest face!

Although Nature, by one line or another, has given a great many faces the former, unflattering cast, no woman today need be stuck with it. For by skillful application of make-up, she can counter Nature — and still look natural.

A "smiling" mouth can be acquired simply by giving the curve of the upper lip a slight, very slight, upswing at the corners — without extending them beyond the mouth's normal width. This respect for width must be observed for a correct front and profile view.

If an upper lip is narrower than the lower, it can easily be extended with the aid of a brush into an up-tilt and so that the two lips with match the width.

If an upper lip is full and curves sharply down at the edges, you may thin the lip on the outside of the Cupid's bow, again very slightly. This enables you to engineer the smiling line without continuing beyond the corners or ending above the lipline.

To make the eyes "look up," a mere curling of the lashes accomplished a great deal. (This also makes them look larger.) Further tilt can be achieved by carrying eyeliner out past the fringe of upper and lower lashes into an upward line.

For those with puffiness over the eyelids, eyeshadow is a clever conspirator; for placed most heavily on the puffiness itself and blended out and up, it diminishes the conspicuousness of this defect.

Brows are perhaps the least difficult feature to remedy. But to do so, one should know that correctly - shaped brows are higher at the outer tips than at the inner. It is altogether possible to retain an arch. Brows need not be flattened.

Careful scrutiny of the natural shape of your brows, then plucking and brushing brow hairs should precede penciling. This may suffice.

However, if outer hairs must be removed because they plunge, pencil will be vital in effecting a new line extended, properly in most cases, a short distance beyond the corner of the eye. Pencil strokes should be short, broken lines to simulate natural growth of the brows.

If meticulously done, none of these practices need look obvious or artificial.

Yet, as studio make-up experts know, they can make you "smile" the kind of smile that makes you happy — and more attractive — today, tomorrow and through the years.

Dear Friend Tuttle:
Thanks for your informative article on makeup. I believe that women throughout the nation will read it with interest, for makeup nowadaws (apparently) is as essential to the woman in business or working in any capacity. Probably not as painstakingly, but helpful and your article goes into the fundamental and helpful phase.

Every woman, no matter where she may be — in the home or traveling or in an office — is striving to improve on her appearance. That's human, as well as good sense. And your reference to Susan Hayward is timely, for Susan is much in the limelight these days. When her new picture comes around, all the girls may be able to study her make-up changes with profit to themselves.

Insurance Agents See Safety Film

Members of the Ouachita Association of Insurance Agents, at their monthly meeting Friday noon at the Virginia Hotel, saw an automobile safety film presented by George Menefee, chairman of the Casualty and Surety division of the Louisiana Insurance Rating Commission.

The film, prepared by Ford Motor Co., depicted tests that are now being made in an attempt to determine just what can be done in building automobiles to incorporate safety features. Such features, it was pointed out at the meeting, "if actually built into automobiles could result in a substantial reduction in automobile insurance rates."

The Ouachita association, composed of all local insurance agents representieg capital stock, fire and casualty units, through its spokesman said that the group "is vitally interested in the reduction of insurance rates, and any extension of coverages that would benefit the insurance buying public, and has gone on record as being wholeheartedly in favor of the use in all passenger cars of any safety devices that might reduce loss of human life and destruction of property."

Also named by district headquarters to important post were Mrs. Abbie Leckey, member of the membership and classification committee, Miss Ann Mickel, member of the Vocational Information committee, and Dr. Katherine Foster, member of the public affairs committee.

Last week the Altrusa Club, under the direction of Mrs. Ada Gruber, president, voted to sponsor a Junior Achievement program in Twin City high schools.

The junior achievement program is a unique organization, whose significance is realized by national educational and business leaders and is designed to meet the needs of youth for the practical training and experience which will help them to take their places in the economic life of America.

The program takes in an age group from 15 to 21 years of age. They set up small companies which are run and operated by the young people themselves. Junior Achievement also arranges for the supervision and guidance of each company by adult advisers, who are experts in the fields of production, business and sales.

Bittersweet Love Story With Katharine Hepburn

"Summertime," opening next Sunday at the Paramount Theatre through United Artists release, is the first full-length picture in Technicolor to be filmed in its entirety on location in Venice. The cast and crew of the picture spent some four and a half months shooting in the romantic and beautiful "Pearl of the Adriatic."

The bittersweet story of an American woman's passionate interlude with a handsome Italian, "Summertime" is an adaptation of Arthur Laurents' Broadway stage success, "The Time of the Cuckoo." Katharine Hepburn and Rossano Brazzi are co-starred as the lovers, and the supporting cast is headed by such international favorites as Isa Miranda, Darren McGavin, Mari Aldon, Jane Rose, Gaitano Audiero, MacDonald Parke and Jeremy Spenser.

Butane Industry To Inaugurate State Program

LAKE PROVIDENCE, Oct. 22 (Special) — Inauguration of a statewide educational and advertising program to acquaint the people of Louisiana with the growth and economic importance of the butane-propane industry was announced here today by Baxter O. Deal, president of the Butane-Propane Institute of Louisiana.

The information - advertising activity will be under the supervision of the organization's public relations committee, which is comprised of Louis Abramson, Jr., of New Orleans, chairman; Howard J. Cornay, Sr. of Lafayette; F. J. Roberson, Coushatta; Max Dover, Shreveport and J. C. Chenevert of Pineville.

The Butane - Propane Institute of Louisiana is a non-trading, non-profit organization composed of the state's bonded butane - propane dealers.

"The retail distributors of butane-propane gas are not only an important segment of our state's oil and gas industry," Deal said, "but they bring a gas service to many thousands of rural and suburban homes that is equal in comfort and convenience to the natural gas service available to the people of the towns and cities.

"Development of dependable butane-propane gas service for rural and suburban areas is only one phase of the operations of the certified members of our association," Deal continued. "Members maintain service departments and provide various engineering services that point the way for adapting butane-propane gas to a wide range of uses that mechanize and speed up farm and ranch operations and make them more profitable.

"The Butane - Propane Institute of Louisiana believes that it can render a real public service through an education and advertising program that informs our citizens of the importance of this segment of the oil and gas industry in the civic and business life of Louisiana," Deal stated.

2 Bus Blasters Accuse Others

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Two men convicted of shooting rifles into a bus of the strikebound Capitol Transit Co. here have implicated two other men in the incident, George Royse and Clarence Lee Smith, scheduled to be taken to the state penitentiary to begin serving three-year terms for the Aug. 1 affair, named two other Little Rock men as having joined in the shooting fray. Authorities withheld the names.

Amity All Excited Over Girl's Success In Rome

ROME (AP) — The boys sitting around Callaway's general store in Amity, Arkansas, can be mighty proud of little Irene Callaway these days.

Mario Rinaldi, one of Italy's top opera critics, called her "brilliant, enchanting and vivacious" after hearing her first major appearance.

And Rinaldi confessed to his readers he "entered the theater with a great deal of skepticism because I love Italian opera sung by Italian singers."

Giovanni Rimbotti, another respected critic, said Irene, a lyric soprano, displayed "an exquisite voice" and the audience "made her its idol."

As a result of this success, Irene, a sparkling 25 now, has lined up engagements on the Italian radio and television networks which will keep her busy until next February.

The Arkansas girl has her eyes on the big time in New York. But, she says, "If you don't do something here in Italy first, you might as well not go home."

Many American singers who have appeared at the Metropolitan in New York made their mark first in Italy, the home of opera.

Irene's is a real Cinderella story. She comes from the little town of Amity, population 500—"and everybody there is my cousin," she says.

Her daddy, Wallace Callaway, grows Delicious peaches, and runs an old-fashioned general store, complete with pot-bellied stove. At Callaway's you can get anything from a stamp to an auto license.

Irene began singing "as soon as I could talk."

"Everybody sings and plays in our family—mother, my two brothers and my sister—everybody except daddy. He just sits and listens."

One of Irene's brothers is a Methodist minister. The other is studying medicine.

Irene went to the small school in Amity and on to Henderson College at nearby Arkadelphia. She studied singing at Henderson because she liked it so much.

Then fate intervened, in the person of Maurine Norton, of Haynesville, La.

Maurine heard her sing and said "You really should study opera." She talked Irene into going to Louisiana State University's renowned Opera School, for graduate work.

Fate plays peculiar tricks. Today Irene lives in a small apartment, in an old section of Rome near the Piazza Istria. Her room mate — Maurine Norton.

The two were selected from hundreds of candidates for Fulbright fellowships to study opera in Rome. The fellowships—for one year—ended Sept. 25. Maurine will be leaving soon to continue her professional work in Germany. Irene is staying on.

Six Fulbright students studied at the Rome Opera House. They attended all dress rehearsals there and had lessons in interpretation, repertoire, opera background and Italian diction.

After this they were all invited to appear as guest artists at Spoleto, in central Italy. There an old opera house has been renovated for debuts of Italy's best young artists.

That's where Irene made her big hit. She was cast as Norina in the comic opera, "Don Pasquale."

Others at Spoleto were Jimi Beni, Peter Binder and Anna Moffa, all of Philadelphia; William Harper, Oklahoma City; William Olvis, Hollywood, Calif.; and Irene's old friend, Maurine.

All got a good hand from the critics, but the highest praise went to the Arkansas song bird.

Critic Rinaldi declared "it would be difficult to find in Italy a Norina to equal and so well suited to the designs of librettist Ruffini."

3$$designs of librettist Ruffini."

Rimbotti said she was "a born actress . . . a 'love' of a Norina."

Even the Rome pro-Communist paper, "Il Paese," said of Irene: "Miss Callaway has one of the best of voices, is well schooled, and ably handled this very difficult role."

This girl is starting a relaxing exercise. Bend the trunk forward . . . until fingers touch the floor. Drag the fingers along the floor as you raise the trunk slowly.

Two Special Exercises Designed To Relax You

Recently I mentioned the importance of daily exercise, especially the daily walk. I would like to list more exercises today because of their importance to healthful living.

They are helpful not only because of figure molding, but for the massage they give internal organs, the increase in body tone they lead to and the way they speed up circulation and respiration.

Special exercises also are of great importance because of the wonderful way in which they relax you. These should be done slowly in a lazy manner. You will feel your nervous tension lessen as you do them. Today I would like to teach you two of these.

1. Kneel on both knees and raise the arms overhead, one arm by each ear, and trunk ERECT. Bend the trunk forward, keeping the arms by the ears. Lower trunk until fingers touch the floor as far out in front of you as comfortable. Let the head drop. Drag the fingers along the floor lightly as you raise the trunk very slowly to starting position. Do this so slowly and in such a relaxed manner that you feel as though you are raising the trunk, vertebra by vertebra. Repeat several times.

Second Exercise

2. Stand erect with the arms at the sides. Raise the arms sideward-upward as you lift the heels from the floor and rise high on the toes. Reach upward. Lower the heels to the floor as arms return to position, moving sideward-downward. Take a deep breath before you begin. Exhale as the arms move upward. Inhale deeply as the arms move back to place.

You should all have a first aid kit of exercises for special times. For instance, when you are tense, when the back of your neck aches, when you are constipated, and so on.

Begin stocking your first-aid kit of exercise with the two I have given you today.

If you would like to have my exercises for relaxation send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 21 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Butane Industry To Inaugurate State Program

LAKE PROVIDENCE, Oct. 22 (Special) — Inauguration of a statewide educational and advertising program to acquaint the people of Louisiana with the growth and economic importance of the butane-propane industry was announced here today by Baxter O. Deal, president of the Butane-Propane Institute of Louisiana.

The information - advertising activity will be under the supervision of the organization's public relations committee, which is comprised of Louis Abramson, Jr., of New Orleans, chairman; Howard J. Cornay, Sr. of Lafayette; F. J. Roberson, Coushatta; Max Dover, Shreveport and J. C. Chenevert of Pineville.

The Butane - Propane Institute of Louisiana is a non-trading, non-profit organization composed of the state's bonded butane - propane dealers.

"The retail distributors of butane-propane gas are not only an important segment of our state's oil and gas industry," Deal said, "but they bring a gas service to many thousands of rural and suburban homes that is equal in comfort and convenience to the natural gas service available to the people of the towns and cities.

"Development of dependable butane-propane gas service for rural and suburban areas is only one phase of the operations of the certified members of our association," Deal continued. "Members maintain service departments and provide various engineering services that point the way for adapting butane-propane gas to a wide range of uses that mechanize and speed up farm and ranch operations and make them more profitable.

"The Butane - Propane Institute of Louisiana believes that it can render a real public service through an education and advertising program that informs our citizens of the importance of this segment of the oil and gas industry in the civic and business life of Louisiana," Deal stated.

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Two men convicted of shooting rifles into a bus of the strikebound Capitol Transit Co. here have implicated two other men in the incident. George Royse and Clarence Lee Smith, scheduled to be taken to the state penitentiary to begin serving three-year terms for the Aug. 1 affair, named two other Little Rock men as having joined in the shooting fray. Authorities withheld the names.

Amity All Excited Over Girl's Success In Rome

ROME (AP) — The boys sitting around Callaway's general store in Amity, Arkansas, can be mighty proud of little Irene Callaway these days.

Irene, a bright-eyed belle from the Ozarks, is the newest success in Italian opera. That's making the musical big league.

Mario Rinaldi, one of Italy's top opera critics, called her "brilliant, enchanting and vivacious" after hearing her first major appearance.

And Rinaldi confessed to his readers he "entered the theater with a great deal of skepticism because I love Italian opera sung by Italian singers."

Giovanni Rimbotti, another respected critic, said Irene, a lyric soprano, displayed "an exquisite voice" and the audience "made her its idol."

As a result of this success, Irene, a sparkling 25 now, has lined up engagements on the Italian radio and television networks which will keep her busy until next February.

The Arkansas girl has her eyes on the big time in New York. But, she says, "If you don't do something here in Italy first, you might as well not go home."

Many American singers who have appeared at the Metropolitan in New York made their mark first in Italy, the home of opera.

Irene's is a real Cinderella story. She comes from the little town of Amity, population 500—"and everybody there is my cousin," she says.

Her daddy, Wallace Callaway, grows Delicious peaches, and runs an old-fashioned general store, complete with pot-bellied stove. At Callaway's you can get anything from a stamp to an auto license.

Irene began singing "as soon as I could talk."

"Everybody sings and plays in our family—mother, my two brothers and my sister—everybody except daddy. He just sits and listens."

One of Irene's brothers is a Methodist minister. The other is studying medicine.

Irene went to the small school in Amity and on to Henderson College at nearby Arkadelphia. She studied singing at Henderson because she liked it so much.

Then fate intervened, in the person of Maurine Norton, of Haynesville, La.

Maurine heard her sing and said "You really should study opera." She talked Irene into going to Louisiana State University's renowned Opera School, for graduate work.

Fate plays peculiar tricks. Today Irene lives in a small apartment, in an old section of Rome near the Piazza Istria. Her room mate — Maurine Norton.

The two were selected from hundreds of candidates for Fulbright fellowships to study opera in Rome. The fellowships—for one year—ended Sept. 25. Maurine will be leaving soon to continue her professional work in Germany. Irene is staying on.

Six Fulbright students studied at the Rome Opera House. They attended all dress rehearsals there and had lessons in interpretation, repertoire, opera background and Italian diction.

After this they were all invited to appear as guest artists at Spoleto, in central Italy. There an old opera house has been renovated for debuts of Italy's best young artists.

That's where Irene made her big hit. She was cast as Norina in the comic opera, "Don Pasquale."

Others at Spoleto were Jimi Beni, Peter Binder and Anna Moffa, all of Philadelphia; William Harper, Oklahoma City; William Olvis, Hollywood, Calif.; and Irene's old friend, Maurine.

All got a good hand from the critics, but the highest praise went to the Arkansas song bird.

Critic Rinaldi declared "it would be difficult to find in Italy a Norina to equal and so well suited to the designs of librettist Ruffini."

3$$designs of librettist Ruffini."

Rimbotti said she was "a born actress . . . a 'love' of a Norina."

Even the Rome pro-Communist paper, "Il Paese," said of Irene: "Miss Callaway has one of the best of voices, is well schooled, and ably handled this very difficult role."

Irene asked the reporter who interviewed her to give credit to two teachers — "they helped me immensely," she said. They are Frances Greer, of New York, originally from Helena, Arkansas, and Ralph Errolle, former head of the LSU opera department.

Trim and pert Irene is a delightful change for Italian viewers of opera on television. Most Italian singers show the effect of too much spaghetti and ravioli.

Irene has her feet on the ground. Although she loves music and singing—and hopes for a career in opera—her big ambition is to marry, have children "and sing—I'm happy when I'm singing."

But there's no man in her life yet, she says.

GARDOL Makes This Amazing Difference!

MINUTES AFTER BRUSHING WITH ANY TOOTHPASTE

DECAY-CAUSING BACTERIA RETURN TO ATTACK YOUR TEETH!

12 HOURS AFTER ONE COLGATE BRUSHING GARDOL IS STILL FIGHTING THE BACTERIA THAT CAUSE DECAY!

It's GARDOL—To Give Up To 7 Times Longer Protection Against Tooth Decay ... With Just One Brushing!

Any toothpaste can destroy decay- and odor-causing bacteria. But new bacteria return in minutes, to form acids that cause decay. Colgate's, unlike any other leading toothpaste,* keeps on fighting decay 12 hours or more!

So, morning brushings with Colgate's help protect all day; evening brushings all night. Gardol in Colgate's forms an invisible, protective shield around teeth that lasts 12 hours with just one brushing. Ask your dentist how often to brush your teeth. Encourage your children to brush after meals. And at all times, get Gardol protection in Colgate Dental Cream!

It's that DIAL feeling—

you never worry about odor!

More than a feeling, it's a fact: with Dial Soap you never worry about perspiration odor. You see, normal perspiration has no odor until skin bacteria go to work on it. And ordinary soaps just can't get rid of bacteria effectively. But Dial Soap does. It removes up to 95% of these odor-causers, because Dial is the one leading soap with AT-7 (Hexachlorophene). There's nothing else as good for keeping odor away. Dial's AT-7 clings to your skin, so it protects you all day—and for several days if need be. That's why folks who use Dial every day say they just don't feel as clean with any other soap. Dial stops odor before it starts.

Aren't you glad you use Dial Soap?

you never worry about odor!

More than a feeling, it's a fact: with Dial Soap you never worry about perspiration odor. You see, normal perspiration has no odor until skin bacteria go to work on it. And ordinary soaps just can't get rid of bacteria effectively. But Dial Soap does. It removes up to 95% of these odor-causers, because Dial is the one leading soap with AT-7 (Hexachlorophene). There's nothing else as good for keeping odor away. Dial's AT-7 clings to your skin, so it protects you all day—and for several days if need be. That's why folks who use Dial every day say they just don't feel as clean with any other soap. Dial stops odor before it starts.

Aren't you glad you use Dial Soap?

(don't you wish everybody did!)
